Gunzenhauser, 2012-03-08 A winner of the 2012 Critics Choice Book Award of the American Educational Studies Association AESA The Active Ethical Professional proposes an ethical framework for educators and school leaders who find their practice constrained by the demands of policies and structures created in response to accountability legislation The framework is derived from Michel Foucault's theories of discipline surveillance resistance and care of the self Gunzenhauser asserts that an educator's dual position of being normalized especially in relations with those above them in the education hierarchy and normalizing especially in relations with their students can be troubling and difficult The book argues that this position requires educators to be both ethical and active To be ethical educators not only need to resolve ethical dilemmas in defensible ways but they also need to recognize themselves as powerful in relation to others To be active educators need to be vigilant for moments when they are placed in the position to be reactive to normalizing pressures and they also need to develop clear notions of how they may create opportunities for the cultivation of educational selves that are rich ethically aesthetically epistemologically and politically

Towards Professional Wisdom Cecelia Clegg, 2016-02-24 People professions such as social work teaching nursing ministry and counselling are at heart ethical or moral enterprises Much recent theorizing has been concerned to show that effective professional deliberation and judgement cannot be reduced either to technical rationality or to simple obedience to general occupational procedures or prescriptions Professional judgement would seem to require the development of a distinctive mode of practical ethical reflection or wisdom perhaps along the lines of Aristotle's phronesis or practical wisdom Reflection is required to address such key professional concerns as What is the impact of official prescription and regulation on professional judgement How should conflicts of professional judgement and public political accountability be resolved How might one reconcile tensions between universal justice and equality and particular client need What is the role of emotion and or affect in people professional practice This ground breaking work addresses in a thoroughly multidisciplinary way the central question of the nature of professional judgement and deliberation that has recently come to the fore in the academic literature of profession and professionalism It proposes a marked shift in theory practice and policy making away from technical rational approaches to professional decision making in favour of reflection and deliberation informed by responsible moral judgement This reflects a significant progressive trend in this literature by taking practical wisdom rather than technical rationality to lie at the heart of professional judgement It is unique in bringing together key authors from different professional fields to address the issue of professional wisdom in a cross professional and multidisciplinary way

Environment Adrianna J. Kezar, 2023-07-03 The complexity of the decisions that today's higher education leaders face as they engage with a diversifying student body, globalization and technological advances requires embracing new ways of thinking about leadership. This book examines the new theories and concepts of leadership that are described in the multidisciplinary literature on leadership and are being applied in other sectors from government to the non-profit and business communities to explore the implications for leaders and leadership programs in higher education. At a time when the heroic controlling and distant leader of the past has given way to a focus on teams, collectives and social change, the contributors to this book ask: What new skills and competencies should leaders and programs be addressing? The recognition of the interdependence of groups within organizations and between organizations of cultural and social differences and of how technology has sped up decision time and connected people across the globe have changed the nature of leadership as well as made the process more complex and diffuse. This book is addressed to anyone developing institutional, regional or national leadership development programs; to aspiring leaders; planning to participate in such programs; and to campus leaders concerned with the development and pipeline of emerging leaders. It will be particularly useful for administrators in faculty development offices who are planning and creating workshops in leadership training and for staff in human resource offices who offer similar training. Contributors: Laurel Beesemyer, Rozana Carducci, Pamela Eddy, Tricia Bertram Gallant, Lynn Gangone, Cheryl Getz, Jeni Hart, Jerlando F. L. Jackson, Lara Jaime, Adrianna Kezar, Bridget R. The Cultural and Social Foundations of Educational Leadership Romuald Normand, Leif Moos, Min Liu, Pierre Tulowitzki, 2021-07-12 This book identifies the cultural and moral foundations of country-specific educational governance and school leadership and presents the principles of justice and the diversity of common goods that guide leadership practices in schools. It contributes to an existing research field that studies diversity and ethical leadership in schools. The social dimension of school leadership is not limited to issues related to equality and equity or social inclusion. The capacity of leaders to promote civic-mindedness and social cooperation, consensus and acceptance of others, the right balance between freedom and duties and reciprocity of obligations are essential to maintain democratic rights and facilitate the life together while respecting ethnic and cultural differences. Therefore, the book gathers contributions from a range of international authors capable of reporting these moral and cultural features while broadening the research perspectives on school leadership.
