Made In England Australias British Inheritance:

Made in England David Malouf, 2003 In the fourth Quarterly Essay of 2003 David Malouf looks at Australia's bond with Britain and wonders whether it wasn't the Mother Country which did most of the giving This is an essay which presents British civilisation the civilisation of Shakespeare and the Enlightenment and the Westminster system as the irreducible ground on which any Australian achievement is based Britain has always been the tolerant parent and an older Australia could be both intensely patriotic and see itself as what it was a transplantation of Britain This relationship did not exclude America but it made for a sometimes complicated threesome of nations This is a brilliant deeply meditated essay by one of our finest writers about the traditions that shaped Australia and which connect it to one of the mightier traditions in world history Made in England is a case of one of Australia's most eminent novelists allowing himself to imagine and by imagining to analyse the hopes and glories once and future that were part of this new Britannia Peter Craven Introduction Any argument for the republic based on the need to make a final break with Britain will fail David Malouf Made In England

Australia's Empire Deryck Marshall Schreuder, Stuart Ward, 2008-02-07 Australia's Empire is the first collaborative evaluation of Australia's imperial experience in more than a generation Bringing together political cultural and aboriginal understandings of the past it argues that the legacies of empire continue to influence the fabric of modern Australian society

Australia and the Wider World Neville Meaney, 2018-08-30 Since the 1960s Neville Meaney has been asking probing questions about social change and the rise of nationalism especially as found in the making of Australia's self image and its engagement with the world His efforts to unravel what he once called the riddle of Australian nationalism have raised important and often unsettling challenges for Australians Bringing together the cultural intellectual political and diplomatic dimensions of the national experience Meaney's work has been dominated by two overarching and interconnected questions how Australians should resolve the tension between the community of culture and the community of interest and how they should reconcile their British heritage with their Asian moorings

Angus & Robertson and the British Trade in

Australian Books, 1930-1970 Jason D. Ensor, 2013-10 Angus Robertson and the British Trade in Australian Books 1930-1970 traces the history of the printed book in Australia particularly the production and business context that mediated Australia's literary and cultural ties to Britain for much of the twentieth century This study focuses on the London operations of one of Australia's premier book publishers of the twentieth century Angus Robertson The book argues that despite the obvious limitations of a British dominated market Australian publishers had room to manoeuvre in it It questions the ways in which Angus Robertson replicated challenged or transformed the often highly criticised commercial practices of British publishers in order to develop an export trade for Australian books in the United Kingdom This book is the answer to the current void in the literary market for a substantial history of Australia's largest publisher and its role in the development of Australia's export book trade

A History of Australia Mark Peel, Christina Twomey, 2017-12-22 This vivid multi dimensional history considers the key cultural social political and economic events of Australia's history. Deftly weaving these issues into the wider global context, Mark Peel and Christina Twomey provide an engaging overview of the country's past from its first Indigenous people to the great migrations of recent centuries and to those living within the more anxiously controlled borders of the present day. This engaging textbook is an ideal resource for undergraduate students and postgraduate students taking modules or courses on the History of Australia. It will also appeal to general readers who are interested in obtaining a thorough overview of the entire history of Australia from the earliest times to the present in one concise volume.

Imprisoned in English Anna Wierzbicka, 2014. Imprisoned in English argues that in the present English-dominated world, social sciences and the humanities are locked in a conceptual framework grounded in English and that scholars need to break away from this framework to reach a more universal, culture-independent perspective on things human. Efficiency and Management Guy Callender, 2008-11-19. Designing a more reliable basis on which to evaluate management behaviour: this excellent book engages fully with management rhetoric and the frequent confusion surrounding it. Television Studies After TV Graeme Turner, Jinna Tay, 2009-03-27. Television studies must now address a complex environment where change has been vigorous but uneven and where local and national conditions vary significantly. Globalizing media industries, deregulatory policy regimes, the multiplication, convergence, and trade in media formats, the emergence of new content production industries outside the US/UK umbrella, and the fragmentation of media audiences are all changing the nature of television today: its content, its industrial structure, and how it is consumed. Television Studies after TV leads the way in developing new ways of understanding television in the post-broadcast era. With contributions from leading international scholars, it considers the full range of convergent media now implicated in understanding television and also focuses on large, non-Anglophone markets such as Asia and Latin America in order to accurately reflect the wide variety of structures, forms, and content which now organise television around the world. Australia in the International Legal System Madelaine Chiam, Alison Duxbury, 2025-08-21. What impact has Australia had on international law and what is its significance in terms of its participation in the transnational legal system? This collection of essays delves into the history of Australia's interactions with international law and considers how its people have shaped international law. It explores key issues such as the country's imperial and settler past, it assesses how Australians have contributed to key institutions such as the ICJ, the UN, and the British Commonwealth. It gives a fascinating insight into international law's impact on a domestic legal system and the complex and multifaceted nature of that relationship. Scholars from across the international spectrum, whether in the field of law, politics, or history, will welcome this erudite and engaging work. Patriots, 2008-04. Australia's environmental movement and those defending the unique wildlife. Down Under are superbly examined in this powerful account. Charting the emergence of a new national green movement and its members' commitment to nature's survival, this exploration details the landmark environmental battles already faced as well as those lurking on the horizon. Translating Lives Mary

