Matrix Of Language Contemporary Linguistic Anthropology:

The Matrix Of Language Donald Brenneis, 2018-02-20 This book presents a range of methodological approaches and case studies that illustrate the interconnection of language culture and social practice It is useful for anyone exploring the relation of language to psychology political theory feminist studies and literature and folklore A Companion to Linguistic Anthropology Alessandro Duranti, 2008-04-15 A Companion to Linguistic Anthropology provides a series of in depth explorations of key concepts and approaches by some of the scholars whose work constitutes the theoretical and methodological foundations of the contemporary study of language as culture Provides a definitive overview of the field of linguistic anthropology comprised of original contributions by leading scholars in the field Summarizes past and contemporary research across the field and is intended to spur students and scholars to pursue new paths in the coming decades Includes a comprehensive bibliography of over 2000 entries designed as a resource for anyone seeking a guide to the literature of linguistic anthropology Linguistic Purism in the Germanic Languages Nils Langer, Winifred Davies, 2011-12-22 Purism is an aspect of linguistic study which appeals not only to the scholar but also to the layperson Somehow ordinary speakers with many different mother tongues and with no formal training in linguistics share certain beliefs about what language is how it develops or should develop whether it has good or bad qualities etc The topic of linguistic purism in its many realisations is the subject of this volume of 19 articles selected from the contributions presented at a conference at the University of Bristol in 2003 In particular the articles deal with the relationship of purism to historical prescriptivism e g the influence of grammarians in the 17th and 18th centuries to nationhood e g the instrumentalising of purism in the standardisation of Afrikaans or Luxembourgish to modern society e g the existence of puristic tendencies in computer chatrooms to folk linguistics e g lay perceptions of different varieties of English and to academic linguistics e g the presence of puristic notions in the historiography of German or English Translinguistics Jerry Lee, Sender Dovchin, 2019-12-06 Translinguistics represents a powerful alternative to conventional paradigms of language such as bilingualism and code switching which assume the compartmentalization of different languages into fixed and arbitrary boundaries Translinguistics more accurately reflects the fluid use of linguistic and semiotic resources in diverse communities This ground breaking volume showcases work from leading as well as emerging scholars in sociolinguistics and other language oriented disciplines and collectively explores and aims to reconcile the distinction between innovation and ordinariness in translinguistics Features of this book include 18 chapters from 28 scholars representing a range of academic disciplines and institutions from 11 countries around the world research on understudied communities and geographic contexts including those of Latin America South Asia and Central Asia several chapters devoted to the diversity of communication in digital contexts Edited by two of the most innovative scholars in the field Translinguistics Negotiating Innovation and Ordinariness is essential reading for scholars and students interested in the question of multilingualism

across a variety of subject areas

Scripting Addiction E. Summerson Carr, 2010-10-18 Gaming the language of addiction treatment Scripting Addiction takes readers into the highly ritualized world of mainstream American addiction treatment. It is a world where clinical practitioners evaluate how drug users speak about themselves and their problems and where the ideal of healthy talk is explicitly promoted, carefully monitored and identified as the primary sign of therapeutic progress. The book explores the puzzling question why do addiction counselors dedicate themselves to reconciling drug users' relationship to language in order to reconfigure their relationship to drugs. To answer this question, anthropologist Summerson Carr traces the charged interactions between counselors, clients and case managers at Fresh Beginnings, an addiction treatment program for homeless women in the midwestern United States. She shows that shelter, food and even the custody of children hang in the balance of everyday therapeutic exchanges such as clinical assessments, individual therapy sessions and self-help meetings. Acutely aware of the high stakes of self-representation, experienced clients analyze and learn to effectively perform prescribed ways of speaking, a mimetic practice they call flipping the script. As a clinical ethnography, Scripting Addiction examines how decades of clinical theorizing about addiction, language, self-knowledge and sobriety is manifested in interactions between counselors and clients. As an ethnography of the contemporary United States, the book demonstrates the complex cultural roots of the powerful clinical ideas that shape therapeutic transactions and, by extension, administrative routines and institutional dynamics at sites such as Fresh Beginnings.

The Social Life of the Japanese Language Shigeko Okamoto, Janet S. Shibamoto-Smith, 2016-08-04 This book focuses on the historical construction of language norms and its relationship to actual language use in contemporary Japan.

The Struggle for a Multilingual Future Christina P. Davis (Anthropologist), 2020 In The Struggle for a Multilingual Future, Christina Davis examines the tension between ethnic conflict and multilingual education policy in the linguistic and social practices of Sri Lankan minority youth. Facing a legacy of post-independence language and education policies that were among the complex causes of the Sri Lankan civil war (1983-2009), the government has recently sought to promote interethnic integration through trilingual language policies in Sinhala, Tamil and English in state schools. Integrating ethnographic and linguistic research in and around two schools during the last phase of the war, Davis's research shows how, despite the intention of the reforms, practices on the ground reinforce language-based models of ethnicity and sustain ethnic divisions and power inequalities. By engaging with the actual experiences of Tamil and Muslim youth, Davis demonstrates the difficulties of using language policy to ameliorate ethnic conflict if it does not also address how that conflict is produced and reproduced in everyday talk.

