Pathologies Of Power Health Human Rights And The New War On The Poor:

Pathologies of Power Paul Farmer, 2005 Pathologies of Power uses harrowing stories of life and death to argue that the promotion of social and economic rights of the poor is the most important human rights struggle of our times

Pathologies of Power Paul Farmer, 2003 Human Rights Albert A. Zinnos, 2007 Human rights refers to the concept of human beings as having universal rights or status regardless of legal jurisdiction and likewise other localising factors such as ethnicity and nationality For many the concept of human rights is based in religious principles However because a formal concept of human rights has not been universally accepted the term has some degree of variance between its use in different local jurisdictions difference in both meaningful substance as well as in protocols for and styles of application Ultimately the most general meaning of the term is one which can only apply universally and hence the term human rights is often itself an appeal to such transcended principles without basing such on existing legal concepts The term humanism refers to the developing doctrine of such universally applicable values and it is on the basic concept that human beings have innate rights that more specific local legal concepts are often based Within particular societies human rights refers to standards of behaviour as accepted within their respective legal systems regarding 1 the well being of individuals 2 the freedom and autonomy of individuals and 3 the representation of the human interest in government These rights commonly include the right to life the right to an adequate standard of living the prohibition of genocide freedom from torture and other mistreatment freedom of expression freedom of movement the right to self determination the right to education and the right to participation in cultural and political life These norms are based on the legal and political traditions of United Nations member states and are incorporated into international human rights instruments This new book brings together the latest book literature centred on this crucial topic Global Issues John L. Seitz, Kristen A. Hite, 2011-12-05 Extensively revised and updated the new Fourth Edition of Global Issues An Introduction offers a unique approach to the most important environmental economic social and political concerns of modern life Revised and updated to reflect the latest global developments Examines the most important environmental economic social and political concerns of modern life The only book of its kind to use the concept of development to illustrate how different global issues are interrelated Includes a new section on nuclear energy Chapter boxes examine ways that individuals can have a positive impact on the issues examined within the text Key features include a glossary of terms guides to further reading media and Internet resources and suggestions for discussing and studying the material America in the World Frank Costigliola, Michael J. Hogan, 2013-12-23 This volume includes historiographical surveys of American foreign relations since 1941 by some of the country's leading historians Some of the essays offer sweeping overviews of the major trends in the field of foreign international relations history Others survey the literature on US relations with particular regions of the world or on the foreign policies of presidential administrations The result is a comprehensive assessment of the historical literature on US foreign policy that highlights recent developments in the field Communicating Social Change Mohan J.

Dutta,2011-05-10 Communicating Social Change describes the social challenges that exist in current globalization politics and examines the communicative processes strategies and tactics through which social change interventions are constituted in response to the challenges Irregular Migrants and the Right to Health Stefano Angeleri,2022-08-04 In our globalised world where inequality is deepening and migration movements are increasing states continue to maintain strong regulatory control over immigration health and social policies Arguments based on state sovereignty can be employed to differentiate irregular migrants from other groups and reduce their right to physical and mental health to the provision of emergency medical care even where resources are available Drawing on the enabling and constraining factors of human rights law and public health this book explores the scope and limits of the right to health of migrants in irregular situations in international and European human rights law Addressing these peoples health solely with an exceptional medical paradigm is inconsistent with the special attention granted to people in vulnerable situations and non discrimination in human rights the emerging rights based approach to disability the social priorities of public health and the interdependence of human rights Lost in the Long Transition William L. Alexander,2009-09-24 In Lost in the Long Transition a group of scholars who conducted fieldwork research in post dictatorship Chile during the transition to democracy critically examine the effects of the country's adherence to neoliberal economic development and social policies Shifting government responsibility for social services and public resources to the private sector reducing restrictions on foreign investment and promoting free trade and export production neoliberalism began during the Pinochet dictatorship and was adopted across Latin America in the 1980s With the return of civilian government the pursuit of justice and equity worked alongside a pact of compromise and an economic model that brought prosperity for some entrenched poverty for others and social consequences for all The authors who come from the disciplines of cultural anthropology history political science and geography focus their research perspectives on issues including privatization of water rights in arid lands tuberculosis and the public health crisis labor strikes and the changing role of unions the environmental and cultural impacts of export development initiatives on small scale fishing communities natural resource conservation in the private sector the political ecology of copper the fight for affordable housing homelessness and citizenship rights under the judicial system and the gender experiences of returned exiles In the years leading up to the global financial meltdown of 2008 many Latin American governments responding to inequities at home and attempting to pull themselves out of debt dependency moved away from the Chilean model This book examines the social costs of that model and the growing resistance to neoliberalism in Chile providing ethnographic details of the struggles of those excluded from its benefits This research offers a look at the lives of those whose stories may have otherwise been Lost in the Long Transition Human Rights and the Body Annabelle Mooney,2016-05-13 Human Rights and the Body is a response to the crisis in human rights to the very real concern that without a secure foundation for the concept of human rights their very existence is threatened While there has been consideration of the discourses of human rights and the way in which the body is written upon research in linguistics has not yet been fully brought to bear on either human rights or the body Drawing on legal concepts and aspects of the law of human rights Mooney aims to provide a universally defensible set of human rights and a foundation or rather a frame for them She argues that the proper frames for human rights are firstly the human body seen as an index reliant on the natural world secondly the globe and finally language These three frames generate rights to food water sleep and shelter environmental protection and a right against dehumanization This book is essential reading for researchers and graduate students in the fields of human rights and semiotics of law Transcultural

Health and Social Care Irena Papadopoulos, 2006-05-11 This title is directed primarily towards health care professionals outside of the United States It communicates current evidence based knowledge in the area of transcultural care and meets the needs of health and social care practitioners who must change their practices to comply with national policies and the expectations of a multicultural public Provides research based information on culturally competent care of vital importance to all health and social workers in multi cultural communities Covers issues and user groups not covered by other publications Couches UK issues within a European and global perspective
