Manufactured Landscapes The Photographs Of Edward Burtynsky:

Manufactured Landscapes Lori Pauli, 2003 A catalog to an exhibition of photographs that depict the effect of industrialization on the environment Manufactured Landscapes ,2003 Edward Burtynsky: Essential Elements Edward Burtynsky, William A. Ewing, 2019-06-18 The comprehensive monograph of one of the world's most acclaimed contemporary art photographers featuring dozens of images never before published Edward Burtynsky b 1955 is one of a generation of photographers who seek to portray the visible outcomes of a globalized economy and humankind's impact on environments around the world He has achieved global recognition with his large scale photographs and project based monographs such as Quarries Oil and Water all of which have resulted in popular touring exhibitions and in the case of Water a feature length documentary film entitled Watermark However while Burtynsky's global standing is without question no comprehensive retrospective of his career to date exists Edited and curated by William A Ewing Edward Burtynsky Essential Elements provides an overview of Burtynsky's work across four decades including 140 photographs of both iconic and previously unpublished images It conceives of Burtynsky's oeuvre as five free flowing sections that provide a sense of both his visual language and his exploration of the dilemmas at the heart of our globalized world Each of the five sections is interleaved with a selection of texts from previous publications and articles on Burtynsky that work in concert with the photographs to provide a complete understanding of Burtynsky's view of the world With an introduction by William A Ewing and an essay by Joshua Schuster this book provides both an entirely new way of seeing Burtynsky's work Includes a print Silver Lake Operations 16 Lake Lefroy Western Australia 2007 A Medium Seen Otherwise Roger Hallas, 2023 Through a new look at how political historical and art documentaries engage with photographic images objects and archives A Medium Seen Otherwise argues that film allows us to better understand what people do with analog and digital photographs as material objects that enable social and political relations through multisensory experience Moreover as a time based medium with sound film can bring the event of photography into fuller view demonstrating how no single participant in it photographer subject camera photograph or viewer has sovereignty over its affect meaning or value The book thus explores the ways in which the innovative incorporation of photography into documentary film permits us to see both of these media otherwise Photographs whether professional or vernacular are conventionally understood to furnish documentaries with indexical evidence and visual illustration of history yet the spatio temporal and aural dimensions of film permit documentaries to illuminate photography's wider capacities beyond the merely representational Combining new critical perspectives on well known documentary filmmakers and photographers Agnès Varda Rithy Panh Edward Burtynsky Malick Sidibé Vivian Maier JR Ken Burns Errol Morris and Akram Zaatari with analyses of lesser known but important documentaries author Roger Hallas investigates a global range of documentary and vernacular photographic contexts including Lebanon Palestine Mali Congo Cambodia Ireland Spain Mexico Chile Canada and the US While authorship and representation remain common rhetorical frameworks for documentaries about photography A Medium Seen Otherwise offers a compelling account of how the intermediality between documentary film and photography can posit far more expansive conceptions of both media A companion website shows clips of films discussed in the book

Manufactured landscapes, 2006 Internationally acclaimed for his large scale photographs of manufactured landscapes quarries recycling yards factories mines and dams Edward Burtynsky creates stunningly beautiful art from civilisation's materials and debris This astounding documentary by award winning director Jennifer Baichwal follows Burtynsky to China as he captures the effects of the country's massive industrial revolution With breathtaking sequences such as the opening tracking shot through an almost endless factory the film extends the narratives of Burtynsky's photographs allowing us to meditate on our impact on the planet and witness both the epicentres of industrial endeavour and the dumping ground of its waste Container Director of photography and creative consultant Peter Mettler supervising sound editor David Rose DVD special features Additional scenes with optional Director's commentary extensive photo gallery with commentary by Edward Burtynsky discussion with the Director and Edward Burtynsky interview with Cinematographer Peter Mettler Theatrical trailer English subtitles for the hearing impaired Rated G suitable for general audiences Region 4 PAL

