Psychiatry For The Developing World:

Psychology and the Developing World Stuart C. Carr, John F. Schumaker, 1996-04-18 Previous leading commentators on the development of psychology in the Third World have conceived of three major stages an attempt to assimilate Western psychology with predictably negative results the study of indigenous constructs with more relevant applications and finally transcending stage one and stage two to choose theories and methods on their applied merit alone Psychology and the Developing World has been assembled to document how close psychology has come to researching that stage Contributors were carefully selected to provide a unique overview of the latest applications of the discipline as a whole Their work reveals how psychology is being applied to educational needs management needs and health needs This book shows how development studies and allied disciplines cannot ignore psychology's potential for the Third World

Psychiatry and Decolonisation in Uganda Yolana Pringle, 2018-12-06 This open access book investigates psychiatry in Uganda during the years of decolonisation It examines the challenges facing a new generation of psychiatrists as they took over responsibility for psychiatry at the end of empire and explores the ways psychiatric practices were tied to shifting political and development priorities periods of instability and a broader context of transnational and international exchange At its heart is a question that has concerned psychiatrists globally since the mid twentieth century how to bridge the social and cultural gap between psychiatry and its patients Bringing together archival research with oral histories Yolana Pringle traces how this question came to dominate both national and international discussions on mental health care reform including at the World Health Organization and helped spur a culture of experimentation and creativity globally As Pringle shows however the history of psychiatry during the years of decolonisation remained one of marginality and ultimately in the context of war and violence the decolonisation of psychiatry was incomplete

Revision Notes in Psychiatry Basant Puri, Anne Hall, 2004-06-25 Any candidate for the MRCPsych or equivalent postgraduate examinations will feel challenged by the daunting breadth of the syllabus as well as by the level of detail required Revision Notes in Psychiatry responds to that challenge by comprehensively presenting key up to date information across the whole spectrum of psychiatry and its scientific base
