Realms Of Memory Vol 1 The Construction Of The French Past:

Memory Susannah Radstone, Bill Schwarz, 2010 These essays survey the histories the theories and the fault lines that compose the field of memory research Drawing on the advances in the sciences and in the humanities they address the question of how memory works highlighting transactions between the interiority of subjective memory and the larger fields of public or collective memory

Memory, History, Nation Katharine Hodgkin, Susannah Radstone, 2005-10-01 The chapters in Memory History Nation written by international scholars offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained They explore the relation between individual and social memory between real and imaginary event and fantasy history and myth Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book

Constructing the Past Mark Williams, Stephen Paul Forrest, 2010 Discusses the reactions of seventeenth and eighteenth century writers of Irish history to the unprecedented turbulence of the age Ireland and the Irish it is often argued have been mired for centuries in mindsets which employ the past in order to trace and justify the enmities of the present However as Constructing the Past Writing Irish History 1600 1800 seeks to underscore the truth of such interactions with the Irish past is far more complex and dynamic Spanning two hundred years of history this book finds a relationship with the past which is as adaptive as it is rigid as iconoclastic as it is reactionary Beginning with an Introduction by Roy Foster this innovative volume incorporates a wide range of perspectives on how history in Ireland has been written and perceived from the early modern period onward Drawing upon both key moments including the Cromwellian invasion the 1688 Revolution and 1798 to name a few as well as forgotten incidents each article discusses the ways in which the presentation of the past in Ireland has been forged by the circumstances of its writers and context of those memories Drawing upon contributions by both highly accomplished and up and coming historians of Ireland Britain and Europe Constructing the Past seeks to illuminate how the Irish past has been constructed torn down and again rebuilt by the Irish and historians of Ireland alike STEPHEN PAUL FORREST serves as the Director of Operations for the Lewis and Clark Trail Heritage Foundation MARK WILLIAMS is currently reading for a Doctorate in Modern European History at Hertford College Oxford

Revolution Enzo Traverso, 2024-04-30 Brilliant and beautiful Now this book exists it's hard to know how we did without it China Miéville author of October A cultural and intellectual balance sheet of the twentieth century's age of revolutions This book reinterprets the history of nineteenth and twentieth century revolutions by composing a constellation of dialectical images Marx's locomotives of history Alexandra Kollontai's sexually liberated bodies Lenin's mummified body Auguste Blanqui's barricades and red flags the Paris Commune's demolition of the Vendôme Column among several others It connects theories with the existential trajectories of the thinkers who elaborated them by sketching the diverse profiles of revolutionary intellectuals from Marx and Bakunin to Luxemburg and the Bolsheviks from Mao and Ho Chi Minh to Jos Carlos Mari tegui C L R James and other rebellious spirits from the South as outcasts and pariahs And finally it analyzes the entanglement between revolution and communism that so deeply shaped the history of the twentieth century This book thus merges ideas and representations by devoting an equal importance to theoretical and iconographic sources offering for our troubled present a new intellectual history of the revolutionary past Moved by the Past Eelco Runia,2014-05-06

Historians go to great lengths to avoid confronting discontinuity searching for explanations as to why such events as the fall of the Berlin Wall George W Bush s invasion of Iraq and the introduction of the euro logically develop from what came before Moved by the Past radically breaks with this tradition of predating the past incites us to fully acknowledge the discontinuous nature of discontinuities and proposes to use the fact that history is propelled by unforeseeable leaps and bounds as a starting point for a truly evolutionary conception of history Integrating research from a variety of disciplines Eelco Runia identifies two modes of being moved by the past regressive and revolutionary In the regressive mode the past may either overwhelm us as in nostalgia or provoke us to act out what we believe to be solidly dead When we are moved by the past in a revolutionary sense we may be said to embody history we burn our bridges behind us and create accomplished facts we have no choice but to live up to In the final thesis of Moved by the Past humans energize their own evolution by habitually creating situations catastrophes or sublime historical events that put a premium on mutations This book therefore illuminates how every now and then we chase ourselves away from what we were and force ourselves to become what we are Proposing a simple yet radical change in perspective Runia profoundly reorients how we think and theorize about history The Personality of Paris Alan R. H. Baker,2021-01-28 What was the personality of 19th century Paris To answer that question this book eschews the conventional narrative and chronological route taken by most histories of Paris Instead it thematically analyses the complex personality traits of Paris from the onset of the Revolution of 1789 to the beginning of the Great War Starting with the topographical and cultural legacies that late 18th century Paris inherited from its foundation in pre Roman and Roman times and from its medieval infancy and early modern adolescence The Personality of Paris unpacks the social and material complexity of the 19th century city It considers the role of immigration in the making of Parisians and in the city s growth from half a million in 1801 to almost three million in 1911 It examines the making of its distinctive landscape through the construction of monuments and architectural icons through its massive re modelling by Napol on III and Baron Haussmann through its five world exhibitions through its emphasis on food fashion and leisure and through the ways in which Parisians sought rural release from urban pressure Finally the book considers the self harm done to the person of 19th century Paris by revolutions and wars and the damage inflicted on it by 20th century hubristic politicians and architects

British Cultural Memory and the Second World War Lucy Noakes,Juliette Pattinson,2013-11-21 Few historical events have resonated as much in modern British culture as the Second World War It has left a rich legacy in a range of media that continue to attract a wide audience film TV and radio photography and the visual arts journalism and propaganda architecture museums music and literature The enduring presence of the war in the public world is echoed in its ongoing centrality in many personal and family memories with stories of the Second World War being recounted through the generations This collection brings together recent historical work on the cultural memory of the war examining its presence in family stories in popular and material culture and in acts of commemoration in Britain between 1945 and the present

