Malay Tiga Three:

Malay Tiga "three" Isidore Dyen, 1952 Pagan Races of the Malay Peninsula: pt. 3. Religion. pt. 4. Language. Appendix. Comparative vocabulary of aboriginal dialects. Index of subjects. Index of proper names. Index of native words Walter William Skeat, Charles Otto Blagden, 1906 A Manual of the Malay Language Sir William Edward Maxwell, 1920 A Manual of the Malay Language William Edward Maxwell, 1907 A Grammar of Semelai Nicole Kruspe, 2004-04-08 Semelai is a previously undescribed and endangered Aslian Mon Khmer language of the Malay Peninsula This book the first in depth description of an Aslian language provides a comprehensive reference grammar of Semelai Semelai intertwines two types of morphological system a concatenative system of prefixes suffixes and a circumfix acquired through extended contact with Malay and a nonconcatenative system of prefixes and infixes including infix reduplication inherited from Mon Khmer There are distinctive word classes Nominals Verbs and Expressives the latter iconic utterances which simultaneously provide information about the predicate and its arguments Semelai has many derivational processes which change word class or affect transitivity and it combines both head marking and dependent marking profiles It also has a rich phonemic system of 20 vowels and 32 consonants Nicole Kruspe's discussion is complemented with a generous number of illustrative examples and texts creating a reference work that will be welcomed by descriptivists and typologists alike

The Alor-Pantar languages Marian Klamer, 2017-06-23 The Alor Pantar family constitutes the westernmost outlier group of Papuan Non Austronesian languages Its twenty or so languages are spoken on the islands of Alor and Pantar located just north of Timor in eastern Indonesia Together with the Papuan languages of Timor they make up the Timor Alor Pantar family The languages average 5 000 speakers and are under pressure from the local Malay variety as well as the national language Indonesian This volume studies the internal and external linguistic history of this interesting group and showcases some of its unique typological features such as the preference to index the transitive patient like argument on the verb but not the agent like one the extreme variety in morphological alignment patterns the use of plural number words the existence of quinary numeral systems the elaborate spatial deictic systems involving an elevation component and the great variation exhibited in their kinship systems Unlike many other Papuan languages Alor Pantar languages do not exhibit clause chaining do not have switch reference systems never suffix subject indexes to verbs do not mark gender but do encode clusivity in their pronominal systems Indeed apart from a broadly similar head final syntactic profile there is little else that the Alor Pantar languages share with Papuan languages spoken in other regions While all of them show some traces of contact with Austronesian languages in general borrowing from Austronesian has not been intense and contact with Malay and Indonesian is a relatively recent phenomenon in most of the Alor Pantar region This is the second edition of the volume that was originally published in 2014 In this edition typographical errors have been corrected small textual improvements have been implemented broken URL links repaired or removed and references updated The overall content of the chapters
