Measurement, Chance and Data

Develop an essential survival kit for the use of the series as an intervention or 'fill-in' resource, as well as providing teachers with a ready resource covering all mathematical concepts through stimulating lesson plans and tasks.

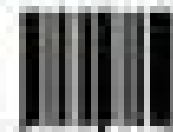

Work with pupils having difficulty to overcome a range of problems with that subject or topic. This intervention pack contains practical and experiential 'rescue' steps that will be tailored to support the most likely mathematical difficulties to appear. Each step includes strategies to extend students using additional problem-solving tasks and open-ended questions to encourage further exploration and problem-solving.

These ten topics have been selected for teachers to focus on during difficult times, and can be used as a whole class or individual intervention or as a resource for a range of mathematical strategies for the whole class. The pack also includes a full lesson plan with a DVD cover containing a complete lesson plan for the first topic of early years.

At a glance you will see which topics are most likely to be:

1. Common to many early years children (indicated by a red circle on the cover of the book).
2. Common to many early years children (indicated by a green circle on the cover of the book).
3. Common to many early years children (indicated by a blue circle on the cover of the book).
4. Common to many early years children (indicated by a yellow circle on the cover of the book).
