Maeve Brennan Edward O'Rourke,2024-10-30 This book explores the intricate interplay between physical spaces and psychological landscapes in the works of Irish American author Maeve Brennan Brennan's writing is now classed amongst the most important of twentieth century Irish women's fiction having undergone a significant reclamation and reappraisal in the 30 years since her death. Single and childfree for most of her life Brennan eschewed the securities of family and home experiencing an otherness that she shared with her fellow New Yorkers many of them left she wrote hanging on to a city half capsized most of them still able to laugh as they cling to the island that is their life's predicament. It is a suitably ambiguous expression for a writer who cultivated an interstitial existence whose stories inhere within a dream cycle of reiterative pasts and whose works augment and elevate the canon of radical Irish fiction.

A Companion Guide to Architecture in Ireland, 1837-1921 Jeremy Williams, 1994 Drawing together the history of Victorian architecture in Ireland this book is a gazetteer in the traditional sense a list of entries for individual buildings on a country by country basis heavily illustrated and prefaced by useful maps the index at the back contains a valuable list of Irish Victorian architects and their works. The entries cover all types of buildings large and small and reveal an encyclopaedic knowledge of Ireland.
