The Cinema of Australia and New Zealand Geoff Mayer, Keith Beattie, 2007 From The Story of the Kelly Gang in 1906 to the Lord of the Rings trilogy Australia and New Zealand have made a unique impact on international cinema This book celebrates the commercially successful narrative feature films produced by these cultures as well as key documentaries shorts and independent films It also invokes issues involving national identity race history and the ability of two small film cultures to survive the economic and cultural threat of Hollywood Chapters on well known films and directors such as The Year of Living Dangerously Peter Weir 1982 The Piano Jane Campion 1993 Fellowship of the Ring Peter Jackson 2001 and Rabbit Proof Fence Philip Noyce 2002 are included with less popular but equally important films and filmmakers such as Jedda Charles Chauvel 1955 They're a Weird Mob Michael Powell 1966 Vigil Vincent Ward 1984 and The Goddess of 1967 Clara Law 2000

Being Australian Catriona Elder, 2020-07-24 After a century of speculation by writers filmmakers travelers and scholars being Australian has become a recognisable shorthand for a group of national characteristics Now in an era of international terrorism being seen as un-Australian has become a potent rhetorical weapon for some and a badge of honour for others Catriona Elder explores the origins meaning and effects of the many stories we tell about ourselves and how they have changed over time She outlines some of the traditional stories and their role in Australian nationalism and she shows how concepts of egalitarianism peaceful settlement and sporting prowess have been used to create a national identity Elder also investigates the cultural and social perspectives that have been used to critique dominant accounts of Australian identity including ideas of class gender sexuality ethnicity and race She shows how these critiques have been in turn queried in recent years Being Australian is an ideal introduction to studying Australia for anyone interested in understanding Australian society culture and history A clever work incisive and original At a time when Australian identities have never been more debated Elder finds an open way through the closed doors which often restrict cultural representations of Australian-ness Professor Adam Shoemaker Dean of Arts ANU This is a timely and significant new analysis essential reading on issues of identity and our own anxieties about national belonging and what it means to be Australian in a globalising world Kate Darian Smith Professor of Australian Studies and History University of Melbourne

Historical Dictionary of Australian and New Zealand Cinema Karina Aveyard, Albert Moran, Errol Vieth, 2017-12-26

Filmmakers have honed their skills and many have achieved critical and popular success at home and abroad as have actors and other crew American filmmakers and companies have found it cheaper to make films in Australia because wages and salaries are lower tax rebates have been attractive and the expertise in most areas of filmmaking is comparable to that of anywhere in the world At the same time Australian audiences still enjoy watching Australian films making some of them profitable even if this is a small profit when considered in Hollywood terms New Zealand filmmakers cast and crew have shown that they are equal to the world's best in making films with international themes while other films have shown that the world is interested in New Zealand narratives and settings Increased support for Maori filmmakers and stories has had a significant impact on production levels and on the diversity of stories that now reach the screen It has also helped create more viable career paths for those who continue to be based in their home country This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Australian and New Zealand Cinema contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on leading films as well as many directors writers actors and producers It also covers early pioneers film companies genres and government bodies

Australian Film Theory and Criticism Deane Williams, Constantine Verevis, Noel King, 2013-07-15 The first part of a planned three volume work devoted to mapping the transnational history of Australian film studies Australian Film Theory and Criticism Volume 1 provides an overview of the period between 1975 and 1990 during which the discipline first became established in the academy Tracing critical positions personnel and institutions across this formative period Noel King Constantine Verevis and Deane Williams examine a multitude of books and journal articles published in Australia and distributed internationally though such processes as publication in overseas journals translation and reprinting At the same time they offer important insights about the origins of Australian film theory and its relationship to such related disciplines as English and cultural studies Ultimately Australian Film Theory and Criticism Volume 1 delineates the historical implications and reveals the future possibilities of establishing new directions of inquiry for film studies in Australia and internationally

People and Places of Nature and Culture Rod Giblett, 2014-05-27 Using the rich and vital Australian Aboriginal understanding of country as a model People and Places of Nature and Culture affirms the importance of a sustainable relationship between nature and culture While current thought includes the mistaken notion perpetuated by natural history ecology and political economy that humans have a mastery over the Earth this book demonstrates the problems inherent in this view In the current age of climate change this is an important appraisal of the relationship between nature and culture and a projection of what needs to change if we want to achieve environmental stability

Creative Nation Amit Sarwal, Reema Sarwal, 2009 The chapters presented in this Reader drawing on recent works explore and analyse dynamic subject matter such as family moral values cultural hybridity Asian Australian dialogues gender and racial stereotypes the representations of Australianness Indigenous Australia imagery and motifs the variety of Australian national symbols mythology traditions representation or development of outback or suburban and metropolitan spaces in Australian cinema and culture For a better understanding of the breadth and depth of Australia and its culture the papers selected in this book also examine the exhibition of the Australian artist s aesthetic experimentation in the various faces of the Australian film industry and the development and evolution of Australian film theory as part of the institutions of film studies and scholarly practices using historical archaeological and textual approaches for a wide variety of primary sources to discuss the trends of cinema and cultural consumption in Australia In the area of purview here are not just commercial Australian films but also developments in new media shorts digital art and documentary cinema in the broad context of globalization and international co production

The A to Z of Australian and New Zealand Cinema Albert Moran, Errol Vieth, 2009-07-21 Whether it was Jane Campion s The Piano Mel Gibson in Mad Max Paul Hogan in Crocodile Dundee or The Lord of the Rings saga we have all experienced the cinema of Australia and New Zealand This book is an introduction and guide to the film of Australia and New Zealand With entries on many exceptional producers directors writers and actors as well as the films indicated above and many others this reference also presents the early pioneers the film companies and government bodies and much more in its hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries Through a chronology that shows how far these cinemas have come in a short time and an introduction that presents them more broadly a clear portrait of the two countries motion pictures emerge The bibliography is an excellent source for further reading

The Oxford Companion to Australian Film Brian McFarlane, Geoff Mayer, Ina Bertrand, 1999 The Oxford Companion to Australian Film is an indispensable reference for anyone interested in Australian movies This Companion is a comprehensive guide to the people and ideas that have made Australian cinema It contains more than a thousand entries and was written by almost a hundred scholars and writers with expertise in different facets of Australian film No other reference book on this subject contains so many features succinct yet detailed entries on key figures actors directors producers writers designers composers etc incisive discussions of major films with credits and plot summaries longer essays on critical and historical themes a series of extended interviews specially prepared for this Companion with some of the luminaries of Australian film including Geoffrey Rush and Pamela Rabe over 100 illustrations portraits stills and posters thorough bibliography full list of AFI awards subject index providing easy access to relevant entries This Companion celebrates Australia s love of the movies and provides a comprehensive and entertaining account of its unique contribution to the art
