San Franciscos Cable Cars Riding The Rope Through Past And Present:

San Francisco's Cable Cars Joyce Jansen,1995 An in depth look at the history of cable cars and how they helped shape San Francisco

San Francisco's California Street Cable Cars Walter Rice,Emiliano Echeverria,Michael Dolgushkin,2008 San Franciscos internationally recognized cable cars are the symbol of the individual character of a great city The California Street cable car line is one of only three remaining lines in the city The California Street Railway or Cal Cable was developed and opened by Leland Stanford one of the builders of the transcontinental railroad and later founder of Stanford University Indeed the iconic line intimately connected with some of the Wests pioneer businessmen was sold expanded and reached its peak mileage just after 1890 only to be destroyed in the great earthquake and fire of 1906 As resilient as the city it served Cal Cable was rebuilt and lasted as an independent business longer than any other private San Francisco transit operation Cut down to its present form in 1954 that remnant and its double ended cars survive as an integral part of todays cable car system
