Protected Area Management Principles And Practice:

Protected Area Management Graeme Worboys, Michael Lockwood, Terry De Lacy, 2005 Protected Area Management Principles and Practice 2e examines the multi disciplinary task of managing protected areas This second edition of this authoritative text has been updated expanded and includes new AUstralian and international case studies Protected Area Management Graeme L. Worboys, 2008 Protected Area Governance and Management Graeme L. Worboys, Michael Lockwood, Ashish Kothari, Sue Feary, Ian Pulsford, 2015-04-08 Protected Area Governance and Management presents a compendium of original text case studies and examples from across the world by drawing on the literature and on the knowledge and experience of those involved in protected areas The book synthesises current knowledge and cutting edge thinking from the diverse branches of practice and learning relevant to protected area governance and management It is intended as an investment in the skills and competencies of people and consequently the effective governance and management of protected areas for which they are responsible now and into the future The global success of the protected area concept lies in its shared vision to protect natural and cultural heritage for the long term and organisations such as International Union for the Conservation of Nature are a unifying force in this regard Nonetheless protected areas are a socio political phenomenon and the ways that nations understand govern and manage them is always open to contest and debate The book aims to enlighten educate and above all to challenge readers to think deeply about protected areas their future and their past as well as their present The book has been compiled by 169 authors and deals with all aspects of protected area governance and management It provides information to support capacity development training of protected area field officers managers in charge and executive level managers Managing Protected Areas Michael Lockwood, Graeme Worboys, Ashish Kothari, 2012-05-04 This handbook produced by world renowned experts from the World Conservation Union IUCN spans the full terrain of protected area management and is the international benchmark for the field The book employs dozens of detailed international cases studies hundreds of concise topical snapshots maps tables illustrations and a colour plate section as well as evaluation tools checklists and numerous appendices to cover all aspects of park management from biodiversity to natural heritage to financial management The book establishes a conceptual underpinning for protected area management presents guiding principles for the 21st century reflects recent work on international best practice and provides an assessment of skills required by professionals As the most authoritative guide ever compiled to the principles and practice of protected area management this volume is essential for all professionals and students in all countries and contexts Managing Protected Areas Michael Lockwood, Graeme Worboys, Ashish Kothari, 2006 First Published in 2006 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Guidelines for Applying Protected Area Management Categories Nigel Dudley, 2008 IUCN s Protected Areas Management Categories which classify protected areas according to their management objectives are today accepted as the benchmark for defining recording and classifying protected areas They are recognized by international bodies such as the United Nations as well as many national governments As a result they are increasingly being incorporated into government legislation These guidelines provide as much clarity as possible regarding the meaning and application of the Categories They describe the definition of the Categories and discuss application in particular biomes and management approaches Management Guidelines for IUCN Category V Protected Areas Adrian Phillips, 2002 Protected Landscapes IUCN Protected Area Category V are lived in working landscapes In the past there has been a tendency to see them as a rather Eurocentric approach to protected areas but increasingly the category is being designated in other parts of the world including in a number of developing countries The Guidelines include sections on the background and on the planning of such areas and chapters on the principles policies process and the means for their management The text includes more than twenty case studies from more than fifteen countries in every region of the world Guidelines for protected area management planning Karadeniz N., Yenilmez Arpa, N., 2022-07-01 Management planning guidelines represent the second major step in the process for planning protected areas following implementation of the Establishment Guidelines This publication was developed as a part of the Conservation and Sustainable Management of Turkey's Steppe Ecosystem Project It is the one of seven sets of guidelines designed for the development of recommendations and strategies for the management of the country's natural assets This guidelines are based on international and national standards and are divided into 15 steps for successful management A fundamental precondition for any form of management planning is clear definition of the overall management objectives to be achieved These management objectives are linked to the IUCN protected area categories which form the basis for the guidelines Important recommendations for successful management include the creation of thematic preparatory maps on topography habitats borders and zones and habitat based planning The guidelines provide basic recommendations for the integration of global trends and requirements connected with nature conservation and protected areas into the protected area management process A central element of this process is the management plan which sets out the management approach and goals together with a framework for decision making to be applied in the protected area over a given period of time The management plan is usually valid for a period of 10 years but may include a mid term review Changes can only be made to the plan on the basis of ecological or natural reasons World Heritage Cultural Landscapes: A Handbook for Conservation and Management gratuit, 2009 Connectivity Conservation Management Graeme L. Worboys, Wendy L. Francis, Michael Lockwood, 2010-02-09 In an era of climate change deforestation and massive habitat loss we can no longer rely on parks and protected areas as isolated islands of wilderness to conserve and protect vital biodiversity Increasing connections are being considered and made between protected areas and connectivity thinking has started to expand to the regional and even the continental scale to match the challenges of conserving biodiversity in the face of global environmental change This groundbreaking book is the first guide to connectivity conservation management at local regional and continental scales

