Exercises in Constructive Imagination Ermanno Bencivenga, 2001 Philosophy in this century has often self consciously presented itself as aiming at the destruction or deconstruction of the philosophical tradition or even of theorizing as such The basis for such self description may well be a deep seated anxiety about death but whatever its grounds the procession of distinguished intellectuals who seem mostly concerned with who gets to turn off the light on philosophy on his/her way out is one main reason why philosophy seems to have lost its grip on public opinion and public policy Which is ironical because there is often considerable constructive work going on under the pretence of all this destruction but the superficial rhetoric has more currency and impact than the substance of that work This book brings back the spirit of bold imaginative even outrageous theorizing into philosophy and contains a series of examples of it venturing playfully into quantum mechanics and political theory psychoanalysis and environmental ethics philosophy of language and sociology without any attempt at systematically exhausting these disparate fields but rather using them as suggestive excuses and arenas for the display of intellectual creativity There are numerous echoes among the various pieces and between them and other works by the same author but again these resonances are not systematized The result is more to be seen as a collection of snapshots of an intellectual landscape than as a hierarchical regimentation of it Borges and His Successors Edna Aizenberg, 1990 In the first book devoted to the impact made by Borges on the contemporary aesthetic imagination Aizenberg brings together specially commissioned essays from international scholars in a variety of disciplines to provide a wide ranging assessment of Borges's influence on the fiction literary theory and arts of our time Publishers website

PALOMARHERR PALOMAR, ITALIENISCHE AUSGABE Italo Calvino, 2010 Interstitial Writing Paolo Bartoloni, 2003 This book pushes literary theory into unexplored grounds to articulate the modern and contemporary condition of interstitiality through an innovative discussion of literary and philosophical underpinnings and interpretation of works by Calvino Caproni Sereni and Svevo It will appeal to Italianists and anyone studying Italian literature Biopolitical Animal Carlo Salzani, Felice Cimatti, 2024-11-30 The two issues around which this collection revolves are that it is impossible to address biopolitics without taking the animal question into account and that the animal question inherently concerns the politics of life beyond species barriers Although biopolitical theories are necessarily structured around animal metaphors they predominantly refer to human corporeality On the other hand the animal question is typically treated as an ethical issue that is a question of how human beings the dominant species ought to learn how to live peaceably with and respect other forms of life This collection of essays by leading scholars in the fields of biopolitics and animal studies problematises reconceptualises and redefines these categories in order to realise the full potential of the biopolitical framework of analysis in the context of animal studies and praxis

Postmodern/drama Stephen Watt,1998 Scrutinizing the critical tendency to label texts or writers as postmodern scholar Stephen Watt argues that reading post modernly merely implies reading culture more broadly In contemporary drama Watt considers postmodernity less a question of genre or media than a mode of subjectivity shared by both playwright and audience 6 illustrations

Transmissibility Jae Emerling,2023-08-17 This book examines transmissibility to remind us why the vitality and epistemic significance of an artwork is anachronistic and futural Transmissibility Writing Aesthetic History performs a transdisciplinary philosophy of aesthetic history via the work of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari Cy Twombly Marina Abramovi Paul Celan Cecil Taylor Italo Calvino Candida Höfer and others by focusing on the artistic and historiographic labor that differentiates artworks from other modes of creation

Beyond the People Zoran Oklopčič,2018-05-31 Beyond the People develops a provocative interdisciplinary and meta theoretical critique of the idea of popular sovereignty It asks simple but far reaching questions Can imagined communities or invented peoples ever be theorized without at the same time being re imagined and re invented anew Can polemical concepts such as popular sovereignty or constituent power be theorized objectively If as this book argues the answer to these questions is no theorists who approach the figure of a sovereign people must acknowledge that their activity is inseparable from the practice of constituent imagination Though widely accepted as important even vital for the development of political concepts the social practice of imagination is almost always presumed to operate either historically or impersonally but seldom individually Those who theorize the figures of popular sovereignty do not see that they are in effect conjurors of peoplehood This book invites constitutional international normative and other political and legal theorists of sovereign peoplehood to embrace the conjuring side of their professional identities as a way of exploring the possibility of moving beyond eternally recurring insolvable and increasingly irrelevant questions Instead of asking Who is the people What is the function of constituent power Where may the people exercise its right to self determination Beyond the People asks the reader to consider the prospect of a riskier and more adventurous theoretical road that opens with the question What do I as a theorist imaginer or conjuror of peoplehood assume anticipate and aspire to as I theorize the vehicles that mediate the assumptions anticipations and aspirations of others This question is examined throughout the book as it interrogates the idea of peoplehood beyond disciplinary boundaries showing how polemical visual affective conceptual and allegorical language critically shapes our idea of peoplehood It offers a nuanced account of the contested relationship between the social imaginary of peoplehood on the ground and the imaginative practices of the professional conjurors of peoplehood in the academy

Five Bay Landscapes Karen Lutsky, Sean Burkholder, 2022-12-06 Threatened by issues of environmental health climate change population growth and industrial demands the coastal zone of the Great Lakes reflects an increasingly dysfunctional relationship between the people of the basin and the resources that support them Perhaps no place is the physical manifestation of this struggle more evident than in the basin's shallow bays While many regional and local responses to these issues focus on methods of control Five Bay Landscapes argues that responses should begin with critical experiential and pluralistic understandings of place Through a series of five narratives each located on a bay within the Great Lakes the authors share their practice of curious site explorations These explorations both written and visual consider the nuances and systems of these shorelines along with the lessons these findings might offer for future design and planning interventions Using the Great Lakes as a context Five Bay Landscapes illuminates a dynamic and robust landscape system and establishes a series of methods for understanding analyzing and intervening within the changing landscape

The Measure of Times Past Donald J. Wilcox, 1987 In this extraordinary work Donald J Wilcox seeks to discover an approach to narrative and history consistent with the discontinuous relative time of the twentieth century He shows how our B C A D system intimately connected to Newtonian concepts of continuous objective and absolute time has affected our conception and experience of the past He demonstrates absolute time's centrality to modern historical methodologies and the problems it has created in the selection and interpretation of facts Inspired by contemporary fiction and Einsteinian concepts of relativity he concludes his analysis with a comparison of our system with earlier pre Newtonian time schemes to create a radical new critique of historical objectivity
