Description Fake organized by William Olander To utter the word fake to point a finger and say fraud to declare what was believed to be original counterfeit can promote an extraordinary rupture in the social fabric To create a fake to perpetrate a fraud to pass a counterfeit is literally illegal but in a broader metaphoric sense each constitutes a subversive act which if not prosecutable is not easily tolerated Yet in a global economy increasingly dominated by high technology capable of reproducing copies more real than the real thing the fake is revealed only with great difficulty Indeed for a fake to operate as a fake it must pass as an original circulating freely in our system of late capitalism from the art forgery to the knock off high fashion from the pirated record album to the copyright infringement Catalogue
