Paulus Und Barnabas In Der Provinz Galatien Studien Zu Apostelgeschichte

Roger T. Beckwith

Paulus Und Barnabas In Der Provinz Galatien Studien Zu Apostelgeschichte:

Dreams and Dream Reports in the Writings of Josephus Gnuse, 2018-07-17 This volume analyzes the understanding of dreams and the corresponding literary forms used by Josephus in his writings. Josephus reports dreams as either auditory message dreams, symbolic visual dreams, or dream image appearances. In this regard, he uses the format for auditory and visual dreams found in ancient Near Eastern and biblical texts, while his dream image appearance reports show familiarity with traditional Greek modes of reporting dreams. Close attention is given to the following topics: 1. the development of dream reports in the ancient Near East, the Bible, and the Hellenistic world; 2. Josephus' views on dreams and prophecy; 3. a formal critical assessment of Josephus' dream reports; and 4. an evaluation of Josephus' dream reports which exhibit a more complex traditional historical development.

Wrestling with Angels Kevin Sullivan, 2018-12-10 This monograph explores the relationship between angels and humans during the late Second Temple and early Christian period (200 BCE–100 CE). The issue of the similarity of appearance between humans and angels is considered in the first part of the book. In the second part, three topics are covered: humans and angels living together in communities; angels as recipients of human hospitality; and the possibility of human angel hybrid offspring. This study provides insight into how the ancient Jews and Christians defined angel and it argues that a clear distinction was maintained between angels and humans. These analyses have implications for our understanding of nascent Christology as well as soteriology and also for our understanding of early Jewish Mysticism.

Mine and Yours are Hers Ilan, 2018-12-10 This book discusses the interaction between history, rabbinic literature, and feminist studies. Recent approaches to rabbinic literature have overturned the traditional view of these writings, and new literary methods were suggested, mostly denying them all historical value. But rabbinic literature constitutes the main source for the lives of Jews in Palestine and Babylonia during the late Roman period and thus should not be totally rejected. This study suggests a new post-literary approach, i.e., it discusses the residue of the texts after these have been analyzed and dissected by literary critics. But mainly, this is a book about women's history, adopting many assumptions of feminist criticism about the androcentric nature of all ancient texts and approaches them with due suspicion. The Rabbis treated women differently from the way they treated men. This resulted in the former's marginalization and manipulation by the texts. On the other hand, however, it created an ironic situation whereby principles useful for the recovery of historical information on women are useless when applied to men. This study describes such principles and demonstrates them with the help of many examples.

Hebrew Poetry from Late Antiquity Wout van Bekkum, 2018-12-10 The discovery of the Genizah manuscript collection is nothing less than a revolution for the knowledge of Hebrew literature and Jewish culture in Late Antiquity and the Middle Ages. One of the main results of one hundred years of Genizah research is the rediscovery of Hebrew liturgical poetry, which shed much light on various aspects of Jewish studies. For the last half century, it has been almost commonplace to discover new poems, unknown poets, novel uses of poetry, and unfamiliar poetic versions of familiar prose texts within liturgical settings being revealed among the manuscripts and manuscript fragments The products of the composers and reciters of synagogue poetry convincingly demonstrate the importance of poetry in Jewish worship and communal life The major corpora of Palestinian liturgical poetry bear evidence to the prolific literary activity of a number of famous poets who laid the foundations for the development of Hebrew poetry in later periods Yossi ben Yossi Yannai Simon bar Megas Elazar birabbi Kilir and Yohanan ha Kohen One of these mostly Byzantine Jewish melodists was Yehudah who composed a cycle of poems in accordance with the reading tradition of the Pentateuch and Prophets on the sabbath This study presents Yehudah's oeuvre with commentaries and deals with its historical and literary context in four introductory chapters The edition is complemented by indices and a bibliography

The Spirit in First Century Judaism Levison, 2018-12-10 Conceptions of the divine spirit underwent complex metamorphoses in Jewish biblical interpretation during the Greco Roman era This monograph explores those permutations in the writings of Philo Judaeus Josephus and Pseudo Philo Liber Antiquitatum Biblicarum The first section An Anomalous Prophet unfolds surprisingly divergent transformations of the inspiration of Balaam The second section An Eclectic Era unearths both faint and conspicuous traces of Greco Roman conceptions in early Jewish interpretations The third section An Extraordinary Mind undermines the view that the spirit was associated primarily with ecstasy rather than with intellectual insight By analyzing these interpretations in light of other contemporary Greco Roman and Jewish writings this volume offers original and essential data for further study of inspiration in Antiquity including early Judaism early Christianity and the Greco Roman world This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details

Angelomorphic Christology Gieschen, 2018-07-17 This study demonstrates that angel and angel related traditions especially those growing from the so called Angel of the Lord in the Hebrew Bible had a significant impact on the origins and early development of Christology to the point that an Angelomorphic Christology is discernable in several first century texts Significant effort is given to tracing the antecedents of this Christology in the angels and divine hypostases of the Hebrew Bible and Second Temple Jewish literature The primary content of this volume is the presentation of pre 150 CE textual evidence of Angelomorphic Christology This religio historical study does not spawn a new Christology among the many scholarly Christologies already extant Instead it shows the interrelationship of various Christological trajectories and their adaptation from Jewish angelomorphic traditions

Calendar and Chronology, Jewish and Christian

Roger T. Beckwith, 2018-11-26 Judaism and Christianity are both religions of history and remembrance and rely on calendars and accurate chronologies to recall and reenact the signal events in their histories The import of dividing the day and night of knowing the moment of Sabbath and Lord's Day of properly timing Passover and Easter cannot be overstated Throughout the history of both religions these issues were central to worship and practice of religion and had far reaching effects from messianism to prophecy But their very centrality meant they were issues of controversy and debate Roger Beckwith looks carefully at the Jewish and Christian records concerning calendar and chronology compares contrasts and challenges rival solutions to these complex questions His breath of research from the ancient Near East to Qumran from Josephus and Philo to the Maccabean writings and from the points of view of Paul and Jesus to the Fathers of the church and his focus on the more controversial issues of dating make Calendar and Chronology an essential book for any serious scholar of history liturgy worship and interpretation This publication has also been published in paperback please click here for details The Ancient Synagogue from its Origins to 200 C.E. Anders Runesson,Donald Binder,Birger Olsson,2007-12-01 Despite the recent explosion of research on ancient synagogues investigators in the field have hitherto been forced to cull relevant evidence from a vast assortment of scholarly publications This volume gathers for the first time all of the primary source material on the early synagogues up through the Second Century C E In the case of literary epigraphic and papyrological evidence catalog entries contain the texts in their original language and in English translation For archaeological remains entries provide technical descriptions along with plans and photographs All listings are accompanied by bibliographic citations and interpretative comments An Introduction frames the current state of synagogue research while extensive indices and cross references allow for easy location of specific allusions An appendix to the catalog contains source materials on Jewish temples outside of Jerusalem The Zondervan Encyclopedia of the Bible, Volume 4 Merrill C.
