Patterns From China:

Leadership Pattern in China Purushottam Prabhakar,1968

Theodore Moran,2010-07-15 The rapid emergence of China as a major industrial power poses a complex challenge for global resource markets Backed by the Chinese government Chinese companies have been acquiring equity stakes in natural resource companies extending loans to mining and petroleum investors and writing long term procurement contracts for oil and minerals These activities have aroused concern that China might be locking up natural resource supplies gaining preferential access to available output and extending control over the world s extractive industries On the demand side Chinese appetite for vast amounts of energy and minerals puts tremendous strain on the international supply system On the supply side Chinese efforts to procure raw materials can either exacerbate or help solve the problems of high demand Evidence from the 16 largest Chinese natural resource procurement arrangements shows that Chinese efforts like Japanese deployments of capital and purchase agreements in the late 1970s through the 1980s fall predominantly into categories that help expand diversify and make more competitive the global supplier system Investigation of smaller projects indicates the 16 largest do not suffer from selection bias However Chinese attempts to exercise control over mining of rare earth elements may constitute a significant exception The investigative focus of this analysis is deliberately narrow and precise assessing the impact of Chinese resource procurement on the structure of the global supply base The broader policy discussion in the concluding chapter raises other separate important issues including the impact of Chinese resource procurement on rogue states on authoritarian leadership on civil wars on corrupt payments and the deterioration of governance standards and on environmental damage Such effects may make patterns of Chinese resource procurement objectionable on grounds quite apart from the debate about possible control of access on the part of China and Chinese companies Africa and China

Aleksandra W. Gadzala,2015-09-03 The China Africa relationship has so far largely been depicted as one in which the Chinese state and Chinese entrepreneurs control the agenda with Africans and their governments as passive actors exercising little or no agency This volume examines the African side of the relation to show how African state and non state actors increasingly influence the China Africa partnership and in so doing begin to shape their economic and political futures The influx of public and private sector Chinese actors across the African continent has led to a rise of opportunities and challenges which the volume sets out to examine With case studies from Nigeria Angola Kenya South Africa Ethiopia and Zambia and across the technology natural resource manufacturing and financial sectors it shows not only how African realities shape Chinese actions but also how African governments and entrepreneurs are learning to leverage their competitive advantages and to negotiate the growing Chinese presence across the continent Understanding China John

Bryan Starr,2001-03-14 Derived from a course on contemporary Chinese politics taught at Yale where he was head of Yale s China Association Starr is now director of the Annenberg Institute for School Reform at Brown U this revised edition of the 1997 text offers an overview of the geography political systems power structure and economic makeup of China before turning to problem areas such as environmental pollution ethnic separatism population growth urban and rural concerns China's relations with Taiwan Hong Kong and Macao and its broader economic political and strategic relations round out this study which is supplemented with maps and tables Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR China's Search for 'National Rejuvenation' Jabin T. Jacob, The Anh Hoang, 2020-06-24 This volume discusses a range of key domestic forces driving the current Chinese growth ranging from economic reforms to governance practices to analyze their impact and influence at home as well as on China's foreign and security policies in its near and extended neighbourhood At the same time the volume also looks at specific themes like technology agricultural development reform of state owned enterprises and the use of Party bodies to engage in foreign propaganda work among other things to offer examples of the merging of Chinese domestic political and foreign policy interests In the process the book offers its readers a better idea of China's place in the world as the Chinese themselves see it and the implications over time for China its neighbourhood and the wider world

China's Vertical Multilateralism and the Global South Dominik Mierzejewski, Jarosław Jura, Bartosz Kowalski, Mario Esteban, 2025-10-21 This book provides an in depth analysis of China led multilateralism and decodes China's narratives and political and business practices both from theoretical and practical dimensions Introducing the mechanisms that govern China led multilateral formats in what China sees as the Global South the study offers a comparative analysis and checks whether China uses a one size fits all strategy towards the selected case study formats and adopts a more differentiated regional approach The case studies cover the following China led multilateral formats China ASEAN Forum on China Africa Cooperation FOCAC China Central and Eastern Europe and China CELAC The authors introduce four primary practices of China's management of relations within these platforms executing discursive power cultivating elite diplomacy influencing public opinion and navigating economic interactions to illustrate the bilateral and informal nature of China led multilateralism practices They argue that the bilateral approach is driven by China's will to keep its paramount position within the formats and its pursuit to exploit the divisions among countries in these formats Moreover China's relations with the Global South community are governed by informal networks that give the impression of non interference and position China as the principal power due to these relationships inherent asymmetry Cognizant of bilateral and informal drivers of China's multilateral practices the book compares China's relations with selected case studies of countries under the multilateral umbrella Brazil Cambodia Chile Kenya Poland Serbia South Africa and Thailand It considers the growing tensions between China and the West surrounding the crisis of the COVID 19 pandemic the centralisation of power in China and the Russian war in Ukraine Shedding light on China's policies and practices on bilateral and multilateral levels this book will be of interest to researchers studying International Relations Asian Politics the politics of the Global South and Chinese Studies House Furnishing Review ,1928 Crockery and Glass Journal ,1913 Climate and Environmental Change in China: 1951-2012 Dahe Qin, Yongjian Ding, Mu Mu, 2015-11-06 Through numerous color figures and tables this book presents the most up to date knowledge on climate and environmental change in China. It documents the evidence and attribution of climate and environmental changes in the past few decades and discusses the impacts of climate change on environments, economy and society. The book further provides projections of climate change and its impacts in the future. Finally, it offers the climate change mitigation and adaptation technologies with strategic options which will be of interest for policy makers, researchers and the general public as well.

Globalisation Impacts Amitendu Palit, 2022-01-04 The book reviews globalisation by identifying causes behind the discontent it has produced in recent years. It variously engages in economics, political economy, development and policy discourses to study experiences of countries and institutions in managing and adjusting to globalisation. Extending the analysis to latest global developments including the remarkable advance of technology and digitalisation and political and economic upheavals caused by COVID-19, the book collects varied academic perspectives and reflects on the present as well as the future. Comprising chapters written by distinguished academics and policy experts, the book is a rare collection of cross-disciplinary, objective evaluations of globalisation.
