Phenomenology Of Religion Eight Modern Descriptions Of The Essence Of Religion:

Phenomenology of Religion. Eight Modern Descriptions of the Essence of Religion. Edited by Joseph Dabney Bettis Joseph Dabney BETTIS,1969 A Guide to the Phenomenology of Religion James L. Cox,2006-06-15 The phenomenological method in the study of religions has provided the linchpin supporting the argument that Religious Studies constitutes an academic discipline in its own right and thus that it is irreducible either to theology or to the social sciences This book examines the figures whom the author regards as having been most influential in creating a phenomenology of religion Background factors drawn from philosophy theology and the social sciences are traced before examining the thinking of scholars within the Dutch British and North American schools of religious phenomenology An Introduction to the Phenomenology of Religion James Cox,2010-02-10 In this thoroughly revised edition James Cox provides an easily accessible introduction to the phenomenology of religion which he contends continues as a foundational method for the academic study of religion in the twenty first century After dealing with the problematic issue of defining religion he describes the historical background to phenomenology by tracing its roots to developments in philosophy and the social sciences in the early twentieth century The phenomenological method is then outlined as a step by step process which includes a survey of the important classifications of religious behaviour The author concludes with a discussion of the place of the phenomenology of religion in the current academic climate and argues that it can be aligned with the growing scholarly interest in the cognitive science of religion

Phenomenology of Religion Joseph Dabney,1969 God the Eternal Contemporary Adrian Langdon,2012-04-27 The relation of the eternal God to time and history has perplexed theologians and philosophers for centuries How can Christians describe a God who is distinct from time but acts within it This book presents one creative and profound approach to this perennial theme by examining the theology of Karl Barth Contrary to interpretations of Barth that suggest he held a view of eternity as abstracted from time and history this comprehensive study suggests that he provides a more complex and fruitful understanding Rather than defining eternity in a negative relation to time Barth relates eternity and time with reference to such doctrines as the Trinity and incarnation This ensures overcoming what he saw as the Babylonian Captivity of an abstract philosophical definition of eternity that developed in the Western tradition The central argument of the book suggests an analogia trinitaria temporis a basic analogy between the eternal being of God and God's creating and activity within time Also implicit in Barth's view is a narrative view of time similar to the view of Paul Ricoeur which unfolds as the Church Dogmatics develops Bibliographie Internationale de L'histoire Des Religions ,1954 Religious Education in a World of Religious Diversity Wilna A.J. Meijer,Siebre Miedema,Alma Lanser-van der Velde,2009 This volume brings together a selection of papers presented at the Fifteenth Session of the International Seminar on Religious Education and Values ISREV which took place in 2006 in Driebergen the Netherlands addressing the theme Religious Education in a World of Religious Diversity The authors were invited to combine the concept of diversity with the dimensions of temporality of time and history in reworking their contributions for this book This temporal aspect is in a sense inherent in educational thinking On the one hand education as intergenerational transmission has a conservative aspect tradition being what is actually and presently transmitted from the past and or what is considered worthwhile to be passed on On the other hand acknowledging the activity of students themselves as a prerequisite for any education to happen brings the open endedness and therefore the future into the pedagogical arena in terms of development learning reflection edification et cetera So the question answered in this volume is what does this inherent historicity mean for religious education as well as for the concept religion and religious diversity In answering this question the contributions represent the global character of the concern with religious diversity in relation to religious education and originate respectively from the following countries Canada Bhikkhu English United States Moran Latvia Ilishko Russia Kozyrev Germany Pirner South Africa Roux du Preez Ferguson Japan Omori Australia de Souza Turkey Sel uk and the Netherlands Meijer Miedema The Humanities Frank Whaling, 2019-10-08 No detailed description available for The Humanities The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Science Philip Clayton, Zachary Simpson, 2006 The field of science and religion is exploding in popularity among both academics and the reading public This is a comprehensive and authoritative introduction to the debate written by the leading experts yet accessible to the general reader Evangelical Dictionary of Theology Daniel J. Treier, Walter A. Elwell, 2017-11-07 This bestselling reference tool has been a trusted resource for more than 25 years with over 165 000 copies sold Now thoroughly updated and substantially revised to meet the needs of today s students and classrooms it offers cutting edge overviews of key theological topics Readable and reliable this work features new articles on topics of contemporary relevance to world Christianity and freshened articles on enduring theological subjects providing comprehensive A Z coverage for today s theology students The author base reflects the increasing diversity of evangelical scholars Advisory editors include D Jeffrey Bingham Cheryl Bridges Johns John G Stackhouse Jr Tite Ti nou and Kevin J Vanhoozer Theory and Method in Religious Studies Frank Whaling, 2012-10-25 This paperback edition contains selected articles from the original clothbound editions of Contemporary Approaches to The Study of Religion Vol I The Humanities Vol II The Social Sciences Religion and Reason 27 28 The Pleasure of Modernist Music Arved Mark Ashby, 2004 The debate over modernist music has continued for almost a century from Berg s Wozzeck and Webern s Symphony Op 21 to John Cage s renegotiation of musical control the unusual musical practices of the Velvet Underground and Stanley Kubrick s use of Ligeti s Lux Aeterna in the epic film 2001 The composers discussed in these pages including Bart k Stockhausen Bernard Herrmann Steve Reich and many others are modernists in that they are defined by their individualism whether covert or overt and share a basic urge toward redesigning musical discourse The aim of this volume is to negotiate a varied and open middle ground between polemical extremes of reception The contributors sketch out the possible significance of a repertory that in past discussions has been deemed either meaningless or beyond describable meaning With an emphasis on recent aesthetics and contexts including film music sexuality metaphor and ideas of a listening grammar they trace the meanings that such works and composers have held for listeners of different kinds None of them takes up the usual mandate of educated listening to modernist works the notion that a person can appreciate difficult music if given enough time and schooling Instead the book defines novel but meaningful avenues of significance for modernist music avenues beyond those deemed appropriate or acceptable by the academy While some contributors offer new listening strategies most interpret the listening premise more loosely as a metaphor for any manner of personal and immediate connection with music In addition to a previously untranslated article by Pierre Boulez the volume contains articles all but one previously unpublished by twelve distinctive and prominent composers music critics and music theorists from America Europe Australia and South Africa Arved Ashby Amy Bauer William Bolcom Jonathan Bernard Judy Lochhead Fred Maus Andrew Mead Greg Sandow Martin Scherzinger Jeremy Tambling Richard Toop and Lloyd Whitesell Arved Ashby is Associate Professor of Music at the Ohio State University

