Lasswell,2017-07-05 In Power and Society Harold D Lasswell collaborates with a brilliant young philosopher Abraham Kaplan to formulate basic theoretical concepts and hypotheses of political science providing a framework for further inquiry into the political process This is a classic book of political theory written by two of the most influential social scientists of the twentieth century The authors find their subject matter in interpersonal relations not abstract institutions or organizations and their analysis of power is related to human values They argue that revolution is a part of the political process and ideology has a role in political affairs The importance of class both as social fact and social symbol is reflected in their detailed analysis and emphasis on merit rather than rank skill rather than status as keystones of democratic rule The authors note that power is only one of the values and instruments manifested in interpersonal relations it cannot be understood in abstraction from other values Lasswell and Kaplan call for the replacement of power politics both in theory and in practice by a conception in which attention is focused on the human consequences of power as the major concern of both political thought and political action The basic discussions of core concepts in political science make Power and Society of continuing importance to scholars government officials and politicians The British Chess Magazine ,1909 Westminster Chess Club Papers ,1871 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1875 *The Westminster chess club papers [afterw.] The Westminster papers, ed. by T. Locock,1930 Power & Society IIs 50 Harold D. Lasswell,2013-07-04 First published in 1998 The present book is a by product of the Research Project on Wartime Communication which was organized within the framework of the Library of Congress shortly before World War II As a guide to research and analysis it was necessary to review the then current state of knowledge of political communication particularly of war communication The manuscript was finished by the end of 1945 and then within the next five years there have been many changes both in the state of research in the field and in thinking about these problems But the task of developing a framework for inquiry contemporaneous with the state of research is an unending one Chess Life & Review ,1979 Catalogue of Books Added to the Library of Congress ,1861 The Art Instinct Denis Dutton,2009 The Dinka have a connoisseur s appreciation of the patterns and colours of the markings on their cattle The Japanese tea ceremony is regarded as a performance art Some cultures produce carving but no drawing others specialize in poetry Yet despite the rich variety of artistic expression to be found across many cultures we all share a deep sense of aesthetic pleasure The need to create art of some form is found in every human society In The Art Instinct Denis Dutton explores the idea that this need has an evolutionary basis how the feelings that we all share when we see a wonderful landscape or a beautiful sunset evolved as a useful adaptation in our hunter gather ancestors and have been passed on to us today manifest in our artistic natures Why do people indulge in displaying their artistic skills How can we understand artistic genius Why do we value art and what is it for These questions have long been asked by scholars in the humanities and in literature but this is the first book to consider the biological basis of this deep human need This sparking and intelligent book looks at these deep and fundamental questions and combines the science of evolutionary psychology with aesthetics to shed new light on longstanding questions about the nature of art Bulletin of the New York Public Library ,1909 Includes its Report 1896 1945