Besemer, Anna Wierzbicka, 2007 Although Australia prides itself on being multicultural many Australians have little awareness of what it means to live in two cultures at once and of how much there is to learn about other cultural perspectives Australian Cinema After Mabo Felicity Collins, Therese Davis, 2004-10-27 Publisher Description Archives and Societal Provenance Michael Piggott, 2012-10-22 Records and archival arrangements in Australia are globally relevant because Australia's indigenous people represent the oldest living culture in the world and because modern Australia is an ex colonial society now heavily multicultural in outlook Archives and Societal Provenance explores this distinctiveness using the theoretical concept of societal provenance as propounded by Canadian archival scholars led by Dr Tom Nesmith The book's seventeen essays blend new writing and re workings of earlier work comprising the first text to apply a societal provenance perspective to a national setting After a prologue by Professor Michael Moss entitled A prologue to the afterlife this title consists of four sections The first considers historical themes in Australian recordkeeping The second covers some of the institutions which make the Australian archival story distinctive such as the Australian War Memorial and prime ministerial libraries The third discusses the formation of archives The fourth and final part explores debates surrounding archives in Australia The book concludes by considering the notion of an archival afterlife Presents material from a life's career working and thinking about archives and records and their multiple relationships with history biography culture and society The first book to focus specifically on the Australian archival scene Covers a wide variety of themes including the theoretical concept of the records continuum census records destruction Prime Ministerial Libraries and the documentation of war The Australians John Hirst, Reader in History John Hirst, 2011 Is there an Australian national character What are its distinguishing features Over the years how have insiders and outsiders summed up this country and its people and how have Australians responded to outside criticism In The Australians John Hirst gathers together the key assessments of the national character on topics as diverse as sport war mateship humour put downs suburbia and going native There is celebration and criticism There is humour and insight There is the difference between what Australians think of themselves and what they are really like Contributors include Winston Churchill Ned Kelly Tim Flannery Henry Lawson Peter Cosgrove Germaine Greer Charles Darwin Charles Dickens Captain James Cook David Malouf Mark Twain H G Wells Patrick White Oscar Wilde and Tim Winton Unsettling Stories Victoria Kuttainen, 2009-12-14 The first study of the synergies between postcolonialism and the genre of the short story composite Unsettling Stories considers how the form of the interconnected short story collection is well suited to expressing thematic aspects of postcolonial writing on settler terrain Unique for its comparative considerations of American Canadian and Australian literature within the purview of postcolonial studies this is also a considered study of the difficult place of the postcolonial settler subject within academic debates and literature Close readings of work by Tim Winton Margaret Laurence William Faulkner Stephen Leacock Sherwood Anderson Olga Masters Scott R Sanders Thea Astley Tim O'Brien and Sandra Birdsell are positioned alongside critical discussions of postcolonial theory to show how awkward affiliations of individuals to place home nation culture and history expressed in short story composites can be usefully positioned within the broader context of settler colonialism and its aftermath

Literary Activists, 2009-09 Uniquely examining the link between Australian writers and social change this study investigates the motives behind literary figures who strive to become activists and social intellectuals Exploring this intimate connection this resource asks what such a bond reveals about Australian literature and the power of the written word With fresh insight this guide delves into the activism careers and writings of Judith Wright Patrick White Oodgeroo of the tribe of Noonuccal Les Murray Helen Garner David Malouf and Tim Winton

Musical Islands Katelyn Barney, Brydie-Leigh Bartleet, Klisala Harrison, Elizabeth Mackinlay, 2009-05-05 The island is a powerful metaphor in everyday speech which extends almost naturally into several academic disciplines including musicology Islands are imagined as isolated and unique places where strange exotic different and unexpected treasures can be found by daring adventurers The magic inherent within this positioning of islands as places of discovery is an aspect which permeates the theoretical methodological and analytical boundaries of this edited book Showcasing the breadth of current musicological research in Australia and New Zealand this edited collection offers a range of subtle and innovative reflections on this concept both in established and well charted territories of music research

The White Possessive Aileen Moreton-Robinson, 2015-05-15 The White Possessive explores the links between race sovereignty and possession through themes of property owning property being property and becoming propertyless Focusing on the Australian Aboriginal context Aileen Moreton Robinson questions current race theory in the first world and its preoccupation with foregrounding slavery and migration The nation she argues is socially and culturally constructed as a white possession Moreton Robinson reveals how the core values of Australian national identity continue to have their roots in Britishness and colonization built on the disavowal of Indigenous sovereignty Whiteness studies literature is central to Moreton Robinson's reasoning and she shows how blackness works as a white epistemological tool that bolsters the social production of whiteness displacing Indigenous sovereignties and rendering them invisible in a civil rights discourse thereby sidestepping thorny issues of settler colonialism Throughout this critical examination Moreton Robinson proposes a bold new agenda for critical Indigenous studies one that involves deeper analysis of how the prerogatives of white possession function within the role of disciplines

The Constitution in a Hall of Mirrors David E. Smith, 2017-06-30 Whether it's the first past the post electoral system or partisan government appointees to the Senate Canadians want better representation and accountability from the federal government Before reforms can be enacted however it is important to explore and clarify the relationships among Canada's three parliamentary institutions Crown Senate and Commons In The Constitution in a Hall of Mirrors David E. Smith presents a learned but accessible analysis of the interconnectedness of Canada's parliamentary institutions Smith argues that Parliament is a unity comprised of three parts and any reforms made to one branch will whether intended or not affect the other branches Through a timely nuanced and comprehensive examination of parliamentary debates committee reports legal scholarship and comparative analysis of developments in the United Kingdom Smith uncovers the substantial degree of ambiguity that exists among Canadians and their calls for structural and operational reforms By illuminating the symbiotic relationship between the Crown Senate and Commons The Constitution in a Hall of Mirrors brings government reform closer to reality
