Protecting Children Challenges And Change:

Protecting Children John Bates, Richard Pugh, Neil Thompson, 1997 Child protection is a complex and demanding area of practice which is constantly evolving with new challenges appearing with every change that occurs This important book presents a set of readings produced by a range of academics and practitioners each with a significant contribution to make to our understanding of the challenges and change that characterize contemporary practice The book is divided into three parts The first part addresses a number of key issues which are having an important impact on child protection services The second part is concerned with children who hurt children who have not only experienced abuse but who also go on to abuse others The final part concerns itself with issues of staffing supporting staff in the difficult changes they face

Protecting Children's Health in a Changing Environment World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe, 2010 The Fifth Ministerial Conference on Environment and Health organized by WHO Europe and hosted by Italy is the latest milestone in the European environment and health process now in its twentieth year Focused on protecting children's health in a changing environment the Conference set Europe's agenda on emerging environmental health challenges for the years to come The Parma Declaration is the first time bound outcome of the environment and health process The 53 Member States in the WHO European Region set clear targets to reduce the harm to health from environmental threats in the next decade Safe urban settings locally sourced food and use of ecomaterials contributed to the first ever low carbon footprint conference on environment and health organized by WHO Europe More than ever children's health is at risk from a changing environment The health effects of environmental risk factors inadequate water and sanitation unsafe home and recreational environments lack of spatial planning for physical activity indoor and outdoor air pollution and hazardous chemicals are amplified by recent developments such as financial constraints broader socioeconomic and gender inequalities and more frequent extreme climate events They pose new challenges for health systems to reduce deaths and diseases through effective environmental health interventions

Protecting Children Featherstone, Brid, Gupta, Anna, 2018-09-19 The state is increasingly experienced as both intrusive and neglectful particularly by those living in poverty leading to loss of trust and widespread feelings of alienation and disconnection Against this tense background this innovative book argues that child protection policies and practices have become part of the problem rather than ensuring children's well being and safety Building on the ideas in the best selling Re-imagining child protection and drawing together a wide range of social theorists and disciplines the book Challenges existing notions of child protection revealing their limits Ensures that the harms children and families experience are explored in a way that acknowledges the social and economic contexts in which they live Explains how the protective capacities within families and communities can be mobilised and practices of co production adopted Places ethics and human rights at the centre of everyday conversations and practices

Understanding System Change in Child Protection and Welfare John Canavan, Carmel Devaney, Caroline McGregor, Aileen Shaw, 2021-11-29 This book provides an account of the experience of a multifaceted system change programme to strengthen the capacity of Ireland's statutory child protection and welfare agency in the areas of prevention early intervention and family support Many jurisdictions globally are involved in system change processes focused on increasing investment in services that seek to prevent children's entry into child protection and welfare systems through early intervention greater support to families and an increased emphasis on rights and participation Based on a four year in depth study by a team of University based researchers this text adds to the emerging knowledge base on developing implementing and evaluating system change in child protection and welfare Study methodological approaches were wide ranging and involved a number of key stakeholders including children parents social workers and social care workers service managers agency leaders and policy makers Since the change process involved an agency university partnership encompassing design technical support and evaluation the book also contributes to understandings of the potential and limits of such partnerships in the child protection and welfare field Uniquely the book gives voice to the experience of both agency personnel and academic in the accounts provided It will be of interest to all scholars students and practitioners in the areas of child protection and welfare Systems Approaches to Public Sector Challenges Working with Change OECD,2017-08-11 This report produced by the OECD Observatory of Public Sector Innovation explores how systems approaches can be used in the public sector to solve complex or wicked problems

Effective Social Work with Children, Young People and Families Steven Walker,2012-08-16 With case studies interactive activities summaries and guidance throughout this book looks at the changing context of children and young people's services heralded by the structural organizational and funding changes put forward in Eileen Munro's Review of Child Protection It is strongly grounded in research and theory and gives specific consideration to how systems theory can help practitioners in understanding families It highlights the need for every social work practitioner to develop the capacity to undertake unified assessments and interventions in a wide variety of settings with individuals families and groups where there are child protection and safeguarding concerns Time to Listen to Children Birgit Carolin,Pat Milner,2002-01-04 Time to Listen to Children is a practical guide to effective communication with children Professionals working with children in a variety of settings examine the skills required to help children articulate their problems and feelings They discuss issues such as training cultural background and religion and give accounts of their work in the following settings education social services voluntary organizations medical settings law Contributors practice a variety of therapeutic techniques including play music and art therapy Time to Listen to Children will be a valuable resource for social workers teachers and counsellors in training and for all professionals who wish to adopt a skilled reflective and active approach to their work with children

The Child's World Jan Horwath,2009-09-15 This new and updated edition of the best selling book on assessing children in need and their families integrates practice policy and theory to produce a comprehensive and multidisciplinary guide to all aspects of assessment The Child s World not only provides an explanation of the Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Families but also offers a wealth of information on how to use it sensitively and effectively The Child s World explores the implications of recent legislation including the Children Act 2004 and national guidance for assessment practice The contributors have drawn on the latest research best practice and lessons learnt over the past decade of Framework implementation to equip practitioners from different disciplines to identify the developmental needs of children assess parental capacity and evaluate the impact of family economic and environmental factors on the carer s ability to meet the needs of the child This book is essential reading for all practitioners managers trainers and educators in children s and adult services who use the Framework and will also be a valued source of knowledge and guidance for those assessing children s needs in legislative contexts outside of England

Re-Visioning Public Health Approaches for Protecting Children Bob Lonne, Deb Scott, Daryl Higgins, Todd I.

