Losing My Virginity Richard Branson, 1999-10 Not long ago the Big Thicket of East Texas was still one of those places singular in its southernness like the Mississippi Delta or the Carolina Low Country Now its old timers and their ways are nearly gone They will not be forgotten though for in My Grandfather's Finger Edward Swift recalls a Big Thicket populated by family and friends as gloriously vibrant and enigmatic as the land itself From Camp Ruby to nearby Woodville and all the swamps bayous and forests in between Swift shows us a place and time so fecund with humor tragedy and good talk that in growing up there he had no choice but to become a novelist We meet among many others Mother a widowed war bride who would spring clean the inside of her house with a garden hose and Aunt Coleta childlike and always surrounded by an entourage of kids half enchanted by her and half scared witless Then there are Uncle Frank who with self fulfilling flair would have drawn a pistol at the merest suggestion that his family was dysfunctional and of course Grandfather who lost his finger to a machete and his mind to cough medicine A mystical world of carnivals talking fiddles houses on wheels atomic bombs and total immersion baptisms Edward Swift's Big Thicket was also a world in which he was loved unconditionally and that alone makes it worth getting to know      Losing My Virginity Richard Branson,2009 This is the bestselling autobiography of iconic entrepreneur Sir Richard Branson featuring his take on his latest business ventures personal achievements and intrepid adventures You ll discover how Sir Richard is committed to building a better world t

Intuition in Business Eugene Sadler-Smith, 2022-12-19 This book explores the science behind intuitive decision making in business and shows how people's innate capacity for intuition can be nurtured and strengthened to maximize performance. We are all familiar with those perplexing situations when we think we just know without knowing how or why we know. In professional life it might be the job candidate's CV that checks all the boxes but somehow doesn't stack up; should we perform some due diligence and dig a little deeper? In personal life it could be the apartment that we're looking to rent that just felt right the minute we walked through the front door; should we trust our hunch and grab it while we can? What if time is of the essence? What if there isn't any more data to be had in the time available? In this volume Eugene Sadler Smith examines why situations like these often leave us in a quandary and why these decisions so often leave us in two minds. He reveals that metaphorically speaking we have two minds in one brain: an analytical mind and an intuitive mind which sometimes come to quite different conclusions about what we ought to do in those consequential decisions that permeate our professional and personal lives. Rather than thinking of our intuitive and analytical minds in constant battle with each other, we might instead think of them as two information processing systems that have evolved to complement each other. The main idea of this book is that our analytical mind evolved to solve whilst our intuitive mind evolved to sense. Neither is infallible and our intuitions can be both flawed and marvellous at the same time. The author's clear and detailed explanation of the science behind intuition reveals how we can make intelligent use of our intuition to sense and solve our way through a world that is fast moving, complex and uncertain.
