Paurava And Alexander:

Paurava And Alexander SUBBA RAO,1971-04-01 When Alexander the great Macedonian conqueror invaded India in 327 B C the various kingdoms and republics of the North West failed to forge a united front against the common enemy Some rulers like Ambhi submitted without resistance while others like Paurava and the chief of Massaga refused to bow to Alexander even when defeat seemed certain Although Alexander met his match in King Paurava he managed to overpower him Alexander was also helped by the weather the heavy rain on the day before the battle had made the earth wet so that Paurava's able archers found it difficult to rest their bows on the slippery ground Nineteen Greek writers who either accompanied Alexander or visited India soon after the invasion wrote accounts of Alexander's march Based on these early records Arrian 1st century A D wrote his biography of the Macedonian conqueror This and other works by Curtius Diodoros Plutarch and Justin describe Alexander's invasion but there is no detailed Indian source to which we can turn It is therefore difficult to trace Alexander's movements in India with precision or to identify the tribes he encountered in the course of his arduous march

Pre-Modern Warfare Kaushik Roy, 2021-09-14 This book examines the military histories of the regions beyond Western Europe in the pre modern era Existing works on global military history mainly focus on the western part of Eurasia after 1500 CE As regards the ancient period such works concentrate exclusively on Greece and Rome So global military history is actually the triumphal story of the West from Classical Greece onwards This volume focuses not only on the eastern part of Eurasia but also on South America Africa and Australasia and seeks to explain the history and varied trajectories of warfare in non Western regions in the pre modern era Further it evaluates whether warfare in non Western regions should be considered primitive or inferior when compared with Western warfare The book notes that Western Europe became militarily significant only in the early modern era and argues that the military divergence that occurred during the early modern era is not unique it had also occurred in the Bronze Age the Classical era and in the medieval period This was due to the dynamism and innovativeness of non Western militaries and the interconnectedness that existed in parts of the Eurasian landmass Further those polities which were able to construct a balanced military force by synthesising diverse elements were not only able to survive but also became capable of projecting power across continents This book will be of much interest to students of military history strategic studies and world history