Edward Burtynsky: Extraction / Abstraction Edward Burtynsky, 2024-04-11 Burtynsky's visions are often ravishing optical vibrations hypnotically immersive Simon Schama Published on the occasion of Edward Burtynsky's largest and most comprehensive exhibition to date at the Saatchi Gallery London Extraction Abstraction looks deeply at the key subjects and signature images spanning his 45 year career Alongside Burtynsky's compelling photographs the book includes texts by celebrated art historian Simon Schama who examines Burtynsky's work in light of the question Can art help save the world and by curator Marc Mayer former director of the National Gallery of Canada who provides an overview of the photographer's achievements as technician journalist and artist Extraction Abstraction presents a dichotomy of Burtynsky's image making imperative the lucid and informed documentation of large scale extractive processes and how he transforms the landscapes of industry into complete abstractions Other essential themes in his oeuvre such as agriculture manufacturing infrastructure and waste also find their rightful place here With more than 130 color plates the book furthermore has a special section the Process Archive featuring previously unpublished behind the scenes photographs of Burtynsky at work on the ground and in the air throughout his career The archive provides a glimpse into the artist's progression through the evolution of the medium itself from mid twentieth century large format analogue film based cameras through to twenty first century high resolution digital technologies including explorations into photogrammetry and augmented reality

Ecologies of the Moving Image Adrian J. Ivakhiv, 2013-10-07 This book presents an ecophilosophy of cinema an account of the moving image in relation to the lived ecologies material social and perceptual relations within which movies are produced consumed and incorporated into cultural life If cinema takes us on mental and emotional journeys the author argues that those journeys that have reshaped our understanding of ourselves life and the Earth and universe A range of styles are examined from ethnographic and wildlife documentaries westerns and road movies sci fi blockbusters and eco disaster films to the experimental and art films of Tarkovsky Herzog Malick and Brakhage to YouTube s expanding audio visual universe

Picturing America ,2018-12-10 Picturing America Photography and the Sense of Place argues that photography is a prevalent practice of making American places Its collected essays epitomize not only how pictures situate us in a specific place but also how they create a sense of such mutable place worlds Understanding photographs as prime sites of knowledge production and advocates of socio political transformations a transnational set of scholars reveals how images enact both our perception and conception of American environments They investigate the power photography yields in shaping our ideas of self nation and empire of private and public space through urban landscape wasteland and portrait photography The volume radically reconfigures how pictures alter the development of American places in the past present and future

Visuality/Materiality Divya P. Tolia-Kelly,2016-02-11 Two of the key theoretical shifts over the past two decades of critical work have been the visual turn and the material turn This book argues that these hitherto distinct fields should be understood as in continual dialogue and co constitution and focuses on reconceptualising the visual as an embodied material and often politically charged realm This edited volume elaborates this conceptual argument through a series of contemporary case studies drawn from the disciplines of Architecture Sociology Media Studies Geography and Cultural Studies The case studies included are paired around four themes consumption translation practice and ethics As well as exploring the bringing together of visibility and materiality studies the contributors raise questions of social identity and social critique and also focus on the ethics of material visualities

Petrocultures Sheena Wilson,Adam Carlson,Imre Szeman,2017-06-26 Contemporary life is founded on oil a cheap accessible and rich source of energy that has shaped cities and manufacturing economies at the same time that it has increased mobility global trade and environmental devastation Despite oil s essential role full recognition of its social and cultural significance has only become a prominent feature of everyday debate and discussion in the early twenty first century Presenting a multifaceted analysis of the cultural social and political claims and assumptions that guide how we think and talk about oil Petrocultures maps the complex and often contradictory ways in which oil has influenced the public s imagination around the world This collection of essays shows that oil s vast network of social and historical narratives and the processes that enable its extraction are what characterize its importance and that its circulation through this immense web of relations forms worldwide experiences and expectations Contributors essays investigate the discourses surrounding oil in contemporary culture while advancing and configuring new ways to discuss the cultural ecosystem that it has created A window into the social role of oil Petrocultures also contemplates what it would mean if human life were no longer deeply shaped by the consumption of fossil fuels