Comparing Religions, a Limitative Approach Johannes Gerhardus Platvoet, 1982 Since its founding by Jacques Waardenburg in 1971 Religion and Reason has been a leading forum for contributions on theories theoretical issues and agendas related to the phenomenon and the study of religion Topics include among others category formation comparison ethnophilosophy hermeneutics methodology myth phenomenology philosophy of science scientific atheism structuralism and theories of religion From time to time the series publishes volumes that map the state of the art and the history of the discipline

Ritual Embodiment in Modern Western Magic Damon Zacharias Lycourinos, 2017-11-15 In the Western world magic has often functioned as an umbrella term for various religious beliefs and ritual practices that seek to influence events by harnessing supernatural power The definition of these myriad occult and esoteric traditions have however usually come from those that are opposed to its practice notably authorities in religious legal and intellectual spheres This book seeks to provide a new perspective directly from the practitioners of modern Western magic by exploring how a distinctive mode of embodiment and consciousness can produce a transition from an ordinary to a magical worldview Starting with an introduction to the study of magic in the Western academy the book then presents the author's own participant observation of five ethnographic case studies of modern Western magic The focus of these ethnographic case studies is directed towards ideas and methods the informants employ to self legitimise and self represent as magicians It concludes by discussing the phenomenological implications and issues around embodiment that are inherent to the contemporary practice of magic This is a unique insight into the lived experience of practitioners of modern magic As such it will be of keen interest to scholars of the Occult and New Religious Movements as well as Religious Studies academics examining issues around the embodiment and the anthropology of religion

Holocaust Film Terri Ginsberg, 2009-03-26 This timely new monograph takes as its starting point the provocative contention that Holocaust film scholarship has been marginalized academically despite the crucial role Holocaust film has played in fostering international awareness of the Nazi genocide and scholarly understandings of cinematic power

The book suggests political and economic motivations for this seeming paradox the ideological parameters of which are evident in debates and controversies over Holocaust films themselves and around Holocaust culture in general Lending particular attention to four exemplary Holocaust art films Korczak Poland 1990 The Quarrel Canada 1990 Entre Nous France 1983 and Balagan Germany 1994 this book breaks disciplinary ground by drawing critical connections between public and scholarly debates over Holocaust representation and the often sophisticated cinematic structures lending aesthetic shape to them in today's global arena Meaning in Our Bodies Heike Peckruhn, 2017 In Meaning in Our Bodies Heike Peckruhn argues that scholars who appeal to the importance of bodily experiences need to acquire a robust and nuanced understanding of how sensory perceptions and interactions are cultural and theological acts of making meaning Love's CONTAGION Roger Grainger, 2014-05 This is a book for people who believe in God Whatever religion we belong to or whatever branch of whatever religion just believing in God is enough to differentiate us from those who don't Not necessarily any better but different In a secular world we who believe ought not to concentrate on the things we disagree about but on this one most important thing that we have in common And in any case God's saving love is contagious which means it spreads out far beyond the barriers we erect in order to try to keep him to ourselves We may search for alternative things to worship but there is no real substitute Now is the time to face facts Do we believe in God Whether or not we do is crucial

To the Things Themselves Arvind Sharma, 2015-08-31 Since its founding by Jacques Waardenburg in 1971 Religion and Reason has been a leading forum for contributions on theories theoretical issues and agendas related to the phenomenon and the study of religion Topics include among others category formation comparison ethnophilosophy hermeneutics methodology myth phenomenology philosophy of science scientific atheism structuralism and theories of religion From time to time the series publishes volumes that map the state of the art and the history of the discipline International Eliade, The, Discourse in Dialogue Pat F. Rossi, 2014-07-24 Discourse in Dialogue Reflections in Fundamental Philosophical Theology is a project which considers fundamental theological and philosophical perspectives in Catholic Christian theology This project adumbrates a number of specifically intellectual themes namely philosophical and theological in character which pertain to the Catholic Christian tradition These themes include a study of the following the interrelationship of philosophy and theology theological method and pluralism the interpretation of scripture and its underlying hermeneutical principles Christian anthropology in relation to philosophy of the human person the Christological mystery and soteriology as well as the nature of Christian Philosophy all of which are representative themes proper to fundamental philosophical theology This work serves as an introductory text to the above cited questions while also providing more specific points of study for those interested in a more comprehensive reflection on contemporary philosophical and theological perspectives
