A Map History of Our Own Times Brian Catchpole, 1987 The Palgrave Handbook of Religion, Peacebuilding, and Development in Africa Susan M. Kilonzo, Ezra Chitando, Joram Tarusarira, 2023-10-17 This Handbook explores the ways in which religion among the African people has been applied in situations of conflict and violence to contribute to sustainable peace and development It analyzes how peacebuilding inspired and enabled by religion serves as the foundation for sustainable development in Africa while also acknowledging that religion can also be a tool of destruction and can be used to fuel violence and underdevelopment Contributors to this volume offer theoretical discussions from existing literature as well as experiences of practitioners to deepen the readers understanding on the role of religion and religious institutions in peacebuilding and development in Africa The Handbook provides reflections on possible future developments as well thereby aligning with the goals of SDG 16 Teaching History, 1984 Social History of Art, Volume 1 Arnold Hauser, 2005-06-27 First published in 1951 Arnold Hausers commanding work presents an account of the development and meaning of art from its origins in the Stone Age through to the Film Age Exploring the interaction between art and society Hauser effectively details social and historical movements and sketches the frameworks in which visual art is produced This new edition provides an excellent introduction to the work of Arnold Hauser In his general introduction to The Social History of Art Jonathan Harris assesses the importance of the work for contemporary art history and visual culture In addition an introduction to each volume provides a synopsis of Hausers narrative and serves as a critical guide to the text identifying major themes trends and arguments Historically Black Mieka Brand Polanco, 2014 In Historically Black Mieka Brand Polanco examines the concept of community in the United States how communities are experienced and understood the complex relationship between human beings and their social and physical landscapes and how the term community is sometimes conjured to feign a cohesiveness that may not actually exist Drawing on ethnographic and historical materials from Union Virginia Historically Black offers a nuanced and sensitive portrait of a federally recognized Historic District under the category Ethnic Heritage Black Since Union has been home to a racially mixed population since at least the late 19th century calling it historically black poses some curious existential questions to the black residents who currently live there Union's identity as a historically black community encourages a perception of the town as a monochromatic and monohistoric landscape effectively erasing both old timer white residents and newcomer black residents while allowing newer white residents to take on a proud role as preservers of history Gestures to community gloss an oversimplified perspective of race history and space that conceals much of the richness and contention of lived reality in Union as well as in the larger United States They allow Americans to avoid important conversations about the complex and unfolding nature by which groups of people and social physical landscapes are conceptualized as a single unified whole This multi layered multi textured ethnography explores a key concept inviting public conversation about the dynamic ways in which race space and history inform our experiences and understanding of community The Social History of Art Arnold Hauser,1999 Presents an account of the development and meaning of art from its origins in the Stone Age through to the Film Age The Social History of Art: Rococo, classicism and romanticism Arnold Hauser,1999 Presents an account of the development and meaning of art from its origins in the Stone Age through to the Film Age Infinite City Rebecca Solnit,2010-11-29 What makes a place Rebecca Solnit reinvents the traditional atlas searching for layers of meaning connections of experience across San Francisco Mapping Time, Space and the Body Mariana Kawall Leal Ferreira,2015-01-20 Mapping Time Space and the Body Indigenous Knowledge and Mathematical Thinking in Brazil brings people land and numbers together in the fight for justice On this extraordinary voyage through ancestral territories in central and southern Brazil the Xavante Suy Kayabi and other local nations use mapping as a tool to protect their human rights to lands and resources they have traditionally owned and acquired Mathematics activities inside the classroom and in everyday life help explain how Indigenous Peoples understand the cosmos and protect the living beings that helped create it The book is a welcome contribution to a growing literature on the mathematical and scientific thinking of Indigenous Peoples around the globe It makes mathematics alive and culturally relevant for students of all national backgrounds worldwide A brilliant marriage of ethnography and mathematics written with deep understanding and obvious affection for the peoples she observed James A Wiley Ph D Professor University of California at San Francisco USA This original and beautifully illustrated book offers a vivid study of Indigenous Peoples in Brazil The author develops theoretical approaches and research methodologies to understand the way cultural groups deal with their natural and social environments Ubiratan D Ambrosio Ph D Emeritus Professor Universidade Estadual de Campinas Brazil Mapping Time Space and the Body is destined to create new and enlightened research in Ethnomathematics It is an essential read for all of us working with culture and social justice in the realm of mathematics Daniel Clark Orey Ph D Professor Universidade Federal de Ouro Preto Minas Gerais Brazil Emeritus Professor California State University Sacramento USA Cover photo by Mariana K Leal Ferreira 1998 Romd Suy ceremonial leader of the Suy people in the Xingu Indigenous Park The Global Age Ian Kershaw,2019-04-30 The final chapter in the Penguin History of Europe series from the acclaimed scholar and author of To Hell and Back After the overwhelming horrors of the first half of the twentieth century described by Ian Kershaw in his previous book as being to Hell and back the years from 1950 to 2017 brought peace and relative prosperity to most of Europe Enormous economic improvements transformed the continent The catastrophic era of the world wars receded into an ever more distant past though its long shadow continued to shape mentalities Yet Europe was now a divided continent living under the nuclear threat in a period intermittently fraught with anxiety There were by most definitions striking successes the Soviet bloc melted away dictatorships vanished and Germany was successfully reunited But accelerating globalization brought new fragilities The interlocking crises after 2008 were the clearest warnings to Europeans that there was no guarantee of peace and stability and even today the continent threatens further fracturing In this remarkable book Ian Kershaw has created a grand panorama of the world we live in and where it came from Drawing on examples from all across Europe The Global Age is an endlessly fascinating portrait of the recent past and present and a cautious look into our future

History in the Early Years Hilary Cooper,2002-01-04 Until recently history was sometimes seen as being inappropriate for young children Increasingly however teachers are discovering that children enjoy finding out about the past yet researchers are often unsure about what counts as real history Hilary Cooper explains the strands of thinking involved in historical enquiry at any level the extent to which pre school children can think in this way and how teachers can build on this thinking once children are in school making history an integral part of good practice The book includes case studies to illustrate points and activities thr

Time, Space, and the Market Stephen Brown,John F. Time, History, and Belief in Aztec and Colonial Mexico Ross Hassig,2001-04-15 Based on their enormously complex calendars that recorded cycles of many kinds the Aztecs and other ancient Mesoamerican civilizations are generally believed to have had a cyclical rather than linear conception of time and history This boldly revisionist book challenges that understanding Ross Hassig offers convincing evidence that for the Aztecs time was predominantly linear that it was manipulated by the state as a means of controlling a dispersed tribute empire and that the Conquest cut off state control and severed the unity of the calendar leaving only the lesser cycles From these he asserts we have inadequately reconstructed the pre Columbian calendar and so misunderstood the Aztec conception of time and history Hassig first presents the traditional explanation of the Aztec calendrical system and its ideological functions and then marshals contrary evidence to argue that the Aztec elite deliberately used calendars and timekeeping to achieve practical political ends He further traces how the Conquest played out in the temporal realm as Spanish conceptions of time partially displaced the Aztec ones His findings promise to revolutionize our understanding of how the Aztecs and other Mesoamerican societies conceived of time and history