Written by leading conservation and protected area management specialists under the auspices of the World Commission on Protected Areas of IUCN the International Union for the Conservation of Nature this guide brings together a decade and a half of practice and covers all aspects of connectivity planning and management The book establishes a context for managing connectivity conservation and identifies large scale naturally interconnected areas as critical strategic and adaptive responses to climate change The second section presents 25 rich and varied case studies from six of the eight biogeographic realms of Earth including the Cape Floristic Region of Africa the Maloti Drakensberg Mountains the Australian Alps to Atherton Corridor and the Sacred Himalayan Landscape connectivity area featuring Mount Everest The remarkable 3200 kilometre long Yellowstone to Yukon corridor of Canada and the United States of America is described in detail The third section introduces a model for managing connectivity areas shaped by input from IUCN workshops held in 2006 and 2008 and additional research The final chapter identifies broad guidelines that need to be considered in undertaking connectivity conservation management prior to reinforcing the importance and urgency of this work This handbook is a must have for all professionals in protected area management conservation land management and resource management from the field through senior management and policy It is also an ideal reference for students and academics in geography protected area management and from across the environmental and natural sciences social sciences and landuse planning Published with Wilburforce Foundation WWF ICIMOD IUCN WCPA Australian Alps and The Nature Conservancy Management Planning for Nature Conservation Mike Alexander, 2007-12-04 This is the first planning guide to meet the requirements of Natura 2000 sites and it brings a new dimension to the modern literature on conservation management Combining key theories with real practice it fills a critical gap which has often hindered understanding of the planning process The book provides historical and rational background which helps to explain what makes a really effective management plan and it presents a practical guide to developing such a plan It concludes with a series of case studies which illustrate the underlying principles drawn out in the text while highlighting the different approaches demanded by very different sites Ecocultures Steffen Böhm, Zareen Pervez Bharucha, Jules Pretty, 2014-12-05 The world faces a perfect storm of social and ecological stresses including climate change habitat loss resource degradation and social economic and cultural change In order to cope with these communities are struggling to transition to sustainable ways of living that improve well being and increase resilience This book demonstrates how communities in both developed and developing countries are already taking action to maintain or build resilient and sustainable lifestyles These communities here designated as Ecocultures are exemplars of the art and science of sustainable living Though they form a diverse group they organise themselves around several common organising principles including an ethic of care for nature a respect for community high ecological knowledge and a desire to maintain and improve personal and social wellbeing Case studies from both developed and developing countries including Australia Brazil Finland Greenland India Indonesia South Africa UK and USA show how based on these principles communities have been able to increase social ecological and personal wellbeing and resilience They also address how other more mainstream communities are beginning to transition to more sustainable resilient alternatives Some examples also illustrate the decline of ecocultures in the face of economic pressures globalisation and climate change Theoretical chapters examine the barriers and bridges to wider application of these examples Overall the volume describes how ecocultures can provide the global community with important lessons for a wider transition to sustainability and will show how we can redefine our personal and collective futures around these principles

Quality Assurance and Certification in Ecotourism Rosemary Black,Alice Crabtree,2007 This book explores solutions to the problems of inconsistency and even exploitation of the term ecotourism through examples case studies and a discussion of quality control and certification The first part of the book chapters 2 8 moves the reader through the spectrum of quality assurance tools from what are perceived to be the least rigorous and effective awards of excellence and codes of conduct to more formal credible and effective methods certification and accreditation with a brief foray into using indicators to measure and monitor effectiveness The second part chapters 9 23 looks at a range of ecotourism stakeholders perspectives with an emphasis in one way or another on various industry certification programmes A concluding chapter explores the challenges and issues for quality in ecotourism The book has a glossary and a subject index
