Make A Pact For Success Designing Effective Information Presentations:

Make a PACT for Success Ruth V. Small, Marilyn P. Arnone, 2002 Suggesting that the primary concepts needed to deliver effective presentations can be summarized with the acronym PACT standing for purpose audience content and technique the authors present their model for the design development delivery and evaluation of information presentations They also address two other models they find essential to the process Taylor s value added process and Keller s ARCS model Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Make a PACT for Success Ruth V. Small, Marilyn P.

Arnone, 2002-07-23 At one time taking a public speaking course was sufficient to provide the skills necessary for effective presentations Now the Information Age makes the use of information technology mandatory so that presentations are delivered not only through speech but also using electronic communications audio and video media print materials To succeed in today s world individuals must understand the characteristics of information as well as people s information needs not just how to present information Small and Arnone have developed an extraordinarily successful model for professionals and academics the PACT model Purpose Audience Content and Technique which makes it easy to focus on the research selection organization and delivery of information Whether the assignment is public speaking technical writing or web designing the PACT model can be used to integrate the common principles of information science and communication theory This book introduces the reader to three crucial models for the successful design development delivery and evaluation of information presentations An ideal tool for professionals a valuable ally for communications instructors and a necessary resource for college students Multicultural Instructional Design: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications

Management Association, Information Resources, 2019-07-05 As the world becomes more globalized student populations in educational settings will continue to grow in diversity To ensure students develop the cultural competence to adapt to new environments educational institutions must develop curriculum policies and programs to aid in the progression of cultural acceptance and understanding Multicultural Instructional Design Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications is a vital reference source for the latest research findings on inclusive curriculum development for multicultural learners It also examines the interaction between culture and learning in academic environments and the efforts to mediate it through various educational venues Highlighting a range of topics such as intercultural communication student diversity and language skills this multi volume book is ideally designed for educators professionals school administrators researchers and practitioners in the field of education Changing the Scope of Library Instruction in the Digital Age Bhattacharyya,

Swati, Patnaik, K Rama, 2018-01-05 The current digital age is impacting the contents and delivery of instructional service in many ways Instructional sessions not only describe various features of a resource but these sessions also bring issues like the ethical use of information copyrights and the value of open knowledge to light Librarians are required to help users to learn use these tools Changing the Scope of Library Instruction in the Digital Age provides emerging information on data