Rapport and the Discursive Co-Construction of Social Relations in Fieldwork Encounters Zane Goebel, 2019-08-19 In accounts of ethnographic fieldwork and textbooks on ethnography, we often find the notion of rapport used to describe social relationships in the field. Frequently, rapport between researcher and researched is invoked as a prerequisite to be achieved before fieldwork can start or used as evidence to judge the value and robustness of an ethnography. With few exceptions and despite regular pleas to do so, ethnographers continue to avoid presenting any discursive evidence of what rapport might look like from an interactional perspective In a sense the uncritical acceptance of rapport as a fieldwork goal and measure has helped hide the discursive work that goes on in the field In turn this has privileged ideas about identity as portable rather than portable and emergent and reports of social life as more important than how such reports emerge Written for all those who engage or plan to engage in ethnographic fieldwork this collection examines how social relationships dialogically emerge in fieldwork settings

The Modernity Bluff Sasha Newell, 2012-05-14 In C te d Ivoire appearing modern is so important for success that many young men deplete their already meager resources to project an illusion of wealth in a fantastic display of Western imitation spending far more than they can afford on brand name clothing accessories technology and a robust nightlife Such imitation however is not primarily meant to deceive rather as Sasha Newell argues in The Modernity Bluff it is an explicit performance so valued in C te d Ivoire it has become a matter of national pride Called bluffeurs these young urban men operate in a system of cultural economy where reputation is essential for financial success That reputation is measured by familiarity with and access to the fashionable and expensive which leads to a paradoxical state of affairs in which the wasting of wealth is essential to its accumulation Using the consumption of Western goods to express their cultural mastery over Western taste Newell argues bluffeurs engage a global hierarchy that is profoundly modern one that values performance over authenticity highlighting the counterfeit nature of modernity itself Consequences of Contact Miki Makihara, Bambi B.

Schieffelin, 2007-09-27 The Pacific is historically an area of enormous linguistic diversity where talk figures as a central component of social life Pacific communities also represent diverse contact zones where between indigenous and introduced institutions and ideas between local actors and outsiders and involving different lingua franca colonial and local language varieties Contact between colonial and post colonial governments religious institutions and indigenous communities has spurred profound social change irrevocably transforming linguistic ideologies and practices Drawing on ethnographic and linguistic analyses this edited volume examines situations of intertwined linguistic and cultural change unfolding in specific Pacific locations in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries Its overarching concern is with the multiple ways that processes of historical change have shaped and been shaped by linguistic ideologies reflexive sensibilities about languages and language use held by Pacific peoples and other agents of change The essays demonstrate that language and linguistic practices are linked to changing consciousness of self and community through notions of agency morality affect authority and authenticity In times of cultural contact communities often experience language change at an accelerated rate This is particularly so in small scale communities where innovations and continuity routinely depend on the imagination creativity and charisma of fewer individuals The essays in this volume provide evidence of this potential and a record of their voices as they document new types of local actors e g pastors Bible translators teachers political activists spirit mediums and tour guides some of whom introduce innovate legitimate or resist new ideas and ways to express them through language Drawing

Studies in French Applied Linguistics Dalila Ayoun, 2008-10-29 Studies in French Applied Linguistics invites the reader to adopt a broad perspective on applied linguistics illustrating the fascinating multifaceted work researchers are conducted in so many various inter connected subfields The five chapters of the first part are dedicated to the first and second language acquisition of French in various settings First language acquisition by normal children from a generative perspective and by children with Specific Language Impairment second language acquisition in Canadian immersion settings from a neurolinguistic approach to phonology and natural language processing and CALL The six chapters of the second part explore the contribution of French in various subfields of applied linguistics such as an anthropological approach to literacy issues in Guadeloupean Kr y l literacy issues in new technologies phonological and lexical innovations in the banlieues French in North Africa language planning and policy in Quebec as well as the emerging field of forensic linguistics from an historical perspective The Heart of the Matter Wesley M. Collins, 2016-11-16 Can a culture have a theme that unifies seemingly unrelated practices In this volume Collins suggests that Maya Mam customs as different as constructing a house staying healthy seeking God disciplining children agreeing to a contract or just speaking the language all originate from the same concept a search for the center This is far more than mere balance long recognized as a Mayan cultural value Rather center space is a place of physical and metaphysical peace acceptance meaning health happiness and home Collins also shows how cenderedness is deeply embedded in the grammar of Mam its lexicon morphology syntax and discourse structure This relatedness of Mam culture and linguistics provides an unusually detailed contribution to the debate on linguistic relativity and the Sapir Whorf hypothesis Collins combines historical accounts with firsthand ethnographic and linguistic methodology to explore the concept of centeredness Detailed accounts of his personal interaction with the Mam illustrate and enrich the book s concepts This volume will interest students of the relationship between language and culture generally and specifically those interested in the study of Maya of Mexico and Guatemala

