States in Armed Conflict, 2000

SIPRI Yearbook 2005 Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 2005 The 36th edition of the SIPRI Yearbook analyses developments in 2004 in Security and conflict, so Military spending and armaments, so Non proliferation, arms control and disarmament. The SIPRI Yearbook contains extensive annexes on the implementation of arms control and disarmament agreements and a chronology of events during the year in the area of security and arms control. Studies in this volume: Euro-Atlantic security, Major armed conflicts, Multilateral peace missions, Governing the use of force under international auspices, The greater Middle East, Latin America and the Caribbean, Environmental security, Financing security in a global context, Military expenditure, Arms production, International arms transfers, Arms control and the non proliferation process, Nuclear arms control and non proliferation, Chemical and biological weapon developments and arms control, Libya's renunciation of nuclear biological and chemical weapons and longer range missile programmes, Conventional arms control, International non proliferation and disarmament assistance, Multilateral export controls, The Proliferation Security Initiative. The annual accounts and analyses are extensively footnoted, providing a comprehensive bibliography in each subject area.

The Gulf War of 1980-1988 Iger F. Dekker, Harry H. G. Post, Nederlands Instituut voor Sociaal en Economisch Recht, 1992 This book deals with a number of the most important international legal aspects of the Gulf War of 1980-1988. To date, remarkably little attention has been paid to this war from the international legal perspective. However, the need to do so seems obvious. Many more States than the two belligerents have directly or indirectly become involved as a result, in particular of the extensive activities of the belligerent parties which were detrimental to the shipping of non-participating States. Furthermore, even if the hostilities have finally come to an end, the international community will still have to cope with the international legal aftermath for a prolonged period of time. After all, the Gulf War of 1980-1988 has placed certain matters which for a long time seemed to have lost their place of prominence at the centre of interest for international lawyers, notably the law of neutrality and some areas of the law of international armed conflict, particularly the rules regarding the conduct of war.

Advances in Reversal Theory M.J. Apter, J.H. Kerr, S. Murgatroyd, 1993-01-01 Explores some of the recent thinking in psychology along the lines that people are inherently inconsistent over time and that the differences within an individual are as important as the differences among individuals The 26 papers most presented at conferences since 1988 and many researchers have

Self-Determination, Terrorism and the International Humanitarian Law of Armed Conflict Elizabeth Chadwick, 2023-08-28 A preliminary definition of international terrorism was agreed by the world community in 1937 Since then a World War and the Cold War have made any such modern consensus impossible In particular the UN principles of equal rights and self determination of Peoples have caused political and juridical confusion in that liberation fighters who utilize terror methods as one tactic in an overall political strategy to achieve self determination are frequently termed terrorists and are prosecuted as such In order to regulate wars of self determination under international law and to control the means and methods of warfare utilized in them international humanitarian law IHL was extended in 1977 to include armed conflicts for the right to self determination as enshrined in the Declaration on Principles of International Law concerning Friendly Relations and Co operation among States in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations Thus acts of terrorism perpetrated during armed struggles for self determination are separable from random acts of international violence and when perpetrated by states or insurgent forces during wars of self determination may be prosecuted under IHL as war crimes However although states are obliged to seek out and prosecute the perpetrators of illicit acts of warfare they rarely do so Dr Chadwick argues that should IHL be fully utilized during wars of self determination if only for purposes of guidance the separability of illicit acts of war would enable the international community to reach consensus more easily in regard to a definition of terrorism in general and a coordination of efforts to deter its occurrence
