TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language. The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by building bridges to neighbouring fields such as neuroscience and cognitive science. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages. It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints. High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing.

A Course in Romance Linguistics Frederick Browning Agard, 1984. A comparative contrastive description of five modern Romance languages: French, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian, Roumanian in terms of underlying grammar manifested in surface similarities and differences.

Historical Romance Linguistics Randall Scott Gess, Deborah Arteaga, 2006-01-01. This volume contains 17 studies on historical Romance linguistics within a variety of current theoretical frameworks; it includes studies on phonology, morphology and syntax focusing solely or comparatively on all five major Romance languages: French, Italian, Portuguese, Romanian and Spanish. An introduction by the eminent Romance Linguist Jürgen Klausenburger addresses the fit of these studies in the overall development of the field of historical Romance linguistics since the 19th century. The studies in this volume demonstrate an organic link between Malkiel's 1961 classic definition of Romance linguistics and the field of Romance linguistics today because just as scholars of the field in the 19th century successfully applied the dominant paradigm of historical linguistics of their time (Neogrammarian theory) so do the authors contained in the present volume avail themselves of current linguistic advances to achieve equally significant results.
