"Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France, 1789-1914" Heather Belnap Jensen, 2017-07-05 Focusing specifically on portraiture as a genre this volume challenges scholarly assumptions that regard interior spaces as uniquely feminine Contributors analyze portraits of men in domestic and studio spaces in France during the long nineteenth century the preponderance of such portraits alone supports the book's premise that the alignment of men with public life is oversimplified and more myth than reality The volume offers analysis of works by a mix of artists from familiar names such as David Delacroix Courbet Manet Rodin and Matisse to less well known image makers including Dominique Doncre Constance Mayer Anders Zorn and Lucien Etienne Melingue The essays cover a range of media from paintings and prints to photographs and sculpture that allows exploration of the relation between masculinity and interiority across the visual culture of the period The home and other interior spaces emerge from these studies as rich and complex locations for both masculine self expression and artistic creativity Interior Portraiture and Masculine Identity in France 1789-1914 provides a much needed rethinking of modern masculinity in this period Modern: Genius, Madness, and One Tumultuous Decade

That Changed Art Forever Philip Hook, 2022-04-19 A revelatory fast paced account of the most exciting frenzied and revolutionary decade in art history 1905 to the dawn of World War I in 1914 and the avant garde artists who indelibly changed our visual landscape Modern begins on a specific day March 22 1905 at a specific place the Salon des Indépendants in Paris where works of art we recognize as modern were first exhibited Drawing on his forty five year fine art career author Philip Hook illuminates how this new art came to be and how truly shocking it was With Hook's expert guidance we witness movement upon movement that burst forth in dizzying succession Fauvism Expressionism Primitivism Symbolism Cubism Futurism and Abstract art As Hook barnstorms across Europe to London Germany Moscow Scandinavia and everywhere modern art was being made his vivid accounts breathe new life into the work and times of Picasso Matisse Modigliani Kandinsky Malevich Klimt Schiele Munch and nearly two hundred other artists who painted sculpted and exhibited alongside them and whose collective genius was understood and appreciated by few at the time Hook reconsiders the decade from a series of fresh angles What was the conventional art against which Modernism sought to rebel Why were avant garde artists so self obsessed What persuaded a few bold collectors to buy difficult modern art And why did others pay so much money for Old Masters at the same time Modern helps us answer these questions and more and to see how avant garde artists marshaled their genius and oftentimes their madness to create works of such profound consequence they still reverberate today and which taken together made for a movement more influential than even the Renaissance The Fred Jones Jr. Museum of Art at the University of Oklahoma Eric McCauley Lee, 2004 This beautifully illustrated catalogue highlights 101 works of art from the Fred Jones Jr Museum of Art at the University of Oklahoma Combining full color reproductions with explanatory text the catalogue presents significant examples of Asian European American American Indian and contemporary art from the museum's permanent collection. For visitors to the museum and art aficionados these pages offer a tour of the museum's exceptional paintings, sculptures, works on paper, and photographs. Arranged in chronological and thematic sequence, the catalogue entries focus on single works each by a different artist. Authors Eric McCauley, Lee and Rima Canaan discuss the artists' backgrounds and analyze the featured works. Where appropriate, related objects in the collection appear as accompanying illustrations. The celebrated artists represented in the catalogue include Claude Monet, Pierre Auguste Renoir, Vincent van Gogh, Pablo Picasso, Edward Hopper, Georgia O'Keeffe, Allan Houser, and members of the Taos Society of Artists. Investigating Modern Art Liz Dawtrey, Elizabeth Dawtrey, Toby Jackson, Mary Masterton, Pam Meecham, Paul Wood, 1996-01-01. Modern art sometimes seems difficult or even impossible to understand. In this appealing book, modern art becomes accessible through clear and informative discussions about modern artists, art movements, and art works. Charting the development of modern art from the nineteenth century through the present day, each chapter focuses on particular artists and works of art, placing them in their artistic contexts and discussing them from a variety of viewpoints. Issues of gender and ethnicity, criticisms of the accepted canon of modern art, and important social and political influences on the institutions of art are woven into the discussion of key artists such as Picasso, Matisse, Pollock, and Warhol, and movements such as Cubism, Surrealism, Abstract Impressionism, and Minimal Art.

In Pursuit of Universalism Alicia Volk, 2010. Volk's impressive study rethinks the East-West binary often reiterated in discussions of Japanese modernism by reinserting local aspects into the universalizing tendencies of modernism itself. The book makes an important contribution to the growing literature on modern Japanese art history by providing an alternative comparative framework for understanding the global development of modernism that decenters Euro-America. Rigorously historical in her critique, Volk destabilizes our understanding of the Japanese experience of modernity through the prism of Yorozu's singular vision of the self, leaving us questioning conventional wisdom and contented to wobble. Jennifer Weisenfeld, Duke University.

In Volk's affecting, stunning, and deeply reflective study of the Japanese artist Yorozu Tetsugoro's work between 1910-1930, we have a profoundly historical reminder of how modernism everywhere struggled to meet the demands of the new with the readymades of received artistic practices. In this study of Yorozu's utopian universalist project, Volk has imaginatively broadened our understanding of the modernist moment and perceptively captured its global program to unify art and life, contemporary culture, and history.

All About Process Kim Grant, 2017-02-28 In recent years many prominent and successful artists have claimed that their primary concern is not the artwork they produce but the artistic process itself In this volume Kim Grant analyzes this idea and traces its historical roots showing how changing concepts of artistic process have played a dominant role in the development of modern and contemporary art This astute account of the ways in which process has been understood and addressed examines canonical artists such as Monet C zanne Matisse and De Kooning as well as philosophers and art theorists such as Henri Focillon R G Collingwood and John Dewey Placing process art within a larger historical context Grant looks at the changing relations of the artist's labor to traditional craftsmanship and industrial production the status of art as a commodity the increasing importance of the body and materiality in art making and the nature and significance of the artist's role in modern society In doing so she shows how process is an intrinsic part of aesthetic theory that connects to important contemporary debates about work craft and labor Comprehensive and insightful this synthetic study of process in modern and contemporary art reveals how artists' explicit engagement with the concept fits into a broader narrative of the significance of art in the industrial and postindustrial world
