

The succeeding activities are all about graphical solutions of systems of linear inequalities in two variables. Before the students perform these activities, let them read and understand some important notes on the graphical solutions of systems of linear inequalities in two variables. Tell them to study carefully the examples given.

Teacher's Note and Reminders

Solution: Let x = number of children in the bus y = number of adults in the bus

Represent the number of people in the bus as $x + y \leq 56$.

Represent the amount collected as $80x + 100y \leq 4,800$.

Use the two inequalities to find the number of children and adults who are in the bus. Write these as a system of linear inequalities then solve

The region where the shadings overlap is the graph of the solution to the system. Consider any point in this shaded region then substitute its coordinates in the system to check.

Consider the point whose coordinates are (20; 30). Check this against the inequalities $x + y \leq 56$ and $80x + 100y \leq 4,800$.

If $x = 20$ and $y = 30$, then $20 + 30 \leq 56$. The first inequality is satisfied.
