Bond, G. Sherburn, 2003-09-02 English historians in the Middle Ages is an overview of the history of English historians and their works in the Middle Ages English historians helped lay the groundwork for modern historical methodology provided vital accounts of the early history of England its culture and revelations about the historians themselves The most remarkable period of historical writing was during the High Middle Ages in the 12th and 13th centuries when English chronicles produced works with a variety of interest wealth of information and amplitude of range However one might choose to view the reliability     Burnsiana: A collection of literary odds and ends relating to Robert Burns compiled by John Dawson Ross John Dawson Ross, 1892     British Poets and Secret Societies (Routledge Revivals) Marie Mulvey-Roberts, 2014-08-01 A surprisingly large number of English poets have either belonged to a secret society or been strongly influenced by its tenets One of the best known examples is Christopher Smart's membership of the Freemasons and the resulting influence of Masonic doctrines on A Song to David However many other poets have belonged to or been influenced by not only the Freemasons but the Rosicrucians Gormogons and Hell Fire Clubs First published in 1986 this study concentrates on five major examples Smart Burns William Blake William Butler Yeats and Rudyard Kipling as well as a number of other poets Marie Roberts questions why so many poets have been powerfully attracted to the secret societies and considers the effectiveness of poetry as a medium for conveying secret emblems and ritual She shows how some poets believed that poetry would prove a hidden symbolic language in which to reveal great truths The beliefs of these poets are as diverse as their practice and this book sheds fascinating light on several major writers     The Poetry of the Self-taught Julie D. Prandi, 2008 The Poetry of the Self Taught demonstrates the characteristic strengths of self taught poetry and analyzes the factors that have caused most selftaught poets to disappear from anthologies and from literary history Raising the question of whether or not their work should be read today and taken seriously instead of being relegated to separate and unequal categories like women s or peasant poetry the book highlights interesting contrasts between the poetry of eighteenth century autodidacts such as Robert Burns Mary Leapor C D F Schubart and Anna Louise Karsch and the work of their contemporaries mainstream poets like Alexander Pope James Thomson C F Gellert and Barthold Heinrich Brockes Self taught poetry is often treated as an index to the lives and times of the poets but this book explores it with a different purpose to understand and illustrate the commonalities in autodidactic poetics imagery rhetorical strategies and themes Concurrent with a recent upturn of interest in laboring or self taught poets both in England and in Germany The Poetry of the Self Taught will be useful for courses focusing on such poets or those dealing with eighteenth century literature
