Manuscript Painting At The Court Of France:

Manuscript Painting at the Court of France François Avril, 1978 Fourteenth century French manuscripts have been characterized as being striking examples of varied fluid styles expressive of narrative and enhanced by light and delicate modelling. Incidental drolleries often show a direct and tender observation of the natural characteristics of birds, beasts, insects and flowers. In a number of the major manuscripts we find an intriguing new feature: the figures are no longer painted in full color as is the rest of the miniature but are portrayed in pale semi-lucent monochrome or grisaille. The color abstraction of such miniatures makes for a distinct decorative harmony between picture and script which could never exist between black lettering and miniatures painted in full color. François Avril of the Bibliothèque nationale in Paris has selected and described the individual folios reproduced from these masterworks. Quatri me de couverture Manuscript Painting at the Court of France François Avril, 1978 Manuscript Painting at the Court of France François Avril (sec. 20.-21., bibliotecario.), 1978 Insights and Interpretations Colum Hourihane, 2002 Established in 1917 the Index of Christian Art located at Princeton University is now the largest archive of medieval art in existence and the most specialized resource for the iconographer. Throughout its eighty-five years it has justly been recognized as one of the most learned institutions for the study of the art and culture of the medieval world. The essays in this book all by staff or scholars of the archive highlight some of the current research in the archive and the scholarship for which it has been widely renowned. The studies cover art from the Late Antique period to the end of the fifteenth century and include most of the media represented in the archive from manuscripts to sculpture to glass. From reinterpreting previous scholarship to making new insights into the medieval mind they explore such themes as Jephtha's Daughter, Mary Magdalene, Saints Blaise, Paul, Joseph and Elisabeth of Hungary and topics including women in the Bibles moralisées, Late German sermons, the iconographic program at Bourges Cathedral, Franciscan devotional art and a late medieval Islamic manuscript. This volume presents some of the most exciting and interdisciplinary approaches to the study of these subjects from the home of medieval iconography in Princeton. The contributors are Adelaide Bennett, Lois Drewer, Ivan Great, Judith Golden, Gerald Guest, Margaret Jennings, Margaret Lindsey, Mika Natif, Lynn Ransom, Pamela Sheingorn and A. E. Wright. The Making of the Bibles Moralises: Volume I: The Manuscripts, Medieval Manuscripts and Their Provenance A. S. G. Edwards, 2024-07-02 Essays about the creation, circulation and collection of medieval manuscripts. The essays collected here celebrate the work of Barbara Shailor, the distinguished scholar of medieval manuscripts. They explore various aspects of their provenance. The subjects addressed range from studies of the history of individual manuscripts to the evidence afforded by the understanding of their textual traditions to the significance of the identification of fragments to the roles of individual scholars and collectors. As a whole the volume contributes to a wider understanding of how the history and ownership of medieval manuscripts can be fruitfully examined, a flourishing area of interest in the field. Les Manuscrits de Chrétien de Troyes Keith Busby, 1993 The