Documents of Utopia Paolo Magagnoli, 2015-05-12 This timely volume discusses the experimental documentary projects of some of the most significant artists working in the world today Hito Steyerl Joachim Koester Tacita Dean Matthew Buckingham Zoe Leonard Jean Luc Moul ne Ilya and Emilia Kabakov Jon Thomson and Alison Craighead and Anri Sala Their films videos and photographic series address failed utopian experiments and counter hegemonic social practices This study illustrates the political significance of these artistic practices and critically contributes to the debate on the conditions of utopian thinking in late capitalist society arguing that contemporary artists interest in the past is the result of a shift within the temporal organization of the utopian imagination from its futuristic pole toward remembrance The book therefore provides one of the first critical examinations of the recent turn toward documentary in the field of contemporary art

Instrumentalizing the Past Jan Rydel, Stefan Troebst, 2022-09-20 In today s world we can point to many international disputes and interstate conflicts fueled by past events Historical resentments or memories of past suffering or fame are often used to justify political economic and even territorial demands Inter state disputes and historical conflicts should be understood as evidence of political and social tensions related to active serious differences in the assessment of the common past The book explains the role of such conflicts in international relations and suggests ways of classifying them It presents examples of the internationally relevant instrumentalisation of history from different regions of the world and outlines ways of overcoming them

New Narratives for Old Anthony Briggman, Ellen Scully, 2022-06-17 Guilds and conferences have grown up around historical theology yet no volume has ever been dedicated to the definition and illustration of the method undergirding historical theology This volume both defines and illustrates the methodology of historical theology especially as it relates to the study of early Christianity and situates historical theology among other methodological approaches to early Christianity including confessional apologetics constructive theology and socio cultural history Historical theology as a discipline stands in contrast to these other approaches to the study of early Christianity In contrast to systematic or constructive approaches it remains essentially historical with a desire to elucidate the past rather than speak to the present In contrast to socio historical approaches it remains essentially theological with a concern to value and understand the full complexity of the abstract thought world that stands behind the textual tradition of early Christian theology Moreover historical theology is characterized by the methodological presupposition that unless good reason exists to think otherwise the theological accounts of the ancient church articulate the genuine beliefs of their authors The significance of this volume lies in the methodological definition it offers The strength of this volume lies in the fact that its definition of the historical method of studying theology is not the work of a single mind but that of over twenty respected scholars many of whom are leaders in the field The volume begins with an introductory essay that orients readers to various approaches to early Christian literature it moves to two technical essays that define the historical method of studying early Christian theology and then it illustrates the practice of this method with more than twenty essays that cover a period stretching from the first century to the dawn of the seventh

French Civilization and Its Discontents Tyler Stovall, 2003-10-22 What happens when the study of French is no longer coterminous with the study of France French Civilization and Its Discontents explores the ways in which considerations of difference especially colonialism postcolonialism and race have shaped French culture and French studies in the modern era Rejecting traditional assimilationist notions of French national identity contributors to this groundbreaking volume demonstrate how literature history and other aspects of what is considered French civilization have been shaped by global processes of creolization and differentiation This book ably demonstrates the necessity of studying France and the Francophone world together and of recognizing not only the presence of France in the Francophone world but also the central place occupied by the Francophone world in world literature and history

The Ritual of May Day in Western Europe Abby Peterson, Herbert Reiter, 2016-05-20 Eric Hobsbawm claimed that the international May Day which dates back to a proclamation in 1889 by the Second International is perhaps the most ambitious of labour rituals The first international May Day demonstrations in 1890 were widely celebrated across Europe and became the one day each year when organized labour could present its goals to the public an eight hour workday being the first concrete demand shortly followed by those for improved working conditions universal suffrage peace among nations and international solidarity The May Day ritual celebration was the self assertion and self definition of the new labour class through class organization Thus it was trade unions and social democratic and socialist parties throughout Europe which took the initiative and have sustained May Day as a labour ritual to this day Part I of this theoretically informed volume explores how May Day demonstrations have evolved and taken different trajectories in different political contexts Part II focuses on May Day rituals today By comparing demonstration level data of over 2000 questionnaires from six countries including Belgium Italy Spain Sweden Switzerland and the UK the reader is able to gain a thorough understanding of how participants are bestowing meaning on May Day rituals By concluding with reflections on the future of the May Day ritual in Western Europe this ground breaking book provides a detailed analysis of its evolution as a protest event

Memory and the Impact of Political Transformation in Public Space Daniel J. Walkowitz,Lisa Maya Knauer,2004-11-30 Memory and the Impact of Political Transformation in Public Space explores the effects of major upheavals wars decolonization and other social and economic changes on the ways in which public histories are presented around the world Examining issues related to public memory in twelve countries the histories collected here cut across political cultural and geographic divisions At the same time by revealing recurring themes and concerns they show how basic issues of history and memory transcend specific sites and moments in time A number of the essays look at contests over public memory following two major political transformations the wave of liberation from colonial rule in much of Africa Asia and Central and South America during the second half of the twentieth century and the reorganization of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet bloc beginning in the late 1980s This collection expands the scope of what is considered public history by pointing to silences and absences that are as telling as museums and memorials Contributors remind us that for every monument that is erected others including one celebrating Sri Lanka s independence and another honoring the Unknown Russian Soldier of World War II remain on the drawing board While some sites seem woefully underserved by a lack of public memorials as do post Pinochet Chile and post civil war El Salvador others run the risk of diluting meaning through overexposure as may be happening with Israel s Masada Essayists examine public history as it is conveyed not only in marble and stone but also through cityscapes and performances such as popular songs and parades Contributors James Carter John Czaplicka Kanishka Goonewardena Lisa Maya Knauer Anna Krylova Teresa Meade Bill Nasson Mary Nolan Cynthia Paces
