Logic Programming David S. Warren, 1993 The Tenth International Conference on Logic Programming sponsored by the Association for Logic Programming is a major forum for presentations of research applications and implementations in this important area of computer science Logic programming is one of the most promising steps toward declarative programming and forms the theoretical basis of the programming language Prolog and its various extensions Logic programming is also fundamental to work in artificial intelligence where it has been used for nonmonotonic and commonsense reasoning expert systems implementation deductive databases and applications such as computer aided manufacturing David S. Warren is Professor of Computer Science at the State University of New York Stony Brook Topics covered Theory and Foundations Programming Methodologies and Tools Meta and Higher order Programming Parallelism Concurrency Deductive Databases Implementations and Architectures Applications Artificial Intelligence Constraints Partial Deduction Bottom Up Evaluation Compilation Techniques Logic Programming and Nonmonotonic Reasoning Vladimir Lifschitz, Ilkka Niemelä, 2003-11-20 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th International Conference on Logic Programming and Nonmonotonic Reasoning LPNMR 2004 held in Fort Lauderdale Florida USA in January 2004 The 24 revised full papers presented together with 8 system descriptions were carefully reviewed and selected for presentation Among the topics addressed are declarative logic programming nonmonotonic reasoning knowledge representation combinatorial search answer set programming constraint programming deduction in ontologies and planning Logic Programming in Action Gerard Comyn, Norbert E. Fuchs, 1992-08-25 Logic programming enjoys a privileged position It is firmly rooted in mathematical logic yet it is also immensely practical as a growing number of users in universities research institutes and industry are realizing Logic programming languages specifically Prolog have turned out to be ideal as prototyping and application development languages This volume presents the proceedings of the Second Logic Programming Summer School LPSS 92 The First Logic Programming Summer School LPSS 90 addressed the theoretical foundations of logic programming This volume focuses on the relationship between theory and practice and on practical applications The introduction to the volume is by R. Kowalski one of the pioneers in the field The following papers are organized into sections on constraint logic programming deductive databases and expert systems processing of natural and formal languages software engineering and education Logic Programming and Automated Reasoning Andrei Voronkov, 1993-06-29 LPAR is an international conference series aimed at bringing together researchers interested in logic programming and automated reasoning The research in logic programming grew out of the research in automated reasoning in the early 1970s Later the implementation techniques known from logic programming were used in implementing theorem proving systems Results from both fields applied to deductive databases This volume contains the proceedings of LPAR 93 which was
