Making Leisure Provision for People with Profound Learning and Multiple Disabilities James Hogg, J. Cavet, 2013-11-11

Thinking Globally Acting Locally Peter Mittler, 2010 This unusual book is more than just the memoir of a distinguished career It is a history of the twentieth century reflected in the life and work of one individual It begins in 1938 with a year in the life of an eight year old Viennese Jewish boy as he experiences the worst and best of humanity from Nazi persecution to rescue by strangers through the Kindertransports It tells of his encounters with an English schooling system at its worst and best and of his formative years But this is not a story of one person's liberation

That little refugee boy grew up to contribute to the liberation of hundreds of thousands of people world wide Influenced by his own early experiences Peter Mittler has spent a lifetime committed to the human rights of people with intellectual disabilities From their liberation from the big institutions left over from the nineteenth century to their inclusion in shaping the 2008 United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities it tells the story of a dynamic and powerful human rights movement It is perhaps the last great untold story the story of how persons with intellectual disabilities finally gained the right to respect value and autonomy and of the long struggle for schooling access to work and their own front door key This memoir weaves professional memories and accounts of collaboration across the global village with anecdotes and travellers tales to reflect a global perspective from someone who was there at every twist and turn working with families teachers researchers governments and self advocates for over 60 years to influence legislation and drive lasting reform

EXTRACTS FROM BOOK REVIEWS Dame Phillipa Russell from foreword Socrates is reputed to have said that each generation produces a very small number of hero innovators who change the way in which society values its citizens For me and for many others Peter Mittler is indeed one of those hero innovators radically changing both national and international attitudes towards people with intellectual and other disabilities and their families Duncan Mitchell British Journal of Learning Disabilities Peter Mittler is one of the giants of learning disability in the second half of the twentieth century It is rare to find such a wonderfully understated page turner Ingrid Lunt Journal of Research in Special Educational Needs The book succeeds in going far beyond an autobiography is easy to read and carries the reader through with the strong narrative Paul Williams Community Living What an incredibly full and constructive life The book is very well written and highly readable David Mitchell International Journal of Disability Development and Education Peter Mittler has the happy knack of being able to synthesise disparate material in an interesting manner with an eye to the broader philosophical context This book is a fitting summation of one man s personal journey to address inequalities particularly as they apply to those among us who have disabilities Chris Cullen History of Psychology and Philosophy This is a fascinating book which chronicles the life journey of Peter Mittler a leading exponent of evidence based services and social inclusion for people with intellectual impairments More than this though it is a history of the slow and often halting progress which has been made in the United Kingdom and throughout the Working Group on Learning Disabilities, 2006 Long-Term Forensic Psychiatric Care Birgit Völlm, Peter Braun, 2019-05-16 This book provides an overview of forensic psychiatry focusing on the provision of care in Europe as well as the legal and ethical challenges posed by long term stays in forensic settings Forensic psychiatric services provide care and treatment for mentally disordered offenders MDOs in secure in patient facilities as well as in the community These services are high cost low volume services they pose significant restrictions on patients and hence raise considerable ethical challenges There is no agreed upon standard for length of stay LoS in secure settings and patients detainment periods vary considerably across countries and even within the same jurisdiction Thus far little research has been conducted to identify factors associated with length of stay consequently it remains unclear how services should be configured to meet the needs of this patient group This volume fills some of those gaps Furthermore it presents new research on factors associated with length of stay both patient related and organisational Various approaches to the provision of care for long term patients in different countries are explored including a few best practise examples in this specific area of psychiatry The book also addresses the perspective of those working in forensic care by reviewing quality of life research and interviews with patients The authors of this volume come from a range of professional backgrounds ensuring a certain breadth and depth in the topic discussion and even includes patients themselves as co authors
