Poverty Inequality And Development:

Poverty, Inequality, and Development Gary S. Fields, 1979 Poverty, Inequality, and Development Gary S. Fields, 1980-12-31 Economists have traditionally concentrated on aggregate economic growth to measure a country's development but previously they have also considered income distribution performance In this book Gary Fields reverses conventional approaches by using income distribution as the primary indicator He examines what is known about the distribution of income and poverty inequality and development He explores the main causes of poverty and inequality and the extent to which they have been reduced by individual countries in the course of their economic growth Recognizing that conclusions vary with the type of income distribution measure used Fields proposes that changes in absolute poverty be adopted as the primary index of a developing nation's progress and suggests that the growth rate of the GNP and character of that growth be regarded as the principal determinants of the levels of poverty and inequality This framework calls for new models new data and new microanalytic techniques in order to understand the results of development efforts Fields employs evidence from case studies of six developing nations to suggest some explanations for differing patterns of development and calls for development planning founded on a firm commitment to helping the poor Poverty, Inequality and Development Alain de Janvry, Ravi Kanbur, 2006-06-09 This collection of essays honors a remarkable man and his work Erik Thorbecke has made significant contributions to the microeconomic and the macroeconomic analysis of poverty inequality and development ranging from theory to empirics and policy The essays in this volume display the same range As a collection they make the fundamental point that deep understanding of these phenomena requires both the micro and the macro perspectives together utilizing the strengths of each but also the special insights that come when the two are linked together After an overview section which contains the introductory chapter and a chapter examining the historical roots of Erik Thorbecke's motivations the essays in this volume are grouped into four parts each part identifying a major strand of Erik's work Measurement of Poverty and Inequality Micro Behavior and Market Failure SAMs and CGEs and Institutions and Development The range of topics covered in the essays written by leading authorities in their own areas highlight the extraordinary depth and breadth of Erik Thorbecke's influence in research and policy on poverty inequality and development Acknowledgements These papers were presented at a conference in honor of Erik Thorbecke held at Cornell University on October 10-11 2003 The conference was supported by the funds of the H E Babcock Chair in Food Nutrition and Public Policy and the T H Lee Chair in World Affairs at Cornell University Poverty, Inequality, and Development Gary S. Fields, 1977 Poverty, Inequality and Development Alain De Janvry, S. M. Ravi Kanbur, 2005 The Effects of International Remittances on Poverty, Inequality, and Development in Rural Egypt Richard H. Adams, 1991-01-01 Study based on a household survey conducted by the International Food Policy Research Institute IFPRI between September 1986 and May 1987 in three villages in the Minya governorate Poverty, Inequality and Rural Development David Greenaway, Tim

Lloyd, Oliver Morrissey, 1994-09-12 Poverty alleviation is a major objective of development More than a fifth of the world's population lives in absolute poverty and the majority of the poor live in rural areas This volume studies what can be done for alleviating rural poverty Four chapters address the measurement of poverty and inequality including the use of household expenditure surveys and intra household income distribution Evidence is presented for India Mauritania Côte d'Ivoire and China Other chapters present case studies on strategies for rural development provision of rural credit in Bangladesh and India technical change in Philippine agriculture contract farming in Thailand and banana growers in the Windwards The contributions introduce the problems of rural development and show that effective rural development is assisted by investment in education and secure access to credit that equity is important for incentives but not directly related to poverty and that technical and institutional reform are essential but require careful design and implementation Poverty, Inequality and Development D. N. Singh, Tara Devi Singh, 1994 Growth, Inequality, and Poverty Anthony Shorrocks, Rolph van der Hoeven, 2004-03-04 This is a collection of papers examining the pressing issue of increasing inequality in the distribution of income in developing countries While economic growth is a prerequisite for a sustained reduction in poverty policies aimed at raising growth rates are often associated with a range of adverse short term effects including rising unemployment greater economic insecurity environmental degradation and the weakening of traditional social safety nets Pro-poor growth strategies attempt to address these short term problems But the ideal mix of policies and their impact on the prospects for poverty reduction in the longer run remain controversial topics Growth, Inequality, and Poverty comprises many of the most important contributions to the current debate The Short Guide to International Development Nick Sage, 2022-07-19 International development is a vibrant interdisciplinary area of the social sciences This Short Guide offers a uniquely succinct and balanced account of this politically charged subject It distils both the classic and newer debates together in a clear framework and illustrates them with contemporary examples Designed to introduce a wide readership to international development the book considers how far the field has been reconfigured over time and to what extent it is likely to change in the future reviews contemporary topics including tourism migration and digital technologies includes distinctive international case studies and examples By providing a succinct evaluation of competing approaches to and perspectives on the idea and practice of international development this book offers students across the social sciences a distinct and invaluable introduction to the field Poverty, Inequality, and Inclusive Growth in Asia Juzhong Zhuang, 2010-05 While Asia's growth record in recent decades is remarkable it has been marred by rising inequalities This book looks at recent trends of income and non-income inequalities in developing Asian countries discusses their underlying driving forces and examines key policy issues that need to be addressed to ensure that the benefits of growth will be more equitably shared in Asia The book also presents a set of country studies that provide rich information on growth poverty and inequality dynamics and the policy challenges that arise in marching toward inclusive growth Poverty, Inequality, and Human Capital Development in Latin America, 1950-2025 Juan Luis Londoño de la Cuesta, 1996 Presents and analyzes data on extent of and trends in poverty from 1950 94 Uses these trends to project poverty to 2025 Concludes that rapid decreases in poverty will occur only if region devotes significantly more resources to education Handbook of Latin American Studies v 57

