5 crucial steps to implement the e-Learning technology

Implementing an e-Learning technology in your education infrastructure is a major step. More and more we need to find ways to make the classroom accessible to everyone. The need for online platforms is growing every month. Here's a nifty step-by-step process to implement e-Learning at your institute!

Step 1: Define Your Objectives

- Pure web-based teaching or blended learning
- How to boost recall and retention
- Does your tech infrastructure support it?
- Do your faculty and students show active support?

Step 2: Understand Your Scope

- Automate your assessment
- Old and new tools
- Educational units: Entire courses, seminars, particular lessons
- Online-exams or offline exams

Step 3: Choose the Right Software

- Select the right software to help you share your online courses
- Do you understand the steep learning curve/challenges?
- Will you require mobile support for smartphones and tablets users?

Step 4: Quality Assurance

- Are you able to convey your ideas concisely and clearly?
- Is there any misleading jargon?
- Do the lessons work well on all required devices?
- Does the technology support heavy multimedia content?

Step 5: Marketing Initiatives

- How will learners benefit from it?
- Will you send out newsletters or personal invitations?
- Do you place ads/announcements in front of your target audience?
- Do you stay in contact with your 'alumni' and are responsive to their queries?

The Internet for Molecular Biologists Clare E. Sansom, Robert M. Horton, 2004-01-29 The last few decades of the twentieth century will be remembered for two technological revolutions that have already had a profound effect on millions of people s lives Thanks to communication technologies and particularly the Internet we now take immediate access to enormous quantities of information for granted And thanks to the new biology building on the genome projects some scientists are predicting that cures for the majority of known diseases could be readily available within two generations These two revolutions are inextricably linked molecular biology depends on the ready availability of data and that needs computers and the Internet There are some surprising parallels between developments in the two technologies For example the publicly available gene sequence databases EMBL and GenBank are doubling in size approximately every eighteen months According to Moore s Law which has held since the invention of the silicon chip eighteen months is also the time frame in which computer power is expected to double This book aims to help the practitioners of the second revolution molecular biologists who are more at home at a laboratory bench than in front of a computer keyboard to use the technology of the first the Internet more effectively The Internet For Molecular Biologists A Practical Approach provides a broad introduction to using Internet based computing resources to support research in molecular biology After surveying the core databases and other online resources the focus shifts to tools and techniques for exploiting and authoring Internet distributed information Later chapters provide detailed examples of how technologies such as molecular visualisation VRML and XSLT can be applied to biological problems Administrative Notes ,1995

A Project Management Methodology for Multimedia Projects Stefan Hartweg,2002-05-17 Inhaltsangabe Abstract This paper tries to define a concept for managing multimedia projects efficiently and takes the suitability of existing methods into account Developing a valid solution makes it necessary to look at project management as a generic discipline first and then apply the results to the multimedia discipline Only then can we be sure that no important aspects of project management have been forgotten nor that existing and working strategies which could be applied to multimedia projects have been ignored This paper therefore defines project management and generally describes its areas of responsibility The question of whether project management is necessary and beneficial needs to be addressed as well After project management and the necessity to actively apply it in some form has been understood in general a specific focus on the existing information for multimedia project management will be undertaken It will become apparent that different viewpoints exist as to whether multimedia project management should apply project management methods of related industry areas such as software development This will justify the need to compare multimedia projects with software development projects After having gained an insight into project management as well as the characteristics of multimedia projects it is possible to determine the demands that a project management method needs to be able to meet to successfully manage multimedia projects It would be beyond the scope of this thesis to analyse every existing method Instead one method will be analysed as an example The useful aspects of the analysed method will be identified along with its shortfalls in relation to multimedia development Finally recommendations on how the shortfalls could be corrected will be made so that a project manager will be able to use the examined method specifically suited to multimedia projects Inhaltsverzeichnis Table of Contents 1 Preface7 2 Introduction9 2 1The Topic of this Thesis9 2 2Hypotheses and Findings12 2 3Definition of Multimedia14 2 4Types of Multimedia Products16 2 4 1Forms of Delivery16 2 4 2Categories of Multimedia Products18 2 4 3Conclusion20 2 5Project Management Definitions21 2 5 1Project and Project Management21 2 5 2Project Stakeholders22 2 5 3Project Methodology Methods and Processes22 3 The Historical Development of Project Management25 3 1The Philosophy of Ancient Project Management25 3 2The National Library of Medicine Programs and Services National Library of Medicine (U.S.),National Library of Medicine (U.S.),2000
