Vocabulary Increase and Collocation Learning Haiyan Men, 2017-09-04 This book highlights research that expands on our knowledge of second language collocation acquisition. It presents original findings based on the largest collocation database to date encompassing over 8 000 collocations verb noun adjective noun and noun noun. These collocations collected from a one million learner corpus were not confined to English as a foreign language EFL learners at a particular proficiency level but also included learners at three levels. As such the book provides a panoramic view regarding L2 collocation acquisition not only in terms of learners acquisition of different types of collocations but in terms of the developmental patterns in L2 collocation learning. One major discovery is that there is a collocation lag as learners proficiency levels rise which is associated with vocabulary increase in particular semantic domains a remarkable insight for second language acquisition researchers English teachers and EFL learners alike. The findings reported shed new light on how collocations are acquired by EFL learners offering guidance on how they can best be taught. In closing the book discusses pedagogical aspects that arise from considering how learners can be helped with collocation learning.
