Techera, Natalie Klein, 2017-04-18 In International Law of Sharks Erika J Techera and Natalie Klein provide an in depth analysis of the current legal frameworks that relate to these important species The authors offer ways in which to overcome obstacles that prevent existing laws from working better and identify best practice global governance options while highlighting opportunities for legal reform Scientific evidence indicates that sharks play a critical role in maintaining marine ecosystem health yet current governance regimes have not been effective and many shark species continue to diminish In this context effective laws are critical to improve sharks conservation status This volume also explores the broader relevance of oceans governance by identifying appropriate legal frameworks and regulatory mechanisms that balance conservation and utilisation of marine species in general Sharks: Conservation, Governance and Management Erika J. Techera, Natalie Klein, 2014-06-05 The key aim of this book is to explore the global conservation and management of sharks There has been a rapid decline in populations of many shark species while new science has emerged of the critical role they play in marine ecosystems However the authors show that conservation law and policy have been slow to develop with only a small number of iconic species being protected worldwide The increase in fishing impact primarily through shark finning and by catch has led to shark conservation receiving greater international attention in recent years The book explores our current knowledge and status of the law and science in relation to sharks with a particular focus on improving frameworks for their conservation and management Recent trends are analysed including shark finning bans that have been put in place in several countries the widening number of nations establishing shark sanctuaries and the growth of shark based tourism The efficacy of current listing processes for endangered species and fisheries regulations is also examined Tourism is explored as an alternative to fishing and the risks and impacts associated with this industry are analysed Contributors include leading authorities from universities and conservation organizations in North America Europe and Australia A common theme is to emphasise the importance of collaborative governance between various interest groups and the need for inter disciplinary research and management approaches that are necessary to address the decline in sharks Predicting Future Oceans William Cheung, Yoshitaka Ota, Andres Cisneros-Montemayor, 2019-08-17 Predicting Future Oceans Sustainability of Ocean and Human Systems Amidst Global Environmental Change provides a synthesis of our knowledge of the future state of the oceans The editors undertake the challenge of integrating diverse perspectives from oceanography to anthropology to exhibit the changes in ecological conditions and their socioeconomic implications Each contributing author provides a novel perspective with the book as a whole collating scholarly understandings of future oceans and coastal communities across the world The diverse perspectives syntheses and state of the art natural and social sciences contributions are led by past and current research fellows and principal investigators of the Nereus Program network This includes members at 17 leading research institutes addressing themes such as oceanography biodiversity fisheries mariculture production economics pollution public health and marine policy This book is a comprehensive resource for senior undergraduate and postgraduate readers studying social and natural science as well as practitioners working in the field of natural resources management and marine conservation Provides a synthesis of our knowledge on the future state of the oceans Includes recommendations on how to move forwards Highlights key social aspects linked to ocean ecosystems including health equity and sovereignty The Galapagos Marine Reserve Judith Denking, Luis Vinueza, 2014-01-24 This book focuses on how marine systems respond to natural and anthropogenic perturbations ENSO overfishing pollution tourism invasive species climate change Authors explain in their chapters how this information can guide management and conservation actions to help orient and better manage restore and sustain the ecosystems services and goods that are derived from the ocean while considering the complex issues that affect the delicate nature of the Islands This book will contribute to a new understanding of the Galapagos Islands and marine ecosystems Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1978 Answers to Your Questions about Sharks Hal Scharp, 1979 Hal Scharp dispels the myths and weighs the realities of shark attacks against the commendable aspects of this greatly maligned animal Seventy five questions embracing a broad spectrum of interesting facts about sharks are posed and answered What is the largest shark The smallest Do sharks feel pain Has the power of a shark bite been measured Do sharks migrate Do sharks have enemies New Directions in South African Tourism Geographies Jayne M. Rogerson, Gustav Visser, 2019-09-26 This book provides an overview of innovative and new directions being chartered in South African tourism geographies Within the context of global change the volume explores different facets and different geographies of tourism Key themes under scrutiny include the sharing economy the changing accommodation service sector touring poverty tourism and innovation tourism and climate change threats to sustainability inclusive tourism and a number of studies which challenge the present mindedness of much tourism geographical scholarship The 18 chapters range across urban and rural landscapes in South Africa with sectoral studies which include adventure tourism coastal tourism cruise tourism nature based tourism sports tourism and wine tourism

Finally the volume raises a number of policy and planning issues in the global South in particular relating to sustainability local economic development and poverty reduction Outlining the impact of tourism expansion in South Africa and suggesting future research directions this stimulating book is a valuable resource for geographers as well as researchers and students in the field of tourism studies
