Chicana/Latina Education in Everyday Life Dolores Delgado Bernal, C. Alejandra Elenes, Francisca E. Godinez, Sofia Villenas, 2006-08-17 Winner of the 2006 Critics Choice Awards presented by the American Educational Studies Association. This groundbreaking volume explores both Chicana Latina feminist definitions of teaching and learning and ways of knowing in education. The book's contributors, Chicana Latina feminist scholars, reinterpret the field of education as inter and transdisciplinary and connected to ethnic racial and womanist scholarship. They examine mujer women centered definitions of pedagogy and epistemology rooted in Chicana Latina theories and visions of life, family, community, and world. Armed with the tools of Chicana Latina feminist thought, the contributors link cultural studies theories to critical feminist pedagogies by re-envisioning the sites of pedagogy to include women's brown bodies and their agency.

Black Women as Custodians of History: Unsung Rebel (M)Others in African American and Afro-Cuban Women's Writing Paula Sanmartin, 2014-03-28 This book is an essential addition to the study of comparative black literature of the Americas; it will also fill the gap that exists on theoretical studies exploring black women's writing from the Spanish Caribbean. This book examines literary representations of the historic roots of black women's resistance in the United States and Cuba by studying the following texts by both African American and Afro-Cuban women from four different literary genres: autobiographical slave narrative, contemporary novel on slavery, testimonial narrative, and poetry. Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl 1861 by the African American former slave Harriet Jacobs; Dessa Rose 1986 by the African American writer Sherley Ann Williams; Reyita sencillamente testimonio de una negra cubana nonagenarian Simply Reyita Testimonial Narrative of a Nonagenarian Black Cuban Woman 1996 written/transcribed by the Afro-Cuban historian Daisy Rubiera Castillo from her interviews with her mother María de los Reyes Castillo Bueno Reyita; and a selection of poems from the contemporary Afro-Cuban poets Nancy Morejón and Georgina Herrera. The study argues that the writers participate in black women's self-inscription in the historical process by positioning themselves as subjects of their history and seizing discursive control of their histories. Although the texts form part of separate discourses, the book explores the commonalities of the rhetorical devices and narrative strategies employed by the authors as they disassemble racist and sexist stereotypes, re-constructing black female subjectivity through an image of active resistance against oppression, one that authorizes unconventional definitions of womanhood and motherhood. The book shows that in the women's revisions of national history, their writings also demonstrate the pervasive role of racial and gender categories in the creation of a discourse of national identity while promoting a historiography constructed within flexible borders that need to be negotiated constantly. The study's engagement in crosscultural exploration constitutes a step further in opening connections with a comparative literary study that is theoretically engaging in order to include Afro Cuban women writers and Afro Caribbean scholars into scholarly discussions in which African American women have already managed to participate with a series of critical texts The book explores connections between methods and perspectives derived from Western theories and from Caribbean and Black studies while recognizing the black women authors studied as critics and scholars In this sense the book includes some of the writers own commentaries about their work taken from interviews many of them conducted by the author Paula Sanmart n herself as well as critical essays and letters Black Women as Custodians of History adds a new dimension to the body of existing criticism by challenging the ways assumptions have shaped how literature is read by black women writers Paula Sanmart n s study is a vivid demonstration of the strengths of embarking on multidisciplinary study This book will be useful to several disciplines and areas of study such as African diaspora studies African American studies Afro Latin American and Afro Caribbean studies women s studies genre studies and slavery studies

Agency, Culture, and Human Personhood Jeanne M. Hoeft, 2009-01-01

Agency Culture and Human Personhood uses feminist theories process and liberation theologies psychodynamics and the problem of intimate partner violence to develop a pastoral theology of human agency The turn to cultural context for understanding what makes human beings who they are and do the things they do raises significant questions about human agency To what extent is agency the human capacity to act self determined and to what extent is it determined by external factors If we conceive of persons with too little agency we negate the possibility for change but too much agency negates the necessity for resistance movements Hoeft argues that agency arises ambiguously from and is constituted of culture She suggests that such a conception of agency enables the church to foster in victims perpetrators and congregations more resistance to violence and proposes practices of ministry that can do just that The book will challenge deeply ingrained notions of personal responsibility and one s capacity to choose change yet offers concrete proposals for a creating a less violent world

A Village Goes Mobile Sirpa Tenhunen, 2018 In A Village Goes Mobile Sirpa Tenhunen examines how the mobile telephone has contributed to social change in rural India Tenhunen s long term ethnographic fieldwork in West Bengal began before the village had a phone system in place and continued through the introduction and proliferation of the smartphone She here analyzes how mobile telephones emerged as multidimensional objects which in addition to enabling telephone conversations facilitated status aspirations internet access and entertainment practices She explores how this multifaceted use of mobile phones has affected agency and power dynamics in economic political and social relationships and how these new social constellations relate to culture and development In eight chapters Tenhunen asks such questions as Who benefits from mobile telephony and how Can people use mobile phones to change their lives or does phone use merely amplify existing social patterns and power relationships Can mobile telephony induce development Going beyond the case of West Bengal Tenhunen develops a framework to understand how new media mediates social processes within interrelated social spheres and local hierarchies by relating media saturated forms of interaction to pre existing contexts
