Patterns Four Television Plays:

Patterns Rod Serling, 1957 Rod Serling was the television industry's original show runner His screenplay Patterns aired on January 12 1955 launched his career Within hours Jack Gould of the New York Times wrote Nothing in months has excited the television industry as much as the Kraft Television Theatre's production of Patterns an original play by Rod Serling The enthusiasm is justified In writing acting and direction Patterns will stand as one of the high points in the TV medium's evolution An overnight success Serling immediately found himself in the company of the Golden Age of Television's elite writers including Paddy Chayefsky Reginald Rose and Gore Vidal and the recipient of his first of six Emmy awards Serling would later write a semi autobiographical screenplay The Velvet Alley describing such a meteoric rise to fame and success Patterns the book was Serling's first foray into the world of publishing What is invaluable is not merely the actual screenplays but Serling's comments on each and his twenty five plus page dissertation on writing for television during its Golden Age What is different about this new edition is Mark Dawidziak's insightful forward explaining the relevance of Patterns to Serling's prolific body of work Given Serling's dissertation and Dawidziak's analysis it is worth repeating that this is without question REQUIRED READING for anyone involved in the creation of intelligent television Patterns Rod Serling, 1958

American Literature in Transition, 1950-1960 Steven Belletto, 2017-12-28 American Literature in Transition 1950-1960 explores the under recognized complexity and variety of 1950s American literature by focalizing discussions through a series of keywords and formats that encourage readers to draw fresh connections among literary form and concepts institutions cultures and social phenomena important to the decade The first section draws attention to the relationship between literature and cultural phenomena that were new to the 1950s The second section demonstrates the range of subject positions important in the 1950s but still not visible in many accounts of the era The third section explores key literary schools or movements associated with the decade and explains how and why they developed at this particular cultural moment The final section focuses on specific forms or genres that grew to special prominence during the 1950s Taken together the chapters in the four sections not only encourage us to rethink familiar texts and figures in new lights but they also propose new archives for future study of the decade A Critical History of Television's The Twilight Zone, 1959-1964

Don Presnell, Marty McGee, 2015-07-11 Rod Serling's anthology series The Twilight Zone is recognized as one of the greatest television shows of all time Always intelligent and thought provoking the show used the conventions of several genres to explore such universal qualities as violence fear prejudice love death and individual identity This comprehensive reference work gives a complete history of the show from its beginning in 1959 to its final 1964 season with critical commentaries incisive analyses and the most complete listing of casts and credits ever published Biographical profiles of writers and contributors are included followed by detailed appendices bibliography and index The Warsaw Ghetto in American Art and Culture Samantha Baskind, 2018-02-28 On the eve of Passover April 19 1943 Jews in the Warsaw Ghetto staged a now legendary revolt against their Nazi oppressors Since that day the deprivation and despair of life in the ghetto and the dramatic uprising of its inhabitants have captured the American cultural imagination The Warsaw Ghetto in American Art and Culture looks at how this place and its story have been remembered in fine art film television radio theater fiction poetry and comics Samantha Baskind explores seventy years worth of artistic representations of the ghetto and revolt to understand why they became and remain touchstones in the American mind Her study includes iconic works such as Leon Uris s best selling novel Mila 18 Roman Polanski s Academy Award winning film The Pianist and Rod Serling s teleplay In the Presence of Mine Enemies as well as accounts in the American Jewish Yearbook and the New York Times the art of Samuel Bak and Arthur Szyk and the poetry of Yala Korwin and Charles Reznikoff In probing these works Baskind pursues key questions of Jewish identity What links artistic representations of the ghetto to the Jewish diaspora How is art politicized or depoliticized Why have Americans made such a strong cultural claim on the uprising Vibrantly illustrated and vividly told The Warsaw Ghetto in American Art and Culture shows the importance of the ghetto as a site of memory and creative struggle and reveals how this seminal event and locale served as a staging ground for the forging of Jewish American identity
