PRESS RELEASE

February 26, 2000

“DUTCHLANDSCAPES: 85 YEARS OF DUTCH FINESTILLING” TO BE OPEN FOR EXHIBITION

“DutchLandscapes: 85 Years of Dutch Finestilling,” a six-part film series consisting of significant motion study in the Netherlands during the 20th century, will be shown March 8 through 18 at The Cleveland Museum of Art, 1100 East Boulevard in University Circle. Admission is free.

The series—including both shorts and feature, silent and sound films, animation and experimental works, classic and new programs—begins on Sunday, March 5, with a 2 pm screening of Paul Verhoeven’s 1978 World War II epic Subject of Change, starring Roger Moore. Subject of Change was one of the first Dutch features to achieve a critical and commercial success in the U.S. and was named Best Foreign Film of 1978 by the Los Angeles Film Critics Association. Roger Moore went on to star in such American films as White Heat, and Verhoeven, only eight years later, directed the major American production BlackCop.

“DutchLandscapes” also includes some of the best surviving Dutch shorts, as well as several of the Dutch documentaries that for years were the only films to win international attention for the Dutch film industry. There is a new feature by the German movie film Ulfahle, who worked in the Netherlands after fleeing Nazi Germany, and a 1978 film by Hans Rindfleisch, whose 1976 film Amende won an Academy Award for Best Foreign Film. Some of the other programs focus on the contemporary and avant-garde Dutch scenes.

“DutchLandscapes: 85 years of Dutch Finestilling” has been organized by International Film Circuit, Inc. (New York) and Foundation for Cultural Exchange The Netherlands-USA (Amsterdam). Films will be shown on Sundays at 2:00 pm (first period) and Wednesdays at 8 pm.

complex domain of place and space in cinema and the film industry's role in establishing cultural connections and economic cooperation between India and Europe. With contributions from leading international scholars, various case studies scrutinise European and Indian contexts, exploring both the established and emerging locations. The book extends the dominantly Britain-oriented focus on India's cinema presence in Europe to European countries such as Italy, Switzerland, Poland, Slovenia, Finland, and Sweden, where the Indian film industry progressively expands its presence. The chapters of this book look at Indian film production in Europe as a cultural bridge between India and Europe, fostering mutual understanding of the culture and society of the two regions. This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to researchers in film studies, cultural anthropology, cultural geography, tourism, economics, sociology, and cultural studies. It will also be of interest to practitioners working in local authorities, destination management, tourism, and creative business, all of whom see the value of film production in attracting visitors, investment, and creating new networks with local economic actors. The book offers much needed data and tools to translate their professional goals and potentials into effective regional strategies and activities.

Masters of Dutch Painting Detroit Institute of Arts, George S. Keyes, 2004. This long-awaited publication presents one of the world's finest collections of Dutch paintings, which come together for the first time in one volume as a major addition to existing scholarship on Dutch art. The volume presents over 100 paintings in colour, many including colour details. Each painting is accompanied by an artist's biography, a detailed commentary, technical analysis, endnotes, bibliographic references, an exhibition history, and full provenance. Over 140 comparative illustrations provide vital art historical context to the featured paintings. The range and scope of the works presented in this volume is truly impressive, from sedate church interiors and conventional landscape subjects to bawdy peasant interiors and magnificent still lifes. Atmospheres of Projection Giuliana Bruno, 2022-10-13. Following on the success of Surface, Bruno's previous book, with us in this new one she explores the act and art of projection in its manifold guises and what those can tell us about how we think and feel and create the world we inhabit. This is not just an exploration of the psychological operation of projection, the idea that we cast onto others the qualities we refuse to acknowledge in ourselves. It is a major work of cultural history and media archaeology. As a way to transform space and atmosphere, projection has a long history in the arts, dating back to shadow plays, camera obscuras, magic lantern shows, and phantasmagoria. But the atmosphere of projection is not a thing of the past alone. It is alive and well today. It continues to fascinate us as screens filled with moving figures pervade the spaces of the art gallery and the museum, as well as the environments of our daily lives. What is the root of our fascination? How does it manifest in contemporary art? How do we define atmosphere? How is projection an atmosphere? Are these two modalities conceptually and historically related, and how so? Why are artists today so interested in environments and in elements of projection? To explain this continual fascination with projection and atmosphere, Bruno traverses psychoanalysis, architecture, the history of science, visual art, and moving image culture to see how projective mechanisms and their environments have developed over time.
