Shared Space The Two Circuits Of The Urban Economy In Underdeveloped Countries:

The Shared Space Milton Santos, 2017-08-29 Originally published in 1979 In this forcefully argued book Milton Santos shows that contemporary explanations of urbanization and spatial organization in underdeveloped countries are inadequate This failure is attributable to their origins in theories elaborated to explain the development of advanced Western societies Santos work provides the basis for the new theory which is so badly needed He describes the urban economy in these countries in terms of two circuits of activity an upper circuit consisting of those enterprises and structures which are based on modern technology and are oriented towards the advanced capitalist world and a lower circuit comprised of more traditional processes and forms of exchange The dialectical interaction of these two circuits is seen to generate the patterns of growth forms of State intervention and above all the spatial organization characteristic of Third World economies This was a revision and translation of L'Espace Partag 1975

The Geography of the Third World Michael Pacione, 2012-08-06 First published in 1988 this reissue presents a comprehensive overview of contemporary developments and research into the geography of the Third World at a time when economies and societies there were changing at a much more rapid rate than their counterparts in the developing world It covers the topic both systematically and by region showing how the unique background of each region affects developments there

Regional Development and Public Policy Challenges in India Rakhee Bhattacharya, 2015-07-09 This book emphasizes the need for experimenting with more deliberate and rigorous policy processes to attain balanced regional development which can promote both equity and efficiency in India's development discourse. The institutional mechanisms for dealing with regional imbalance in India have not been very successful so far. With rising discrepancies in development demand for autonomy continues along with a new dimension of regionalism arising from submerged identity along with political and economic aspirations which demanded new channels for solution. So far attempts to create space for autonomy have possibly not optimally accommodated the conceptual mechanisms like equity and democratic process. Thus democratizing policy process using six pillars of voice, knowledge, objective, fundamental values, implementation framework and public awareness can ensure a better policy outcome for dealing with the persistent challenges of regional disparity in India. This book further focuses on the need for democratizing the policy process for regional development through discussion and inclusion. Such a transition needs innovation in policy regime which can be attained through following six pillars: i) Democratic voice of stakeholders in policy development and implementation; ii) Clear policy objectives that advance the common good based on voice; iii) Unbiased sound and comprehensive knowledge and data bases; iv) Consistency with constitutional values; v) A sound implementation framework ensuring user friendliness, transparency and rationality of decision making processes; effective grievance redress, clear accountability and independent evaluation; vi) Public awareness and support of policies with relevant and public participation in implementation.

The Urban Social History of the Middle East, 1750-1950 Peter Sluglett, 2008-12-08. The great cities of the Middle East and North Africa have long attracted the attention and interest of historians. With the discovery and wider use over the last few decades of Islamic court records and Ottoman administrative documents, our knowledge of Middle Eastern cities between the seventeenth and early twentieth centuries has vastly expanded. Drawing upon a treasure trove of documents and using a variety of methodologies, the contributors succeed in providing a significant overview of the ways in which Middle Eastern cities can be studied as well as an excellent introduction to current literature in the field.

Urban Ecology in the Global South Charlie M. Shackleton, Sarel S. Cilliers, Elandrie Davoren, Marié J. du Toit, 2021-04-20. Against the background of unprecedented rates of urbanisation in the Global South leading to massive social, economic and environmental transformations, this book engages with the dire need to understand the ecology of such settings as the foundation for fostering sustainable and resilient human settlements in contexts that are very different to the Global North. It does so by bringing together scholars from around the world, drawing together research and case studies from across the Global South to illustrate in an interdisciplinary and comprehensive fashion the ecology of towns and cities in the Global South. Framed using a social ecological systems lens, it provides the reader with an in-depth analysis and understanding of the ecological dynamics and ecosystem services and disservices within the complex and rapidly changing towns and cities of the Global South, a region with currently scarce representation in most of the urban ecology literature. As such, the book makes a call for greater geographical balance in urban ecology research, leading towards a more global understanding and frameworks. The book embraces the complexity of these rapid transformations for ecological and environmental management and how the ecosystems and the benefits they provide shape local ecologies livelihood opportunities and human wellbeing and how such knowledge can be mobilised towards improved urban design and management and thus urban sustainability