The New Lives of Images Adrian J. Ivakhiv,2025-09-30 In this ambitious new work eco philosopher and cultural theorist Adrian Ivakhiv presents an incisive new way of thinking about images and imagination Drawing upon an immense range of materials Ivakhiv reassesses the place of imagination in cultural life analyzing how people have interacted with images in the past and the ways that digital media are profoundly altering these relationships today The book contributes powerfully to the study of visual culture and digital media and provides provocative interpretations of a range of important artists and media movements from the work of photographer Edward Burtytsky the ambitious multi screen installations of John Akomfrah the abstract art of Swedish spiritualist Hilma af Klint and the Afrofuturism of jazz musicians like Sun Ra and poet Alexis Pauline Gumbs to the ever expanding universe of animal videos on YouTube Along the way the book delves into animacy and religious imagery iconophilia and iconoclasm divination and prophecy truthiness and enchantment networks online communities and artificial intelligence the political and affective economies of digital media and the role of utopian futurism in the present climate colonial Anthropocene predicament The result is a vital contribution toward a more empowering conception of the creative imagination and its possibilities in today s emerging digital ecology

Visual Pedagogies , 2022-12-12 This international collection presents theoretical empirical and practice led considerations of what can be envisioned as visual pedagogies offering classic creative and contemporary re workings of these paradigms In complementary yet overlapping parts this book explores understandings of visual pedagogies as learning with through and or about images visual and digital environments embodied performances and immersive experiences As visual practices in academia gain momentum the need to navigate visibility in ways that enhance sensibility and awareness of how what we observe analyze criticize and reflect on in any given moment continues to grow We understand visual pedagogies as nomadic in the sense that the how and the what of image centered learning is not separable What does this mean First it means recognizing pedagogical practices as always already implicated In other words the form itself carries its own message Visual pedagogies respond to and are actualized within the cultural contexts in which they are working At the same time they carry the possibilities of being taken up in diverse ways beyond one particular context As living morphing practices visual pedagogies expand on contextual affordances while at the same time providing the means of exceeding them Thus there are folk literacies in perpetual movement that are producing visual pedagogies where points of traction for theorizing and research can form These then can be mobilized as springboards for analysis and examination of how visual pedagogies become apparent This book takes up multiple diverse contexts through an international selection of authors The parts work to address conceptual empirical and practical considerations through different emphases yet in conversation with each other

Ecomedia Stephen Rust, Salma Monani, Sean Cubitt, 2015-09-07 Ecomedia Key Issues is a comprehensive textbook introducing the burgeoning field of ecomedia studies to provide an overview of the interface between environmental issues and the media globally Linking the world of media production distribution and consumption to environmental understandings the book addresses ecological meanings encoded in media texts the environmental impacts of media production and the relationships between media and cultural perceptions of the environment Each chapter introduces a distinct type of media addressing it in a theoretical overview before engaging with specific case studies In this way the book provides an accessible introduction to each form of media as well as a sophisticated analysis of relevant cases The book includes contributions from a combination of new voices and well established media scholars from across the globe who examine the basic concepts and key issues of ecomedia studies The concepts of frames flow and convergence structure a dynamic collection divided into three parts The first part addresses traditional visual texts such as comics photography and film The second part of the book addresses traditional broadcast media such as radio and television and the third part looks at new media such as advertising video games the internet and digital renderings of scientific data In its breadth and scope Ecomedia Key Issues presents a unique survey of rich scholarship at the confluence of Media Studies and Environmental Studies The book is written in an engaging and accessible style with each chapter including case studies discussion questions and suggestions for further reading

