Action Research in Workplace Innovation and Regional Development Werner Fricke, Peter Totterdill, 2004-04-29 The past is an increasingly unreliable guide to the future European workplaces and the regions in which they are located face unprecedented pressures and challenges Whereas in recent decades incremental adaptation has largely been sufficient to cope with external change it is no longer clear that this remains the case Globalisation technological development and dissemination political volatility patterns of consumption and employee expectations are occurring at a rate which is hard to measure The rate of change in these spheres is far outstripping the rate of organisational innovation in both European enterprises and public governance leading to a serious mismatch between the challenges of the 21st Century and the organisational competence available to deal with them In this context there is no clear roadmap The contributors to this volume address these issues and demonstrate that building the knowledge base required by actors in this volatile environment requires continuous dialogue and learning a context in which social partners regional policy makers and other participants share diverse knowledge and reflect on experience rather than seeking and imitating any notion of best practice

Action Research has a crucial role to play embedding shared learning within the process of innovation European Union Discourses on Un/employment Peter Muntigl, 2000-01-01 Employment is clearly one of those fields of political activity that reveal the manifold problems and difficulties accompanying the process of European integration and supranational institutionalization In particular the conflict between supranationalists and intergovernmentalists and the degree to which member states show willingness to cooperate with each other become manifest The Union is struggling for new employment policies that should on the one hand be compatible with the European model of the welfare state and on the other adopt to new economic constraints These debates are accompanied by many conflicts between different interest groups and lobbies This study succeeded in looking behind closed doors within the EU organizational system Committee meetings were tape recorded and analysed drafts of policy papers were examined for recontextualizations and the impact of interest groups and different economic and ideological concepts on policy making made explicit A comparison of decision making processes in the European Parliament and in small networks of the Commission illustrates the different argumentation patterns and discursive practices that are involved in the formation of new employment policies The ethnographic research is accompanied by a systemic linguistic and sociological analysis of various institutional genres and political spaces Action Research Davydd J. Greenwood, 1999-04-15 Supported bilaterally by Sweden and Norway the Scandinavian Action Research Development Program ACRES Action Research in Scandinavia emphasized conceptualizing research questions and self conscious writing processes for experienced action researchers Participants came from Norway Sweden Finland Holland Great Britain and the United States A learning experiment in the tradition of Scandinavian industrial democracy ACRES had both intellectual and organizational tensions common to action research projects This book includes theoretical and historical overviews of action research reflections on the writing process narratives about the design and difficult internal processes of ACRES and a selection of the participants writings A particularly unique feature of the book is the discussion of the problematic relationship between action research and conventional modes of research writing and an analysis of the complex social processes collaboratively managed projects create in combination with a set of participant cases Work Organization and Europe as a Development Coalition Richard Ennals, Bjørn Gustavsen, 1999-03-15 Work Organization has achieved recent prominence in European policy as new employment guidelines are embodied in the policies of all European Member States New forms of Work Organization properly understood offer collaborative competitive advantage to European enterprises This book based on decades of action research in separate European nations identifies the research background from which these new insights and policy initiatives have emerged with continuing lessons to be learned from differences Work Organization is the missing link which enables innovation and training to produce sustainable increases in productivity this is not mere academic theory but also vital practical business The book launches a new European research agenda which is attracting interest from across the developed world and beyond Rather than arguing for a stronger role for the state or simply leaving matters to the market the book presents a third way based on networks and coalitions illustrated with numerous current European case studies which provide explanations for developments at the level of enterprises regions and the European Union itself The book provides valuable insights into new European Commission initiatives and Transatlantic Dialogue and provides the foundations for renewed democratic dialogue Using the Lamp Instead of Looking Into the Mirror Ingrid Ljungberg van Beinum,2000-01-01 This book focuses on the enigmatic relationship between men and women and in particular on the subordination of women by men in the work place The main points of departure are that subordination is a relational phenomenon and should therefore be approached in a relational context and that the dynamics of relational behaviour primarily evolve through dialogue The project facilitated and encouraged women and men to engage in more than 100 discussions about their daily relationships carried out in the context of an intra and inter organizational action research project involving three organizations a