Community College Leadership Pamela L. Eddy, 2023-07-03 Two year colleges are facing major change The majority will undergo a turnover in college presidencies in the next ten years at a time when they are being asked to be engines for economic growth enable more students and a greater diversity of students to gain 21st century qualifications and provide a pathway to higher degrees all with reduced state and local funding Recognizing that future community college leaders at all levels will manage increasingly complex organizations and face very different challenges than their predecessors this book provides a multidimensional model of leadership suited to these new demands and environments The model addresses issues of leader cognition race and gender the importance of culture and the need for more collaborative modes of communication and decision making to frame and implement change It recognizes that there is no longer any one way to lead and that the next generation of leaders will be more diverse possess experience and qualifications from a wider variety of careers and follow new pathways to their positions Leaders in the future will possess a cultural competency that is fostered by being lifelong learners Through over 75 individual interviews with leaders and campus members Eddy is able to provide examples of the model s components in practice and to illuminate which experiences proved the most relevant for these leaders on their route to upper administration She shows how her model intersects with the leadership competencies defined by the American Association of Community Colleges and proposes strategies for future leadership development This book is intended for anyone considering a leadership position at any level in a community college for college administrators and boards responsible for leadership development programs and for individuals in corresponding organizations who conduct training programs for aspiring leaders Likewise those employed at four year universities may find value in the model as a developmental tool

Leading for the Future: Alignment of AACC Competencies with Practice Pamela L. Eddy, 2012-11-15 The AACC competencies were initially developed to help provide guidance in developing community college leaders because of predictions of a leadership crisis in the two year college sector Since their creation the competencies have been used to direct topics in leadership development programs and to guide future leaders about what skills are critical to master Yet scant research exists on the use of the competencies in practice or on analysis of the competencies within the changing higher education climate This issue provides a review of the research on the competencies in the field and posits several strategies for the future use of the competencies and potential changes to the competencies This is the 159th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today s open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission

Leadership in American Academic Geography Michael S. DeVivo, 2014-11-14 Leadership in American Academic Geography The Twentieth Century examines the practice of leadership in the most influential geography departments in the United States Throughout the twentieth century transformational leaders often emerged as inspirational department chairs shaping the content and nature of the discipline and establishing models of leadership often fueling the success of programs and sparking shifts in paradigms Yet on occasion departmental chairmanships fell to individuals marked by laissez faire attributes lapses in integrity or autocratic behaviors which at times led to disaster Effective leaders within key academic departments played imperative roles in the discipline s prosperity and in contrast mediocrity in leadership contributed to periods of austerity Michael S DeVivo aims to offer not only a historical perspective on the geographic discipline but also insight to leaders in geography today and in the future so that they might be able to avoid failure and instead develop strategies for success by recognizing effective leadership behaviors that foster high levels of achievement

Leadership in an Era of Change Desna L. Wallin, 2010-04-19 In unstable times effective leaders must not only be able to cope with the environment they must also be able to shape it Leaders in today's community colleges must fit that mold Change leadership can be said to embody four essential characteristics that might be called the four A's These are Change leadership anticipates it is visionary and forward looking and avoids reactionary thinking Change leadership constantly analyzes both the internal and external environment to gather reliable data upon which to make decisions it engages in strategic and tactical planning to make the most of the moment Change leadership acts with a vision and a plan with accurate and current data action is collaborative and inclusive Change leadership affirms it is not enough to have a vision a plan and action Once action is implemented attention is given to reflection to review and to sustaining change This volume focuses on change leadership at all levels The authors bring unique perspectives they are strong recognized scholars in leadership studies as well as practitioners actively engaged in community college leadership Both empirical studies and best practices are included to further our knowledge and understanding of effective leadership in the context of change This is the 149th volume of the Jossey Bass higher education quarterly report series New Directions for Community Colleges Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today's open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission
