

Paul's Letter to the Philippians

Daily notes for reflection and prayer

Introduction

Paul's letter to the church in Philippi was written when he was in prison, and its context of enforced separation and care for those who are at a distance has some similarities with our current situation. It is thought that his imprisonment was in Ephesus (on the coast of what is now Turkey), and the journey between there and Philippi (in modern Greece) would have taken a little over a week (see map below). Paul had founded the church in Philippi (read Acts chapter 16 if you want to know more) and had great affection for them. They had often been generous in giving money and material help to support Paul and other churches, and on this occasion they had sent one of their members, Epaphroditus, with material gifts to Paul in prison and also to stay with Paul to help him for a while. Epaphroditus had fallen ill while with Paul. Paul was now sending him back to Philippi to reunite him with his church, taking with him this letter in which Paul thanks them for their care and gives some Christian teaching and encouragement.
