Reality and Rationality Wesley C. Salmon, 2023 The late Wesley C Salmon was a major figure in 20th century philosophy of science whose influential work focused on the nature of scientific explanation and the epistemology of science This is a collection of his articles

Relativism and Reality Robert Kirk, 2012-10-12 Our thoughts about the world are clearly influenced by such things as point of view temperament past experience and culture However some thinkers go much further and argue that everything that exists depends on us arguing that even reality is relative Can we accept such a claim in the face of events such as floods and other natural disasters or events seemingly beyond our control Realists argue that reality is independent of our thinking Relativists disagree arguing that what there is depends on our point of view Which is right Robert Kirk provides a crystal clear account of this debate from the Greek philosophers to Wittgenstein and Rorty Along the way he unpacks some of the more complicated issues surrounding ideas of objectivity subjectivity pragmatism and realism essential for those beginning any study of philosophy

Contact with Reality Esther Lightcap Meek, 2017-05-05 Is knowledge discovered or just invented Can we ever get outside ourselves to know how reality is in itself independent of us Philosophical realism raises the question whether in our knowing we connect with an independent reality or only connect with our own mental constructs Far from being a silly parlor game the question impacts our lives concretely and deeply Modern Western culture has been infected with antirealism and the doubt skepticism subjectivism relativism and atheism that attends it not to mention distrust and arbitrary mis use of reality Premier scientist turned philosopher Michael Polanyi stepped aside from research to offer an innovative account of knowing that takes its cue from how discovery actually happens Polanyi defied the antirealism of the twentieth century sounding a ringing note of hope in his repeated claim that in discovery we know we have made contact with reality because we have a sense of the possibility of indeterminate future manifestations And that sense marks contact with reality because it is the way reality is abundant generous and fraught with as yet unnameable possibilities This book examines that distinctive claim contrasting it to the wider philosophical discussions regarding realism and antirealism in the recent decades It shows why Polanyi's outlook is superior and why that matters not just to scientific discoverers but to us all

Reality and Evangelical Theology Thomas F. Torrance, 2003-03-03 T F Torrance is widely recognized as one of our most important twentieth century theologians And scholars of Torrance suggest Reality Scientific Theology is one of his most accessible works Torrance's insights on Christian epistemology are remarkably relevant in light of recent discussions on realism and antirealism in philosophy and theology Torrance brilliantly sets forth no naive or even critical realism but rather an evangelical realism knowledge grounded in the revelation of God in Jesus Christ He not only constructively argues the case for an evangelical realism but compares and contrasts theological knowledge with natural scientific knowledge and shows how the Bible can function authoritatively in a fragmented church This edition of Reality and Evangelical Theology includes an in depth foreword that contextualizes Torrance's seminal theological work in light of recent

On Faith, Rationality, and the Other in the Late Middle Ages Gergely Tibor Bakos, 2011-01-01 On Faith Rationality and the Other in the Late Middle Ages is an investigation of Nicholas of Cusa that seeks a deeper understanding of this important medieval intellectual and his importance for us today One of Gergely Bakos's primary aims in this study is to understand Nicholas of Cusa's important and underexamined dimensions of his approach to dialogue with Islam The framework and the methodology that informs this investigation was inspired by the late Professor Jos Decorte 1954-2001 a Flemish philosopher and mediaevalist at the Catholic University of Leuven in Belgium Bakos carefully exposit his method of approaching medieval thought Part One and then applies and tests this method in practice Part Two The most extensive part of this study offers a sketch of the historical background of Nicholas's dialogue with Islam and investigates what possibilities this approach offers All of this is placed in dialogue with two other mediaeval approaches to Islam Thomas Aquinas and Ramon Lull The final chapters discuss Nicholas of Cusa's project from a perspective offered by his mystical theology The book culminates in an exploration of the possibilities of Nicholas of Cusa's approach by testing the framework of the study Finally the author evaluates the application of his own approach Part Three The study ultimately has two purposes to contribute to a better understanding of Nicholas of Cusa's thought on the one hand and on the other to test a particular methodology and interpretative framework for the understanding of mediaeval culture      Christopraxis Andrew Root, 2014 Finding practical theology not always able to present frameworks for understanding concrete and lived experience with divine action Andrew Root's Christopraxis seeks to reset the edifice of practical theology on a new foundation While not minimizing its commitment to the lived and concrete Root argues that practical theology has neglected deeper theological underpinnings Root seeks to create a practical theology that is properly and fully theological post postmodern post Aristotelian and that attends to doctrines such as divine action and justification      The Great Problems Bernardino Varisco, 1914
