Jousting for the New Generation David Loader, 2007-08-01 Learning is not some technical task like computer programming; it is integral to the person. It is part of the spirit, the soul, and the heart of a human being we need to be encouraged to explore what is inside us, what we feel as well as what we think, where we have come from as well as where we wish to go. I have written unashamedly in a personal and passionate way. In this new collection of essays, David Loader addresses a range of contemporary issues in education and encourages critical dialogue about prevailing educational cultures. These jousts, as he calls them, are challenges to the status quo, written to encourage verbal repartee, argument, and counter argument. Dipping into Jousting for the New Generation is intended to inspire the reader and generate spirited discussion.

How Leaders Learn Gordon A. Donaldson, 2008-04-12 How Leaders Learn portrays the developmental experiences of educators seeking to become accomplished leaders in their schools. The author presents a new model of leadership knowledge: the Interpersonal Cognitive Intrapersonal (I-C-I) model. Through the stories of teacher leaders and administrators in several leadership development programs, the book depicts the evolution of understanding, skill, and self-confidence. These learners grapple with questions essential to all effective leadership: Does my leadership generate improved learning for the students in my school? What are my greatest assets as a leader? What are my greatest liabilities, and what do I do about them? Can I find a leadership role that is both productive and sustainable for me and for the school I serve? This dynamic professional development tool introduces a framework for thinking about how school leaders cultivate and support their own learning. Richly describes in leaders' own words the deepening of interpersonal, cognitive, and intrapersonal