The Informal Media Economy Ramon Lobato, Julian Thomas, 2018-06-05 How are grey market imports changing media industries What is the role of piracy in developing new markets for movies and TV shows How do jailbroken iPhones drive innovation The Informal Media Economy provides a vivid original and genuinely transnational account of contemporary media by showing how the interactions between formal and informal media systems are a feature of all nations rich and poor large and small Shifting the focus away from the formal businesses and public enterprises that have long occupied media researchers this book charts a parallel world of cultural intermediaries driving global media production and circulation It shows how unlicensed untaxed or unregulated networks which operate across the boundaries of established media markets have been a driving force of media industry transformation The book opens up new insights on a range of topical issues in media studies from the creative disruptions of digitisation to amateur production piracy and cybercrime notably in the field of employment and income distribution First published in 1984 The Routledge Handbook of Heterodox Economics Tae-Hee Jo, Lynne Chester, Carlo D'Ippoliti, 2017-07-28 The Routledge Handbook of Heterodox Economics presents a comprehensive overview of the latest work on economic theory and policy from a pluralistic heterodox perspective Contributions throughout the Handbook explore different theoretical perspectives including Marxian radical political economics Post Keynesian Sraffian economics institutionalist evolutionary economics feminist economics social economics Regulation theory the Social Structure of Accumulation approach and ecological economics They explain the structural properties and dynamics of capitalism as well as propose economic and social policies for the benefit of the majority of the population This book aims firstly to provide realistic and coherent theoretical frameworks to understand the capitalist economy in a constructive and forward looking manner Secondly it delineates the future directions as well as the current state of heterodox economics and then provides both heat and light on controversial issues drawing out the commonalities and differences among different heterodox economic approaches The volume also envisions transformative economic and social policies for the majority of the population and explains why economics is and should be treated as a social science This Handbook will be of compelling interest to those including students who wish to learn about alternative economic theories and policies that are rarely found in conventional economics textbooks or discussed in the mainstream media and to critical economists and other social scientists who are concerned with analyzing pressing socio economic issues

The Gated City Emma Regina Morales, 2025-04-23 The book tells the story of the proliferation of gated communities and the privatisation of public life and public space in Mexico over the last three decades Drawing on research from Lomas de Angel polis in Puebla one of the largest gated communities in the world Emma Regina Morales explores why such fortified spaces have proved popular with middle class households Weaving together the multiple influences of housing policy predatory financial markets and an increased fear of crime the book sets out how policy makers and planners can improve decision making and provide non gated solutions to urban anxiety The Urban Caribbean in an Era of Global Change Robert B. Potter, 2017-03-02 Based on the author's first hand field research this book addresses the twin processes of urbanization and globalization as they affect the contemporary Caribbean region One of the key aims of the book is to focus attention on the fact that contrary to popular perceptions the Caribbean is highly urbanized Indeed statistics show that the region is more highly urbanized than the world taken as a whole In addition the fact that the Caribbean region has always been affected by processes of globalization in respect of its economy polity and society is central to the text The chapters cover pressing topics such as urban change and the evolution of mini metropolitan regions the importance of the mercantile and plantopolis frameworks tourism post modernity and the urban nexus economic change and the dual processes of global convergence and divergence and the nature of the relationships existing between the state the informal sector housing and environmental conditions In reality it is shown that the development of tourism and enclave manufacturing is leading to new forms of urban concentration and not spatial dispersal      South East Asia in the World-Economy Chris J. Dixon,1991-07-26

South East Asia has for many centuries occupied a pivotal position in the wider Asian economy linking China and the Far East with India and the Middle East and since the early 1500s the region has also played a major role in the world economy South East Asia in the World economy is a textbook survey of the area s interaction with these wider regional and international structure Professor Chris Dixon demonstrates how this region s role has undergone frequent and profound change as a result of the successive emergency and dominance of mercantile industrial and finance capital He shows how the region has developed as a supplier of luxury product such as spices as a producer of bulk primary products and how since the mid 1960s it has become a major recipient of investment and a favoured location for European and American markets The author examines how these phases in the evolution of the international economy have been reflected in the relations of evolution of the production and in the spatial pattern of economic activity He also discusses how the progressive integration of South East Asia in the world economy has established the dominance of a small number of core areas and produced a pattern of uneven development throughout the region In a concluding chapter Chris Dixon explores the prospects for South East Asia in the 1990s in the light of the restructuring of the world economy      Ordinary Cities Jennifer Robinson,2013-07-04 This groundbreaking book establishes a new framework for thinking about urban development and crosses the longstanding divide in urban scholarship and urban policy between Western and other cities      The City and the Grassroots Manuel Castells,1983      The African City Anthony O'Connor,2013-01-11 This book explores various characteristics of tropical African cities with special reference to change in the post independence period It stresses the diversity of urban forms and urban experience to be found within the region distinguishing the more general features from those peculiar to individual cities Much has been written about urban Africa but nearly all relates to particular cities this book provides a context for such studies This review provides an essential foundation both for theoretical clarification of the processes of urbanization and for practical planning decisions The topics covered range from rural urban migration and national urban systems to the urban economy housing and the spatial structure of cities The sharp contrasts between indigenous and colonial urban traditions are emphasized but so also is the evidence for convergence today as indigenization takes place in the colonial cities while Westernization proceeds in those of indigenous origin This book was first published in 1983      Informal Sector Kishor Chandra Samal,2008 Study with reference to Orissa India
