Race and the War on Poverty Robert Bauman, 2014-10-22 President Lyndon B Johnson's War on Poverty did more than offer aid to needy Americans in some cities it also sparked both racial conflict and cooperation Race and the War on Poverty examines the African American and Mexican American community organizations in Los Angeles that emerged to implement War on Poverty programs It explores how organizers applied democratic vision and political savvy to community action and how the ongoing African American Chicano and feminist movements in turn shaped the contours of the War on Poverty's goals programs and cultural identity Robert Bauman describes how the Watts riots of 1965 accelerated the creation of a black community controlled agency the Watts Labor Community Action Committee The example of the WLCAC combined with a burgeoning Chicano movement inspired Mexican Americans to create The East Los Angeles Community Union TELACU and the Chicana Service Action Center Bauman explores the connections that wove together the War on Poverty the Watts revolt and local movements in ways that empowered the participants economically culturally and politically Although heated battles over race and other cultural issues sometimes derailed the programs these organizations produced lasting positive effects for the communities they touched Despite Nixon era budget cuts and the nation's turn toward conservatism

the War on Poverty continues to be fought today as these agencies embrace the changing politics economics and demographics of Los Angeles Race and the War on Poverty shows how the struggle to end poverty evolved in ways that would have surprised its planners supporters and detractors and that what began as a grand vision at the national level continues to thrive on the streets of the community Black, Brown, Yellow, and Left Laura Pulido, 2006-01-16 Black Brown Yellow and Left is unique No other work deals in such detail with the complex relationships between racial nationalism and the radical left during the 1960 s A powerful and resonant achievement Highly recommended Howard Winant author of The World is a Ghetto Race and Democracy Since World War II Laura Pulido has written an invaluable study of the development of the multiracial Third World Left in southern California She engages black brown and yellow radical activisms together demonstrating how each vision differed but contributed to a movement that was ultimately more than the sum of its parts Pulido s powerful excavation of the Third World Left s historical past provides reasons to hope for a more just antiracist left future Lisa Lowe author of Immigrant Acts On Asian American Cultural Politics We so greatly needed this panorama of information and analysis Finally we have an author putting the pieces together with commitment enthusiasm and a view to the future Elizabeth Betita Martinez activist and author of 500 Years of Chicano History 500 A os del Pueblo Chicano

Harlins Brenda Stevenson, 2013-08-15 In this book Stevenson explores the long simmering resentment within LA's black community that ultimately erupted in April 1992 by focusing on an preceding event that encapsulated the growing racial and social polarization in the city over the course of the 1980s and early 1990s the 1991 shooting of a fifteen year old African American girl Latasha Harlins by a Korean grocer who suspected Harlins of shoplifting

A City for Children Marta Gutman, 2014-09-19 American cities are constantly being built and rebuilt resulting in ever changing skylines and neighborhoods While the dynamic urban landscapes of New York Boston and Chicago have been widely studied there is much to be gleaned from west coast cities especially in California where the migration boom at the end of the nineteenth century permanently changed the urban fabric of these newly diverse plural metropolises In A City for Children Marta Gutman focuses on the use and adaptive reuse of everyday buildings in Oakland California to make the city a better place for children She introduces us to the women who were determined to mitigate the burdens placed on working class families by an indifferent industrial capitalist economy Often without the financial means to build from scratch women did not tend to conceive of urban land as a blank slate to be wiped clean for development Instead Gutman shows how over and over women turned private houses in Oakland into orphanages kindergartens settlement houses and day care centers and in the process built the charitable landscape a network of places that was critical for the betterment of children families and public life The industrial landscape of Oakland riddled with the effects of social inequalities and racial prejudices is not a neutral backdrop in Gutman's story but an active player Spanning one hundred years of history A City for Children provides a compelling model for building urban institutions and demonstrates that children women charity and incremental construction renovations alterations additions and repurposed structures are central to the understanding of modern cities