Vulnerabilities, Challenges and Risks in Applied Linguistics Clare Cunningham, Christopher J. Hall, 2021-09-09 The chapters in this book call attention to vulnerabilities challenges and risks for applied linguistics researchers and the communities they work with across a broad range of contexts from the Global North and South and in both signed and spoken languages Together they provide insights on both academic and professional practice across several areas the vulnerabilities involved in researching the limitations of traditional epistemologies the challenges inherent in the repertoire of methodologies and pedagogies employed by applied linguists and the effectiveness of practical responses to language related problems The book encourages those involved in applied linguistics to consider their own practice and their relationship with the communities policies and educational contexts they engage with in the course of their teaching research and activism Attitudes to Endangered Languages Julia Sallabank, 2013-12-19 Language attitudes and ideologies are of key importance in assessing the chances of success of revitalisation efforts for endangered languages However few book length studies relate attitudes to language policies or address the changing attitudes of non speakers and the motivations of members of language movements Through a combination of ethnographic research and quantitative surveys this book presents an in depth study of revitalisation efforts for indigenous languages in three small islands round the British Isles The author identifies and confronts key issues commonly faced by practitioners and researchers working in small language communities with little institutional support This book explores the complex relationship of ideologies identity and language related beliefs and practices and examines the implications of these factors for language revitalisation measures Essential reading for researchers interested in language endangerment and revitalisation sociolinguistics linguistic anthropology and language policy and planning as well as language planners and campaigners Academic Language In Second Language Learning Christian J. Faltis,M. Beatriz Arias,2013-03-01 Language in academic settings also referred to as academic language has gained attention in the field of second language learning owing to new understandings of the complexities of language inherent in learning academic content and new efforts to assess English learners language proficiency in the context of school learning The concept of academic language as distinct from social language has been in the academic literature since the mid 1950s and surfaced as a major construct in the field of bilingual education in the 1980s Many readers will be familiar with the ideas of BICS and CALP first introduced by Jim Cummins in the 1980s This book presents a critique of academic language as a separable construct from social language and introduces current research efforts to understand how English learners interact interpret and show understanding of language in academic contexts in ways that re think and go beyond the distinction between social and academic language The book is organized into three main sections each with a range of chapters that consider how academic language plays into how children and youth learn academic content as emergent bilingual students in school settings A Foreword and Afterword offer commentary on the book and its contents The intended audience for this book is graduate students teacher educators and researchers interested in issues of language and content learning for English learners the new mainstream of schools across the nation There is something for a wide range of readers and students of second language acquisition in this volume Applied Linguists Needed Lida Cope,2014-06-03 It is a fact that the world's languages are dying at an alarming rate This comprehensive volume aspires to raise awareness among applied linguists and language practitioners about the needs and concerns of endangered language communities It suggests that the way forward lies in building language revitalization teams reflecting the levels of expertise that the fields of formal linguistics and applied linguistics have to offer in how well researchers and practitioners exploit a tremendous networking potential across disciplines to address the needs of revitalization stabilization or maintenance in these communities A wide range of expert contributors addresses the following themes 1 how varied language teaching contexts dictate what applied linguists bring to the table 2 how training in applied linguistics can empower members of the speaking community 3 why we should critically examine the issues and terminology used to describe endangered language contexts and 4 how linguistic skills can be adapted and integrated conceptually and pedagogically into non traditional teaching contexts The strength of this collection lies in bringing together expert applied and field linguists whose work represents extensive field experiences theoretical expertise and passionate resolve to act This book was originally published as a special issue of Language and Education The Routledge Handbook of Arabic and Identity Reem Bassiouney,Keith Walters,2020-09-03 The Routledge

Handbook of Arabic and Identity offers a comprehensive and up to date account of studies that relate the Arabic language in its entirety to identity This handbook offers new trajectories in understanding language and identity more generally and Arabic and identity in particular Split into three parts covering Identity and Variation Identity and Politics and Identity Globalisation and Diversity it is the first of its kind to offer such a perspective on identity linking the social world to identity construction and including issues pertaining to our current political and social context including Arabic in the diaspora Arabic as a minority language pidgin and creoles Arabic in the global age Arabic and new media Arabic and political discourse Scholars and students will find essential theories and methods that relate language to identity in this handbook It is particularly of interest to scholars and students whose work is related to the Arab world political science modern political thought Islam and social sciences including general linguistics sociolinguistics discourse analysis anthropological linguistics anthropology political science sociology psychology literature media studies and Islamic studies

Languages in Contact
