The East and West in Late Medieval Travel Writings Na

Chang,2024-10-07 This book traces the history of encounter between Eastern and Western cultures by closely examining a body of medieval travel writings penned or related by Europeans and by inhabitants of East Asia Whilst these texts are usually considered in the context of kindred European or Chinese literature this study will make a case for considering them as a common literature of medieval encounters with foreign people For the modern historian writing in a world that so consciously thinks of itself as global these accounts offer a precious lens through which to enter into the world before globalization In particular the book shows that these narratives show the similarity in how Eastern and Western travellers thought and behaved in the face of difference and will show that individuals often held somewhat different views shaped by their particular experience or agendas than those of their government or of local cultural convention

Mongol Court Dress, Identity Formation, and Global Exchange Eiren L. Shea,2020-02-05 The Mongol period 1206 1368 marked a major turning point of exchange culturally politically and artistically across Eurasia The wide ranging international exchange that occurred during the Mongol period is most apparent visually through the inclusion of Mongol motifs in textile paintings ceramics and metalwork among other media Eiren Shea investigates how a group of newly confederated tribes from the steppe conquered the most sophisticated societies in existence in less than a century creating a courtly idiom that permanently changed the aesthetics of China and whose echoes were felt across Central Asia the Middle East and even Europe This book will be of interest to scholars in art history fashion design and Asian studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial 4.0 license
