In Brown's Wake Martha Minow,2010-08-17 What is the legacy of Brown vs Board of Education While it is well known for establishing racial equality as a central commitment of American schools the case also inspired social movements for equality in education across all lines of difference including language gender disability immigration status socio economic status religion and sexual orientation Yet more than a half century after Brown American schools are more racially separated than before and educators parents and policy makers still debate whether the ruling requires all inclusive classrooms in terms of race gender disability and other differences In Brown s Wake examines the reverberations of Brown in American schools including efforts to promote equal opportunities for all kinds of students School choice once a strategy for avoiding Brown has emerged as a tool to promote integration and opportunities even as charter schools and private school voucher programs enable new forms of self separation by language gender disability and ethnicity Martha Minow Dean of Harvard Law School argues that the criteria placed on such initiatives carry serious consequences for both the character of American education and civil society itself Although the original promise of Brown remains more symbolic than effective Minow demonstrates the power of its vision in the struggles for equal education regardless of students social identity not only in the United States but also in many countries around the world Further she urges renewed commitment to the project of social integration even while acknowledging the complex obstacles that must be overcome An elegant and concise overview of Brown and its aftermath In Brown's Wake explores the broad ranging and often surprising impact of one of the century's most important Supreme Court decisions Improving Educational Productivity David H. It's Time for a Change Matthew Lynch, 2012 China Japan and South Korea understand that well educated workers are crucial for survival in the competitive global economy Thus they are placing enormous emphasis on education ensuring that their students receive instruction not only foundational reading and math but are also taught to think creatively and solve problems Their youth are poised to take on and conquer the world The U S on the other hand is losing the battle School systems are using more money but have less to show for it Test results especially among the lower socioeconomic classes are dismal America has extraordinary natural resources a solid functioning democracy and excellent infrastructure but unless we can reform our educational system to produce students who are able to take advantage of new technologies and compete in the global economy we will cede our position as world leader Its Time for Change School Reform provides a no nonsense blueprint for reforming The U S