Herrenkohl, 2019-04-26 This volume provides readers around the globe with a focused and comprehensive examination of how to prevent and respond to child maltreatment using evidence informed public health approaches and programs that meet the needs of vulnerable children and struggling families and communities It outlines the system failures of contemporary forensically driven child protection practice Detailed guidance is provided about how to re think earlier intervention strategies and establish stronger and more effective programs and services that prevent maltreatment at the population level Service user and stakeholder perspectives particularly from marginalized groups including Indigenous peoples highlight how public health approaches can better support families and keep children safe Case studies from different countries grapple with the fraught nature of large system change and the various strategies needed to effect multi level reforms Presenting the reader with an array of innovative services used in different institutional and community context this volume confronts the complex challenges found in implementing successful prevention programs that are aligned with diverse cultural and political environments and community expectations Making Sense of Child and Family Assessment

Duncan Helm, 2010 Analysing children s needs is a crucial part of assessment in child protection yet support for practitioners carrying it out is lacking Making Sense of Child and Family Assessment provides best practice guidance on how to analyse the information gathered during the assessment of the needs of children and young people and their families The application of assessment frameworks hinges on human qualities and skills which are naturally prone to bias and inconsistency This book provides practical accessible guidance on how to apply assessment frameworks successfully how to increase accuracy and empathy and how to analyse and represent children s needs faithfully in order to improve outcomes The author provides an overview of key elements of theory research and practice and covers issues such as how information is gathered and analysed by different professionals in different sectors and how this information is shared how to form accurate hypotheses about cases how to develop professional intuition and how to improve analytical skills Professionals working in child welfare and protection roles such as social workers health visitors midwives and teachers will find this practical guide to analysis invaluable in interpreting needs and outcomes The titles in the Best Practice in Working with Children series are written for the multi agency professionals working to promote children s welfare and protect them from harm Each book in the series draws on current research into what works best for children providing practical realistic suggestions as to how practitioners in social work health and education can work together to promote the resilience and safety of the children in their care Brigid Daniel is Professor of Social Work in the Department of Applied Social Science at the University of Stirling She is co author of several textbooks and practice resources on child care and protection She was a member of the multi disciplinary team that carried out a national ministerial review of child protection practice in Scotland Challenge of Change Oz Mutz, 2015-12 Are You Ready to Embrace the Challenge of Change In his seventy five business years author Oz Mutz has seen a lot of change From the development of atomic energy to the moon landing to a lifetime of enriching family events Each has brought with it the challenge of change and left the world a different place Oz documents what can happen when a person embraces the challenges that change brings and uses them to positively influence the generation that follows As the wisdom of Oz says the future belongs to the next generation not the current one and our responsibility is to help them make decisions that are informed intentional and purposeful If you desire to leave an influential inheritance for the upcoming generation Challenge of Change will help show you how to work with dauntless energy to achieve that goal Child Abuse: An Evidence Base For Confident Practice Corby, Brian,Shemmings, David,Wilkins, David,2012-11-01 This book is an accessible knowledge base for the whole area of child abuse and child protection now fully updated in terms of policy cases and research Child Abuse and Neglect: Challenges and Opportunities RN Srivastava,Rajeev Seth,Joan van Niekerk,2013-07-30 This book examines new and emerging issues in child abuse and child protection Chapters are based on presentations from the 9th Asia Pacific Regional ISPCAN Conference which was held in New Delhi India in 2011 and discuss the extent and forms of child abuse and neglect child protection and prevention judicial aspects and juvenile justice and social and cultural aspects The book also presents the text of the Delhi Declaration 2011 in which the participants of the conference registered their concern at the ongoing issue of child abuse and neglect in the region The Challenge of Change Brendan Drumm,2011 The Challenge of Change is a fascinating behind the scenes account of a major transition period in Ireland s health system Brendan Drumm records his experiences as chief executive of the Health Service Executive 2005 2010 and recounts his vision for Ireland s health service While acknowledging the problems with and criticisms of the HSE Drumm s vision has been and still is one of reform The Challenge of Change Discusses how the foundations for an integrated healthcare system were laid in Drumm s five years in the HSE Highlights the obstacles to an integrated healthcare system and healthcare reform in Ireland including the political and public service system and the challenge of bringing doctors nurses and other clinicians along with change Discusses all the major issues that Drumm dealt with in his role and that the HSE is still dealing with including the National Children s Hospital developing primary care teams the new consultants contract and major adverse events Gives an insider s view on the challenges to reform in a public sector context which feeds into the wider problem of consensus in Ireland s governance structures in anything from the banks to the political system He provides a rare insight into the machinations of health services delivery often threading a fine balancing act between political masters the aspirations of a general public with parochial interests and an unyielding bureaucracy long accustomed to doing things its own way Tom Brett Director of General Practice and Primary Health Care Research School of Medicine The University of Notre Dame Australia British Journal of General Practice July 2012 Professional Judgement and Decision Making in Social Work Brian Taylor,Andrew Whittaker,2020-05-21 Professional judgement and decision making are central to social work both in everyday professional practice and in public perceptions of social work as a profession This book examines key issues that are relevant today The chapters cover child protection mental health and elder care settings in Europe Australia and Canada They discuss organisational and cultural contexts for professional judgement the role of experience in the development of expertise and professional discretion understanding variability in decision making and the role of legal frameworks in decision making This book will enable practitioners managers policy makers and researchers to appreciate the complexities of professional judgement and decision making in different social work settings and to apply this understanding to their own practice This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Social Work Practice The book is linked to sister text Risk in Social Work Practice Current Issues which examines key debates around the understanding of risk in contemporary social work practice