The Cinematic Footprint Nadia Bozak, 2011-10-28 Film is often used to represent the natural landscape and increasingly to communicate environmentalist messages Yet behind even today's green movies are ecologically unsustainable production distribution and consumption processes Noting how seemingly immaterial moving images are supported by highly durable resource dependent infrastructures The Cinematic Footprint traces the history of how the hydrocarbon imagination has been central to the development of film as a medium Nadia Bozak s innovative fusion of film studies and environmental studies makes provocative connections between the disappearance of material resources and the emergence of digital media with examples ranging from early cinema to Dziga Vertov s prescient eye from Chris Marker s analog experiments to the digital work of Agn s Varda James Benning and Zacharias Kunuk Combining an analysis of cinema technology with a sensitive consideration of film aesthetics The Cinematic Footprint offers a new perspective on moving images and the natural resources that sustain them Storming the Gates of Paradise Rebecca Solnit,2007-06-18 Rebecca Solnit has made a vocation of journeying into difficult territory and reporting back as an environmentalist antiglobalization activist and public intellectual Storming the Gates of Paradise an anthology of her essential essays from the past ten years takes the reader from the Pyrenees to the U S Mexican border from San Francisco to London from open sky to the deepest mines and from the antislavery struggles of two hundred years ago to today s street protests The nearly forty essays collected here comprise a unique guidebook to the American landscape after the millennium not just the deserts skies gardens and wilderness areas that have long made up Solnit s subject matter but the social landscape of democracy and repression of borders ruins and protests She ventures into territories as dark as prison and as sublime as a broad vista revealing beauty in the harshest landscape and political struggle in the most apparently serene view Her introduction sets the tone and the book s overarching themes as she describes Thoreau leaving the jail cell where he had been confined for refusing to pay war taxes and proceeding directly to his favorite huckleberry patch In this way she links pleasure to politics brilliantly demonstrating that the path to paradise has often run through prison These startling insights on current affairs politics culture and history always expressed in Solnit s pellucid and graceful prose constantly revise our views of the otherwise ordinary and familiar Illustrated throughout Storming the Gates of Paradise represents recent developments in Solnit s thinking and offers the reader a panoramic world view enriched by her characteristically provocative inspiring and hopeful observations Oil Culture Ross Barrett,Daniel Worden,2014-10-15 In the 150 years since the birth of the petroleum industry oil has saturated our culture fueling our cars and wars our economy and policies But just as thoroughly culture saturates oil So what exactly is oil culture This book pursues an answer through petrocapitalism s history in literature film fine art wartime propaganda and museum displays Investigating cultural discourses that have taken shape around oil these essays compose the first sustained attempt to understand how petroleum has suffused the Western imagination The contributors to this volume examine the oil culture nexus beginning with the whale oil culture it replaced and analyzing literature and films such as Giant Sundown Bernardo Bertolucci s La Via del Petrolio and Ben Okri s What the Tapster Saw corporate art museum installations and contemporary photography and in apocalyptic visions of environmental disaster and science fiction By considering oil as both a natural resource and a trope the authors show how oil's dominance is part of culture rather than an economic or physical necessity Oil Culture sees beyond oil capitalism to alternative modes of energy production and consumption Contributors Georgiana Banita U of Bamberg Frederick Buell Queens College Gerry Canavan Marquette U Melanie Doherty Wesleyan College Sarah Frohardt Lane Ripon College Matthew T Huber Syracuse U Dolly Jrgensen Ume U Stephanie LeMenager U of Oregon Hanna Musiol Northeastern U Chad H Parker U of Louisiana at Lafayette Ruth Salvaggio U of North Carolina Chapel Hill Heidi Scott Florida International U Imre Szeman U of Alberta Michael Watts U of California Berkeley Jennifer Wenzel Columbia University Sheena Wilson U of Alberta Rochelle Raineri Zuck U of Minnesota Duluth Catherine Zuromskis U of New Mexico

The Image of Environmental Harm in American Social Documentary Photography Chris Balaschak, 2021-03-03 With an emphasis on photographic works that offer new perspectives on the history of American social documentary this book considers a history of politically engaged photography that may serve as models for the representation of impending environmental injustices Chris Balaschak examines histories of American photography the environmental movement as well as the industrial and postindustrial economic conditions of the United States in the 20th century With particular attention to a material history of photography focused on the display and dissemination of documentary images through print media and exhibitions the work considered places emphasis on the depiction of communities and places harmed by industrialized capitalism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography ecocriticism environmental humanities media studies culture studies and visual rhetoric