nuclear power plant a school district and a postal district in a province of Sweden The object was to allow for better mutual understanding and respect from an Irigarayan view where a substrate allows men and women to regard each other in their subjectivity without reducing the other to same The reflective and analytical nature of this study shows the dynamics of the discussions and their effects on the interpersonal and organizational level Ingrid Ljungberg van Beinum D Soc Sc studied at the universities of Uppsala and Leiden She has lived and worked in Sweden England Holland India and Canada Resources for Renewal Satu Kalliola,Risto Nakari,1999-10-15 In the 1990s the public sector has experienced the same kind of productivity pressures as has the private sector in most of the western countries In Finland the state and the local government organs have pursued to meet these demands by cutting down their personnel costs and by applying various models of New Public Management This book sheds light on the possibilities of solving the problems in public sector modernization by changing the modes of operations of work organizations The results presented in the book are based on development experiences in Finnish municipalities and cover a period of eight years 1991 1998 The participative approach is focused on the simultaneous development of the quality of working life and the productivity of services along the lines of Organizational Assessment Thus the book addresses some of the central issues within the debate on action research and on the modernization of the public services such as top down and bottom up developments and the impact for the customers A special feature in the book is a description of trade unions as actors in the development process and the role of trade union officials as developers Concepts and Transformation,2002 Creating Connectedness Bjørn Gustavsen,Håkon Finne,Bo Oscarsson,2001-01-01 This work examines a workplace development programme in Norway entitled Enterprise Development 2000 The purpose of the programme and topic of this work is to link research resources to the co operation between parties in the labour market resulting in development change and innovation Dynamics of Organizational Change and Learning Jaap Boonstra,2008-04-15 This handbook focuses on the complex processes and problems of organizational change and relates current knowledge of individual and group psychology to the understanding of the dynamics of change Complementary and competing insights are presented as overviews of theory and research Offers helpful insights about choosing models and methods in specific situations Chapters by international authors of the highest quality Academy of Management Annual Meeting Academy of Management,2001 Action Research and Critical Psychology Martin Dege,2023-06-06 This book examines the theoretical developments in the field of Action Research from a historical perspective The central focus of the investigation is the concepts of democracy and subjectivity as defined by the field s various traditions To address this issue this book offers a thorough investigation of the theoretical and historical underpinnings of Action Research in order to argue that such a clarification allows for a transcendence of the distinction between theory and practice in political action This transcendence will be achieved with the theories of the German critical psychologist Klaus Holzkamp and his interpretation of subjectivity and democracy Holzkamp establishes a comprehensive mode of change based on the contradiction of existing possibilities for action and restrictions in a concretely given empirical situation This book is aimed at History of Psychology Classes Social Workers Activism Researchers Undergraduate Courses in Critical Thinking and Political Action and Decolonial Theory in Psychology Designing Integrated Care Ecosystems Bernard J. Mohr,Ezra Dessers,2019-12-26 This book brings together research and theory about integrated care ecosystems with modern Socio Technical Systems Design It provides a practical framework for collaborative action and the potential for better care in every sense By combining the aspirations information resources activities and the skills of public and private organizations independent care providers informal care givers patients and other ecosystem actors this framework makes possible results that none of the parties concerned can achieve independently It is both a design challenge and a call for innovation in how we think about health care co creation Illustrative stories from many countries highlight different aspects of integrated care ecosystems their design and their functioning in ways that allow us to push the operating frontiers of what we today call our health care system It explains what it means to design higher levels of coordination and collaboration into fragmented care ecosystems and explores who the participants should and can be in that process Written for a broad audience including researchers professionals and policy makers this book offers readers new thinking about what outcomes are possible and ways to achieve them American Book Publishing Record ,2005 The SAGE Handbook of Action Research Hilary Bradbury,2015-06-19 The third edition of The SAGE Handbook of Action Research presents an updated version of the bestselling text including new chapters covering emerging areas in healthcare social work education and international development as well as an expanded skills section which includes new consultant relevant materials Building on the strength of the previous landmark editions Hilary Bradbury has carefully developed this edition to ensure it follows in their footsteps by mapping the current state of the discipline as well as looking to the future of the field and exploring the issues at the cutting edge of the action research paradigm today This volume is an essential resource for scholars and professionals engaged in social and political inquiry healthcare