Poverty, Inequality, and the Measurement of Development Performance Gary S. Fields, 1977

The End of Poverty Peter Edward, Andy Sumner, 2019-04-23 In this book Edward and Sumner argue that to better understand the impact of global growth on poverty it is necessary to consider what happens across a wide range of poverty lines Starting with the same datasets used to produce official estimates of global poverty they create a model of global consumption that spans the entire world's population They go on to demonstrate how their model can be utilised to understand how different poverty lines imply very different visions of how the global economy needs to work in order for poverty to be eradicated

Poverty, Inequality, and Evaluation Ray C. Rist, Frederic P. Martin, Ana María Fernández, 2015-10-15 The basic premise of this book is that the conversation on the future of development needs to shift from a focus on poverty to that of inequality The poverty emphasis is in an intellectual and political cul de sac It does not address the fundamental question of why people are poor nor what can be done structurally and institutionally to reduce and eliminate it The various chapters illustrate in the context of various countries and sectors around the world the significant contributions that evaluators can make in terms of improvement of the analytical framework analysis of the performance and results of specific programs and projects as well as assessing and designing better public management systems in terms of poverty and inequality reduction Beyond the specific contributions presented three characteristics characterize those evaluations to be relevant for poverty and inequality analysis a global local approach Global to move beyond disciplinary boundaries and consider cross cutting issues local to account for the diversity of countries sectors institutions and cultures considered a problem solving orientation The issue evaluated is the core focus and determines the choice of evaluation methods to analyze this issue from a variety of angles an evolutionary approach Chapters presented are from iconoclasts who do not have any pre established theory or school of thought to defend This is the result of openness of mind and ability to adapt the analytical framework the evaluation methods and the interpretation of results in a constant interaction with the stakeholders Such characteristics make evaluation a domain that can help understand better complex issues like poverty inequality vulnerability and their interactions as well as propose a relevant and useful theory of change for public policies and projects to improve the plight of a large part of the world population in industrialized and developing countries alike

North-South Trade, Employment and Inequality Adrian Wood, 1994-02-17 Drawing on three fields of economics international labour and development this study shows that expansion of North South trade in manufactures has had a far greater impact on labour markets than earlier work suggested In the South unskilled workers have benefited most from this trade but in the North the gains have been concentrated on skilled labour while unskilled workers have suffered falling wages and rising unemployment This decline in the economic position of unskilled workers has increased inequality and aggravated crime and other forms of social erosion on both sides of the Atlantic The failure of Northern governments to recognize that trade with the South has these adverse side effects and to take appropriate counter measures has fuelled the rise of protectionism the worst possible response which slows economic progress in both regions The best solution for the longer term in the North is more investment in education to raise the supply of skilled labour However the benefits of this investment will emerge slowly During the next one or two decades Professor Wood argues other measures are also urgently needed to boost the demand for and incomes of unskilled workers

An Introduction to International Relations Richard Devetak,Anthony Burke,Jim George,2011-10-17 Invaluable to students and those approaching the subject for the first time An Introduction to International Relations Second Edition provides a comprehensive and stimulating introduction to international relations its traditions and its changing nature in an era of globalisation Thoroughly revised and updated it features chapters written by a range of experts from around the world It presents a global perspective on the theories history developments and debates that shape this dynamic discipline and contemporary world politics Now in full colour and accompanied by a password protected companion website featuring additional chapters and case studies this is the indispensable guide to the study of international relations Poverty, Inequality and Development Achsah Carrier,Maev O'Collins,1987 Poverty, Inequality, and Rural Development Tim Lloyd,Oliver Morrissey,1994
