Maurice Blondel An Introduction To The Man And His Philosophy:

Maurice Blondel Jean Lacroix,1968 Maurice Blondel Robert C. Koerpel,2018-11-30 During the past few decades there has been renewed interest in the twentieth century French Catholic philosopher Maurice Blondel 1861 1949 and his influence on modern and contemporary theology but little scholarship has been published in the English speaking world In Maurice Blondel Transforming Catholic Tradition Robert Koerpel examines Blondel s work the historical and theological development of the idea of tradition in modern Catholicism tradition s relation to reason and revelation and Blondel s influence on Catholicism s understanding of tradition The book presents aspects of Blondel s thought that deserve to be more widely known and contributes to important debates in current theology on modern French Catholic thought and the emerging conversations surrounding them Koerpel looks to the cultural context from which Blondel s thought emerges by situating it within the broader conceptual historical and theological developments of modernity He examines the problem of reason and revelation in modern Catholicism the role and nature of tradition and the relationships between theology and history truth and change nature and grace and scripture and the development of doctrine This book provides readers with an appreciation of Blondel s conceptually creative answer to how tradition represents the Word of God in human history and why it is one of his most important contributions to modern and contemporary theology They will discover how his contribution restores the animated vitality between the institutional and liturgical dimensions of tradition essential to the living dynamic nature of Catholicism Maurice Blondel; An Introduction to the Man and His Philosophy.

Translated by John C. Guinness Jean Lacroix,1968 Maurice Blondel, Social Catholicism, and Action Française Peter J. Bernardi,2009 This work casts light on contemporary arguments over social Catholicism and the believer s role in society by illuminating a similar dispute among French Catholics during the Modernist Crisis 1909 1914 A Survey of Catholic Theology, 1800-1970 Ted Mark Schoof OP,2008-06-24 Here at last in one book is an account of the great movements that swept through Catholic theology since the middle of the nineteenth century All the great personages are here Newman Blondel Rahner Chardin Karl Adam and the Modernists Loisy and Tyrrell Fascinating and always readable this book is a must for any library or person concerned with the development of modern religious thought A Belief in Humanity: The Untold Story of Conciliar Humanism Thomas D. Carroll,2024-09-12 I believe in a new humanity Evocative words spoken by Pope Francis to the assembled young people in Krak w Poland during the final mass for World Youth Day on July 31 2016 What was he thinking about Where did this idea come from This book answers these questions and examines for the first time an original way of thinking about our shared humanity a way that was intimated sixty years ago and is still to be explored An Avant-garde Theological Generation Jon Kirwan,2018-03-09 An Avant garde Theological Generation examines the Fourvi re Jesuits and Le Saulchoir Dominicans theologians and philosophers who comprised the influential reform movement the nouvelle th ologie Led by Henri de Lubac Jean Dani lou Yves Congar and Marie Dominique Chenu the movement flourished from the 1930s until its suppression in 1950. It aims to remedy certain historical deficiencies by constructing a history both sensitive to the wider intellectual, political, economic and cultural milieu of the French interwar crisis and that establishes continuity with the Modernist crisis and the First World War. Chapter One examines the modern French avant-garde generations that have shaped intellectual and political thought in France, providing context for a historical narrative of the nouvelle thologie. Chapters Two and Three examine the influential older generations that flourished from 1893 to 1914, such as the Dreyfus generation, the generation of Catholic Modernists, and two generations of older Jesuits and Dominicans which were instrumental in the Fourvi re Jesuits' development. Chapter Four explores the influence of the First World War and the years of the 1920s during which the Jesuits and Dominicans were in religious and intellectual formation, relying heavily on unpublished letters and documents from the Jesuits' archives in Paris Vanves. Chapter Five analyses the crises of the interwar period and the emergence of the wider generation of 1930 to which the nouveaux thologiens belonged and its intellectual thirst for revolution. Chapter Six examines the emergence of the ressourcement thinkers during the tumultuous years of the 1930s. The decade of the 1940s, explored in Chapter Seven, saw the rise to prominence of the members of the generation of 1930 who, thanks to their participation in the resistance, emerged from the Second World War with significant influence on the postwar French intellectual milieu. Finally, the monograph concludes in Chapter Eight with an examination of the triumph of French Left Catholicism and the nouvelle thologie during the 1960s at the Second Vatican Council.

Phenomenology in French Philosophy: Early Encounters Christian Dupont, 2013-11-20. This work investigates the early encounters of French philosophers and religious thinkers with the phenomenological philosophy of Edmund Husserl. Following an introductory chapter addressing context and methodology, Chapter 2 argues that Henri Bergson's insights into lived duration and intuition and Maurice Blondel's genetic description of action functioned as essential precursors to the French reception of phenomenology. Chapter 3 details the presentations of Husserl and his followers by three successive pairs of French academic philosophers: Léon Noé and Victor Delbos; Lev Shestov and Jean Hering; and Bernard Groethuysen and Georges Gurwitsch. Chapter 4 then explores the appropriation of Bergsonian and Blondelian phenomenological insights by Catholic theologians: douard Le Roy and Pierre Rousselot. Chapter 5 examines applications and critiques of phenomenology by French religious philosophers, including Jean Hering, Joseph Maréchal, and neo-Thomists like Jacques Maritain. A concluding chapter expounds the principal finding that philosophical and theological receptions of phenomenology in France prior to 1939 proceeded independently due to differences in how Bergson and Blondel were perceived by French philosophers and religious thinkers and their respective orientations to the Cartesian and Aristotelian Thomist intellectual traditions.
