A Matter of the Heart Paul Quenon, OCSO, 2024-09-10 A contemplative monk's musings on living a useless life Brother Paul bears witness of being keenly aware that every aspect of his monastic vocation has been carefully crafted to nurture and protect the contemplative way of life in which one is called to seek and to find and give oneself to God who is wholly poured out and given to us in the gift of life itself James Finley author of The Healing Path In the spirit of Thomas Merton's The Sign of Jonas come five decades of life at the Abbey of Gethsemani in Kentucky from the private journals of one of Merton's former novices Brother Paul Quenon Readers are introduced to multiple aspects the inwards and outwards of a monk's life Reflections meditations insights and wanderings are mingled with outward experiences in nature community and sketches of monks saintly comical or strange poetic moments Remarks are made on world events seen from a local and momentary perspective such as the war in Iraq or the end of the war in Vietnam Private discoveries of animal behavior and magical locations for prayer are experienced with wonder No daily chronology is followed but entries are arranged from the 1970s to the 2000s according to the decade they occurred in including the visit of the Dalai Lama and other occasions when this contemplative's life has intersected with spiritual teachers outside the monastery Overall a multi colored diverse and surprising display of what it is like to live an enclosed life

A Matter of the Heart T. D. Burns, 2004 While recovering from a heart transplant a strange dream kept returning Bob Hunter found himself once again on a small lobster boat bobbing up and down in the ocean in front of a beautiful lighthouse he had never seen before A number of colorful lobster floats and a stack of lobster traps were on the boat in front of him Waves crashing and exploding against a rocky shore in front of the lighthouse sending giant sprays of white foam into the air A girl in a white dress was standing on a rocky ledge to the left of the lighthouse and waving He knew that somehow she was waving at him As the sequence of dreams returned he would find himself walking up to her as she opened her arms to greet him She was one of the most beautiful girls he had ever seen Her long auburn hair and white dress were gently flowing in the breeze off of the ocean He would always wake up just as he approached Over a period of time he developed an unexplainable and obsessive love for her even though he knew she could not possibly be real Bob Hunter was an artist and a naturalist and painted a picture of both the lighthouse and the girl in his dreams A new acquaintance saw the painting of the lighthouse and told him it was real as she had visited and photographed the same lighthouse She encouraged him to travel to the area to see if he could find a reason for his dreams The dreams had no rhyme or reason Bob had never seen a lobster boat and could not believe that the lighthouse in his dreams actually existed The only way he could rid himself of these dreams was to follow his friend's suggestion and travel to the lighthouse and begin a search for the lady of his dreams

The Heart of the Matter Arthur Green, 2015-04-01 Judaism like all the great religions has a strand within it that sees inward devotion as an opening of the human heart to God's presence This voice is not always easy to hear in a tradition where so much attention is devoted to the how rather than the why of religious living The devotional claim certainly a key part of Judaism's biblical heritage has reasserted itself in the teachings of individual mystics and in the emergence of religious movements over the long course of Jewish history This volume represents Rabbi Arthur Green's own quest for such a Judaism both as a scholar and as a contemporary seeker This collection of essays brings together Green's scholarly writings centered on the history of early Hasidism and his highly personal approach to a rebirth of Jewish spirituality in our own day In choosing to present them in this way he asserts a claim that they are all of a piece They represent one man's attempt to wade through history and text language and symbol an array of voices both past and present while always focusing on the essential question What does it mean to be a religious human being and what does Judaism teach us about it This the author considers to be the heart of the matter Publisher's description
